on and May Have Saved Someone's Life.

Percy Ambler of the Umon Stock yards proved an instrument of a good providence to five Austrian employee of the stock yards yesterday afternoon when he came upon a Belgian reservist shooting at a mark in a field where the Austrians had been working. The Austrians say the Belgian chose his shooting range with an eye to the reduction of the triple alliance. The Belgian says it was a mere coincidence that he chose to shoot into a field where five Austrians had been working. Ambler chased the marksman and ordered the Austrians out of the trench in which they had taken be asked to confer a medal. refuge. He keeps his conclusions to him-

Ambler had placed five Austrians in the 22. There will be a base ball game, sports hay field at Thirty-third and Q streets. The field extends to Thirty-sixth and Q. The Austrians, it is said, worked along for a while and then-something like a buzzing bee went by. Then came consix saloon keepers made an habitual tinual spats against the crest of the hill. drunkard of her 22-year-old son, Mrs. An- The workmen paused. One man yelled tonie Cech, a widow, has filed suit in and ran. More spats and the whole crew rushed for shelter in a nearby pit. There Ambler found them after an hour's search. He also found a Belgian calmly shooting from the Thirty-sixth street side of the field. The Belgian is said to have had a large assortment of cart-

Ambler be able to induce some others to "ride" Belgian is said to have described some small sized stake in the middle of the field. The stake is said to have been ncomfortably close to the place where the Austrians were working. Ambler broke up the shooting range and ordered the Austrians back to work They accepted the shooting range explanation with a smile of incredulity, but according to Amber all small stakes were carefully removed from the field by the Austrians. And still there is the question of the coincidence that found a Belsian practicing on a gun in a field where five Austrians worked.

Fireman Escapes.

Water Wagon Man Nominated.

There is considerable agitation in South Omaha over the nomination of H. W. Reed, the "Water Wagon Man" as the republican candidate for police judge. Reed has been on the "wagon" for eighteen years. He has also been street sprinkler man for the same period. He made no campaign beyond the filing of his fee. As he drove up and down the streets sprinkling water his chances for omination grew. Reed said yesterday: "I thank my friends for the honor of the comination. I could not campaign so believe that Reed, who has been riding estate columns.

hands of Germany, so far as the far east is concerned.

The history of the seizure of the place by Germany and its conduct preceding and including its intervention, in continuetion with Russia and France after the Chino-Japanese war, show that it is absolutely necessary to eliminate such possession completely if Japan is to restore immediately complete peace in the far east in accordance with the terms of the Angio-Japanese alliance. If Japan is to look far enough into the future and adopt measures to have an abiding peace in eastern Asia it must realize that a strong military base in the hands of a shostle militant power right in the heart of the country cannot in itself fail to be a menacing factor.
