Vote of Alumni on Removal of Campus of the State Uni

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Hopes of the so-called alumni anti-removal university home campus extension committee that the members of the alumni would come to their aid and give such a big majority against removal, that it would be an endorsement of the action of the committee, met a sad blow today, when the votes, which have been taken on the question, were counted.

About 4,600 votes were sent out to the members of the alumni, of these, 3,698 went in their votes, which stood 1,242 for removal and 1,244 against, a majority of only 132 for the downtown campus. The vote within the state was 677 for removal and 871 against, being just ninety-four votes in favor of the downtown site, and this too, in spite of the fact that the so-called downtown committee has spent three months and hundreds of dollars in a frantic effort to show the public that the alumni wanted the university to stay on the downtown campus, while no effort has been made to create sentiment for removal.

The committee having in charge the canvass of the votes were: N. E. Snell of Lincoln, E. M. Pollard of Nehawka, Neb., and Amos Thomas of Omaha.

MOBILIZATION IS NOT WAR

So Declares Joint Proclamation to the French Nation.

ALL OF FRANCE IS UNITED

Poincare Says that France Has Always Affirmed Its Desire for Peace, but Mobilization is Necessary.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—President Poincare and the members of the French cabinet later issued a joint proclamation to the French nation, in which was the phrase: "Mobilization is not war."

The text of the joint proclamation follows: "For some days past the states of Europe have been considerably aggravated and, notwithstanding the efforts of diplomacy, the horizon has darkened. At the present hour a great part of the nations have mobilized their forces. Even the countries protected by neutrality conventions have deemed it their duty to take this measure as precaution."

"The powers whose constitutional or military legislation differs from ours have, without leaving a decree of mobilization, begun and carried on preparations which in reality are equivalent to mobilization and are but the anticipated execution of it."

"France, who always has affirmed her desire of peace, on many a tragic day has given to Europe counsels of moderation and a living example of decorum and who has multiplied her efforts to maintain the peace of the world, has now prepared herself for all eventualities and has taken for herself her first indispensable positions for the safeguard of her territory."

"But our legislation does not permit the completion of these preparations without a decree of mobilization. Conscious of its high responsibility and feeling that it would fall in its sacred duty if it did not take this measure, the government has signed the decree."

"Mobilization is not war. Under the present circumstances it would appear on the contrary, to be the best means of assuring peace with honor."

"Strong in its ardent desire of arriving at a peaceful solution of this crisis the government, under cover of these essential precautions will continue its diplomatic efforts and still hopes to succeed. It counts upon the coolness of the people not to give itself up to unjustified emotion. It counts upon the patriotism of every Frenchman and it knows that there is not a single one who is not ready to do his duty at this hour."

"There are no longer any parties. There is an external France—a France peaceful and resolute. There is a fatherland of peace and justice, all united in calm vigilance and dignity."

"The mobilization of the French army, according to the official decree, is to be completed at 11:30 o'clock, Sunday night. The decree of mobilization of the French army has not terminated diplomatic relations between France and Germany. Conversations between the powers, notably between Russia and Austria, and between France and Germany, continued this evening."

ENGLAND MAKES FINAL EFFORT TO AVERT OUTBREAK

able unsuccess all over the world. The German forces in China were being concentrated at Tsing Tau. The German consul general left his post at Capetown and German merchantships were ordered to seek neutral ports. Reports in the far east, the Japanese ambassador in London said today that as long as the warships belonging to the nations composing the triple alliance remained at Tsing Tau, Japan would take no action against them, but should they attack British interests, or should Tsing Tau be attacked, a situation would arise which would be dealt with by Japan in the spirit of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

At the German embassy reference was made to German mention of French neutrality in its note to the French government, and it was said that this reply was that France itself would not be attacked by Germany.

Telephonic communication between London and Paris was interrupted today, the respective governments having taken over the service in order to prevent the leakage of news. Communication between Paris and Brussels was similarly interrupted.

Bank of England Raises Rate. In regard to the financial situation, the Bank of England, which was again called on to supply an unprecedented amount of money, raised its rate today to 10 per cent, which is higher than it has been since the Indian mutiny in 1857. The next highest point was 9 per cent in 1873.

The Bank of England directors, who work on the premises, are engaged night and day in the most important work, as the bank has arranged to back bills to the maximum extent of its machinery and its charter permit, with a view to conserving its gold supply.

Many Americans still insist on obtaining passports from the United States embassy, mainly for Germany or France, in spite of warnings that their chances for obtaining transportation are infinitesimal. They declare their reason to be, in most cases, to get members of their families out of those countries, but some of them say they have important business to transact.

The usual flood of telegrams from the continent to London was suddenly stopped this afternoon and only a few isolated messages were delivered, and these were either delayed or lacking in importance. Telephonic communication also ceased.

When the news of King George's intervention with the Russian emperor was conveyed to the German embassy here it elicited the remark that it "tended to revive hope."

Kaiser Blanches Czar. BERLIN, Aug. 1.—It was officially announced today that the time limit of the German ultimatum to Russia expired at noon today.

An official communication published today in the North German Gazette says the Russian emperor on July 29 telegraphed to Emperor William, urgently requesting him to help in averting the misfortune of a European war and to try to restrain his ally, Austria-Hungary, from going too far.

