John Dineen Ends Life with Poison

John Dineen, an employe of the Omaha Bottling company, ended his life by taking carbolic acid at his home at 3111 Pacific street last night about 10:45. Grief over the death of his father, J. M. Dineen, who died from cancer Thursday night, is believed to be the reason for the suicide.

During the day his sisters overheard him say that he was going to join his father, but did not pay serious attention to the remark. Dineen left in the evening about 10 o'clock in the company of Mrs. Mabel Hart of 2408 South Twentieth avenue. While in the street across from the City Mission building he suddenly drained the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid in spite of the efforts of Mrs. Hart to stop him, who struck at the bottle, knocking it from his hand. She and Miss McGee from the City Mission, who heard the call, carried the man into the house. A call was sent to the police station and Dr. C. B. Polts rendered all the aid possible, but to no avail.

Dineen was about 25 years old and is survived by three married sisters, two unmarried sisters, a brother, Will Dineen, and his mother, a woman of 31 years. Coroner Crosby took charge of the body.

Hobson Declares He's Been Sustained

Pointing with pride to the fact that two weeks ago, when he passed through Omaha, he predicted that Japan would assume its present attitude toward Germany in the war, which prophecy was reported exclusively by The Bee at that time, Richard Pearson Hobson of Greenboro, Ala., naval hero, congressman, "big navy" advocate and "chanttalker," spent another night in Omaha and will leave early this morning to fill another chautauqua date.

When Congressman Hobson gave out his former interview, he said he expected Japan to seize Kiaoo-chow, German Ramos, the Ladrones islands and all other German possessions in the Pacific. Last night at Hotel Rome, he indicated that he expected Japan to carry out that scheme in regard to Kiaoo-chow. He refused, however, to discuss the subject further, saying it would be unwise and improper for a United States congressman to make any public statements concerning the belligerents.

Serbs Win Four Days' Battle with Austrians

ROME (Via Paris), Aug. 22.—The newspapers print the following dispatch dated Nish, Serbia, August 21: "The general staff announces the complete victory of Serbs in a four days' battle near Loznice. Austria had a number of 100,000 fought an equal number of Serbs. The losses on both sides were enormous. The victors captured great booty and several thousand prisoners."

To Tour Carter Lake in Their Canoes

The canoeists of Carter lake are laying their plans for an outing Sunday evening. A call is out for all canoe owners to meet on the dock Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and start on a tour of the lake. It is expected that not less than twenty-five canoes will be in the water.

