TALK WAR ALL AFTERNOON TESREAU HOLDS HIS OWN BENDER HIT IN EVERY FRAME

Fate of Europe and Europe's Kings Settled by Debnting Athletes, Who Pass Time Away Lamping Pictures of Heroes.

A whole crowd of elements, aided and shetted by one L. A. Weish, the well known prognosticator, horned in on the beating Chicago, 8 to 2 doings yesterday and put a crimp in the put the blink on the terrible conflict the bases full. scheduled for Rourke park with Peaches Graham and his Wiches.

The elements consisted of the following portions, to-wit: rain, cold, darkness and general uselessness. The last named porion was that which did the dirty work, as it would have reduced in numbers the mob which usually attends combats at the ball lot. To pacify the bugs, who are so prone to spend their hardcarned cash to watch our athletes, two games will be played Saturday, as well as Sunday. Thus thirty-six innings-or possibly more-wil be dished out for the price of eighteen. Pretty soft for the

As a result of the punk weather the hired hands had a day of rest. They spent the time discussing the war and lamping the war pictures in the papers. The result of the European turmoil was settled at least fourteen times and the destiny of the ezar, the kaiser and the king of England was decided at least sixteen. Marty Krug and Fritz Schliebner, the well known Prussian prince, led the discussion. Both decided that the kalser could lick all of Europe and Tasmania thrown in, and consume four steins of Pilsner all at the same time. In other ords, Marty and the prince hold the kaiser in the same class with Counter Mack. Bunk Congalton tried to enter the argument by declaring that the Swiss navy could clean 'em all if it was given a start, but Joe Bell, who went to Michgan, settled Bunk's hash by tipping Marty and the prince to the fact that the Swiss navy ain't.

McAllister Favors Golf. Lou McAllister wanted to go out to the Country club and watch the golfers, Louthinks he can play golf. Maybe he can. He was all ready to start when Artic Thomason informed him that the Country club was too much society for the likes of ball players. This started another argument, which was almost as intense as the war scrap, as Lou opines income as the war scrap, as Lou opines in the come in the com nobody has it on him in any way whatspever. When the argument was over the afternoon had passed.

Today the athletes will act for the ladies. This will be the last ladies' day appearance of the Wiches and the ladies are urged not to miss this excellent opportunity. Game called at 3 o'clock.