Emperor William replied that he would willingly take up the task of mediator, and accordingly diplomatic action was initiated at Vienna.

While this was in progress the news that Russia was mobilizing reached Berlin and Emperor William telegraphed to the emperor of Russia that his role as mediator was by this endangered, if not made impossible.

The communication adds that a decision was to have been taken at Vienna today in regard to the mediation proposals in which Great Britain had joined Germany, but that Russia had ordered the full mobilization of its forces. Upon this Emperor William addressed a last telegram to Emperor Nicholas, emphatically declaring that his own responsibility for the safety of the German empire had forced him to take defensive measures.

Chancellor Sits Crowd. The German imperial chancellor today addressed a huge procession of demonstrators from the window of his official residence, making a stirring speech. He said: "At this serious hour in order to give expression to your feelings for your fatherland you have come to the house of Bismarck, who with Emperor William the Great and Field Marshall von Moltke, waded the German empire for us."

"We wished to go on living in peace in the empire which we have developed in forty-four years of peaceful labor. The whole work of Emperor William has been devoted to the maintenance of peace. To the last hour he has worked for peace in Europe and he is still working for it. Should all his efforts prove vain and should the sword be forced into our hands, we will take the field with a clear conscience in the knowledge that we do not seek war. We shall then wage war for our existence and for the national honor to the last drop of our blood."

"In the gravity of this hour I remind you of the words of Prince Frederick Charles to the men of Branenburg: 'Let your hearts beat for God and your fists on the enemy.'"

Enthusiasm and the singing of the national anthem greeted the close of the imperial chancellor's speech.

Italy Will Remain Neutral. ROME, Aug. 1.—The Messagero today says that the German ambassador has informed the Italian government that Germany has sent simultaneous ultimatums to Russia and France.

The German government in its ultimatum to Russia asked it to suspend its mobilization within twelve hours.

In the demand sent by Germany to France the government at Berlin requires France to inform it within eighteen hours whether in case of war between Germany and Russia, France would remain neutral.

The German ambassador to Italy today also asked to be informed as to Italy's attitude in the event of war between Germany and Austria-Hungary on the one side and Russia and France on the other.

The marquis Di San Giuliano, the Italian foreign minister, said he would reserve his reply until he had consulted Premier Salandra.

According to the Messagero, during the interview, which followed between the Marquis Di San Giuliano and Premier Salandra, the two Italian statesmen were in complete agreement as to the line of conduct to be pursued by Italy in the present.

The Messagero declares that as it is not a question of a defensive war on the part of Germany and Austria-Hungary the other two members of the triple alliance, Italy has decided to confine itself to pointing out to its allies that its obligations with them do not obligate it to take up arms in the present crisis and that it will remain neutral. The newspaper adds that it is not certain this neutrality will last until the end of the war, but Italy will stand aloof from hostilities as long as it is convinced its interests are not infringed.

Austria Will Be Moderate. LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Westminster

Gazette says the Austro-Hungarian government yesterday sent a communication to St. Petersburg declaring that Austria-Hungary had no intention of annexing Serbia, extinguishing the sovereignty of Serbia or renegeing the sanctity of Noyviper.

Sweden Proclaims Neutrality. STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 1.—The Swedish government today issued an official notification of its strict neutrality in the European conflict.

AMBASSADOR OF KAISER LEAVING ST. PETERSBURG

the peace and that "conversations" had not ceased.

Give Up Hope. PARIS, Aug. 1.—At the French Foreign office today officials declared they considered it would now be folly to rely on any hope of a peaceful outcome of the international crisis. England's efforts at Berlin yesterday, they said, had failed, and any glimmer of hope which had appeared had been immediately extinguished.

The conditions under which the diplomatic "conversations" continued today made it, in the French official view, appear almost impossible to expect a satisfactory issue, and it was reluctantly admitted that war seemed to be only a question of hours.

German Talks with Premier. Baron von Schoen, German ambassador to France, called at the Foreign office just before noon today and Premier Viviani, who was then attending a cabinet council at the Palace of the Elysee, left his colleagues at once and had half an hour's conference with the German diplomat. It was afterward announced that the ambassador was to return to the French Foreign office again in the afternoon. These conversations gave rise to an impression that hope of peace must not be considered irremediably gone, but it was admitted that the situation was gloomy.

Nothing was known among the general public as to what was going on behind the screen which fell along the German frontier at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Everyone supposed that German mobilization was in progress and that the French government was taking the proper measures to meet the situation. Many wedding ceremonies were performed yesterday and today, having been hastened owing to the prospect of the bridegrooms having to leave for the frontier.

The churches were full of worshippers, among them many women.

Enrolling Reserves in Russia. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—Enrollment of the reservists of the Russian army started at 10 centers in the Russian capital at 4 o'clock this morning, and was accompanied by stirring scenes. Crowds of women and children accompanied their husbands and fathers to the assembling stations, while priests everywhere blessed the reservists as they marched through the streets singing hymns.

Exports of Petroleum Stop. NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—All exports of petroleum and other oil products destined for Europe have been stopped by the Standard Oil company, such commodities being considered contraband of war. Several Standard tank ships that were to leave Atlantic ports today have been ordered to remain at dock.