MANY GERMAN PRISONERS EMBARK FOR A FRENCH PORT

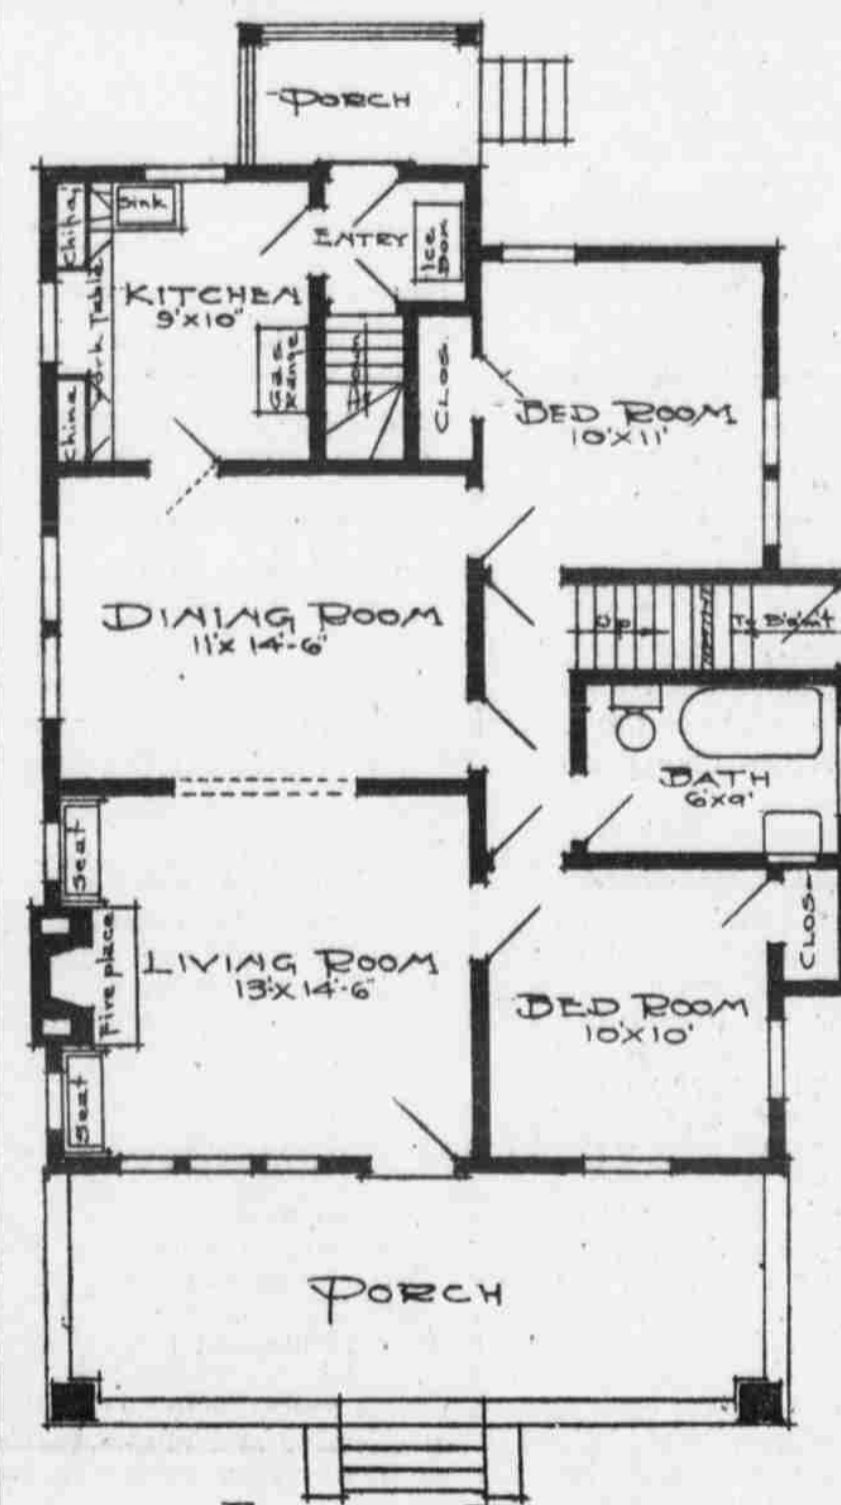

PARIS, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Dunkirk, France, says a train bearing 1,000 German prisoners, carried by Belgian soldiers, arrived there today. The Belgians with their captives embarked on a French steamer, which sailed for an unnamed French port. Two other trains carrying prisoners were following, it said.

GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS ESCORTED FROM TANGIER

(Copyright, 1914, Press Publishing Co.) MADRID, Aug. 22.—(Special Cablegram to New York World and Omaha Bee.)—According to a Tangier telegram, the soldiers of the garrison commanded by French officers, surrounded the German and Austrian galleons, while a delegate of the Italian, invited the staffs of the legations to leave Tangier. They proceeded to the French cruiser Cassard, which conveyed them to neutral ports.

Few Suggestions for the New Home

New Style Convenient One-Story Cottage

This design shows a well arranged one-story cottage with five rooms and bath on one floor. The rooms are all reasonably large and are so arranged that the maximum amount of space is provided for the size of the building.

If desired, two good rooms may be finished up on the second floor, making eight rooms altogether.

The exterior is plain and inexpensive, but will make a very neat looking cottage.

LIGHT COMPANY WINS OUT U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Gives it Perpetual Right to Streets.

REINFORCES SUPREME COURT REVERSES DECISION OF SAME COURT OF FOUR YEARS AGO, IN WHICH IT WAS HELD THE FRANCHISE HAD EXPIRED.

Right to the perpetual use of the streets of Omaha and authority to sell electric current for heat and power is vested in the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, according to the decree of the United States circuit court of appeals, ordered at a sitting in St. Louis yesterday.

This decree reinforces the United States supreme court decision that the electric lighting company has a perpetual franchise and may sell electric current for heat and power.

Also, this reverses the decision of the circuit court of appeals of four years ago, in which it was held that the electric light company's franchise had expired.

The decree of the circuit court of appeals, started when Judge W. D. McHugh for the bondholders of the electric lighting corporation carried the case to the supreme court of the United States when the city council, acting on the belief that the company was without authority to sell current for power, passed a resolution ordering it to cut the wires carrying current for power and heat.

Resolution Contested. This resolution and Judge W. H. Munger held against the company. The circuit court of appeals decreed that the franchise of the company had expired. The United States supreme court held the franchise to be perpetual.

Judge McHugh went to the circuit court of appeals following the supreme court decision and asked for a modification of the decree in which the franchise was held to have expired. The circuit court of appeals, after four years, not only modifies the decree, but reverses itself and holds with the supreme court and that the franchise is perpetual.

Assistant City Attorney W. C. Lambert fought the case for the city. He bitterly assailed the theory that the company's franchise is perpetual and sought to secure a decree limiting the operations of the company insofar as the selling of current for power is concerned to the field now occupied, in case the city proved powerless to prevent the sale of current for power.

Judge McHugh said: "In my opinion this decree ends the litigation. I do not see what can be done by the city, although the city attorneys may not accept the situation. The company has gone right on selling current for power, believing its franchise gave it the right to do so, and hence the decision does not in any way affect existing conditions."

EXPERT OPINION ON THE WAR

In Some Ways Germany Has an Advantage, Say the Military Men.

GREAT ARMY IN THE FIELD

Present Conflict Assorted to Be the Outgrowth of Threatening Condition Existing for Years.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Military authorities here are watching the progress of the European war with the greatest interest. From a military viewpoint the war will prove beyond a doubt the relative efficiency of the armed forces engaged, of their respective equipments, and the tactics employed. It will mean a testing of the modern machines of war such as the dirigible, the aeroplane, and high power guns and explosives. American officers will be given the opportunity of noting the success and methods used to handle masses of troops never before dreamed of, and to put down for future use, if necessary, such valuable observations.

Germany Fights for Life. "Germany has become involved in a titanic struggle," said a prominent officer in the United States army. "But in spite of the odds against it, has a great advantage in the equipment of its troops, its discipline, and its war schools, which are recognized as second to none. German tactics are copied everywhere and as a military power is supreme. Hemmed in, Germany is fighting for its life and racial predominance. If defeated Russia will become the controlling power in Europe and subsequently Slavic influence will dominate, which is incomparably inferior to the advanced position in science, arts and commerce held by the Germans and French."

Cause of the War. In considering the causes of the strife, about which there are so many conflicting opinions, one officer has said: "This war has been threatening for years, and was not unexpected in Europe. It is not the mere desire of thirsty war lords, fired for further conquests, nor is it the result of petty quarrels among crowned heads to settle and for which they are willing to sacrifice innumerable lives. Deeper reasons are at the bottom, which briefly may be traced thus: "It is not generally credited that England will be seriously involved in the war unless its possessions are threatened."
