ANCIENT CEREMONY OF WAR EVE

Emperor and Empress Receive Deputations in the Hall of St. George in the Great Palace of the Kremlin.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(Special).—The official information bureau has issued an account of the sinking of the British cruiser Amphion by a mine in the North sea, which was first reported last week. After describing how the Amphion and the third destroyer flotilla had proceeded to carry out a prearranged plan of search, the report continues as follows: "A trawler informed them that it had seen a suspicious ship throwing things overboard. Shortly afterwards the German mine layer, Koenigstein Luitze, was sighted, steering east. Four destroyers gave chase, and in about an hour's time it was rounded up and sunk."

BALLOTS TAKEN FROM BOOTH

One Election Board Abandons Its Place of Business.

The greatest irregularity of the election reported yesterday was the removal of the ballot box in the First precinct of the Third ward from the polling place before the count was even begun.

Right after 9 o'clock, it is said, the boxes were taken to the office of the Baum Iron company at Thirteenth and Harvey streets, where the democratic ballots were counted and then locked up in the vault.

"We'll count the rest at 9 o'clock in the morning," announced East Baum, who was on the board. But at 8:30 o'clock three of the five were on the job counting the ballots alone. At 9 o'clock, when the other two election board members arrived they found the precinct half counted.

The spectators who saw this episode were George Clarke, Claude Bosse, democrats, and Peter Mannigan, besides two others whose names are not available.

Nearly 200 men registered in the lower ward, but challenged, had to put in two hours hunting for fraudulent voters and a notary to swear to an affidavit. Quite a number likewise challenged on suspicion by the election commissioner, refused to vote rather than go to all that trouble.

CHASING GERMAN MINE LAYER

After Sending Koenigstein Luitze to the Bottom, Seeks to Get Out of Danger Zone.

"The after-part of the Amphion then began to settle quickly until its fore-foot section was on the bottom, and the whole after-part was inclined to an angle of 45 degrees. In another quarter of an hour this had also disappeared."

BROTHER OF IOWA CITY MAN KILLED AT LIEGE

IOWA CITY, Ia., Aug. 19.—(Special).—William Peterbus, of this city, has received word through Belgian sources that his brother, Heinrich Peterbus, was slain while attacking the forts at Liege at the outset of the fighting between the Germans and Belgians.

The ship's back appeared to be broken and it was already settling down by the bows. All efforts, therefore were directed to placing the wounded in places of safety in case of an explosion, and in getting the cruiser in tow by the stern.

"By the time the destroyers had closed in, it was clearly time to abandon the ship. The men fell in for this purpose.

"In the hall of St. George in the great palace of the Kremlin, Emperor Nicholas and the Empress Alexandra fulfilled the ancient ceremony of the eve of war. They received deputations of the nobility and the nobles and merchants, who presented loyal addresses. Those present at the ceremony included the British and French ambassadors and all the cabinet ministers, headed by Premier Goremykin.

Emperor Nicholas, replying to the addresses, said: "At this solemn, warlike hour, which suddenly and against my wishes, has fallen upon my peaceful people, I seek, according to the custom of my ancestors, to strengthen the forces of my soul in the sanctuaries of Moscow. Within the walls of the old Kremlin, I greet you, the inhabitants of Moscow, my beloved ancient capital.

"All my people, everywhere, in the villages of this birth, in the Duma and in the council of the empires, have unflinchingly repiled to my appeal and risen with vigor throughout the country, forgetting all private differences, to defend the land of their birth and the Slav race. In a powerful common impulse, all nationalities and all tribes of our vast empire have united.

"Russia, like myself, will never forget these historic days. This union of thought and sentiment in all my people affords me deep consolation and calm assurance for the future. From here, from the heart of the Russian land, I send warm greetings to my gallant troops and to my brave allies, who are making common cause with us to safeguard the downtrodden people of peace and truth. May God be with us."

At the conclusion of the speech the emperor and the empress passed to the hall of the Kremlin, where they were acclaimed by a vast multitude assembled in the streets below. A solemn Te Deum subsequently was celebrated at Tsapensky cathedral.

German Colony of Kiao Chow, China, Fears an Attack

PEKING, China, Aug. 19.—The governor of Kiao Chow, the German colony in China, today issued a proclamation, saying that an attack was imminent.

The majority of the noncombatants already in the left and the American legation is advising the State department to withdraw Willy R. Peck, the American consul, his presence being unnecessary because American interests temporarily are terminated. Mr. Peck, however, desires to remain.

Although the garrison of Kiao Chow is to be formidable, since the war began the harbor has been mined and the land defenses strengthened with wire entanglements, earthworks and mined zones.

Many Chinese coolies have been employed besides the troops of the garrison. The eight hundred in Peking is deeply affected by the prospect because many of the German and British officers who will participate in the fighting have been members of Peking society during their terms of service in the legation guards.

Young German business men who have gone as reservists have many English friends in the various treaty ports.

There being no German laborers in China, practically all the reservists are officers. Their number is sufficient to form several companies. Their families are appealing to the German legation to urge Berlin to capitulate, but the legation has been unable to communicate with that city since the cables have been cut.

GERMAN BUREAU ADMITS REVERSES IN UPPER ALSACE

BERLIN, (Via Copenhagen and London), Aug. 19.—The Wolff bureau, the semi-official German news agency, today gave out the following account of the battle of Meulhausen:

"One and a half French army corps entered upper Alsace while our troops were still concentrating. Nevertheless we attacked the enemy, who was thrown back toward Belfort, but whose march afterward continued.

"A small section of artillery from Strasbourg was defeated and two batteries, which had been rendered useless, were taken by the enemy, who then marched toward Schirmeck, eight miles from Saales, Alsace. An investigation has been begun in an endeavor to ascertain if any treachery exists among the local population."
