Fourth Infantry May Not Return to Fort Crook

That all unnecessary baggage of the troops in Vera Cruz, Mex., has been ordered packed and stored on the docks preparatory to move, is the latest news received at Fort Crook from the troops stationed at Vera Cruz.

The officers fully expect an order by September 15, directing the commands in Mexico to their respective stations. There is also rumor that a general change of garrisons will be effected when the regiments are ordered home and that the Fourth Infantry may go to a new post, not returning to Fort Crook at all.

WANTED Rags!

Millions of dollars' worth of Rags collected annually

The General says: My output of Certain-teed Roofing has grown to such enormous proportions that I am having difficulty in getting enough rags of good grade to supply this demand.

I also need a lot of rags of lower grade for making my standard quality roofing, and also a still lower grade for making my Competition quality roofing.

I will pay the best market price for roofing rags anywhere in any quantity. If they can be shipped in carload quantities and in assorted grades, we can have them shipped direct to any of our big mills, but if in smaller quantities or unassorted, we will arrange with one of our packers or sorters near you, to buy your rags and prepare them for our use in the different grades.

Churches, Societies, Charitable Institutions and others are making good revenue by collecting all kinds of old rags. We consume scores and scores of tons of these rags every day—in fact the total rag sales of the country amount to several million dollars a year. It's an easy way to make money. The rags are generally given to collectors or sold at least for very little. Every kind of rag can be used for something. Use this plan to pay off your church debt or raise the minister's salary. The results are surprising.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

George Scott Wounds His Wife and Kills Himself.

COMES TO HAVE TALK WITH HER When She Flees From Room He Opens Fire and Injures Her Severely, Saving Last Bullet to End His Own Life.

Failing to persuade his wife to return to him until he had quit drinking, George Scott, 32 years old, shot his wife, Jennie Scott, in the back last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skrupa, 72 North Twenty-sixth street and then killed himself. Mrs. Scott is in a precarious condition at the South Omaha hospital with the chances of life against her, according to the surgeons.

The tragedy was the outcome of a long disagreement between the Scotts. Mrs. Scott left her husband two months ago, because he failed to provide for her and their child. She said her husband had been drinking for a long time.

After the couple separated, Mrs. Scott returned to the home of her parents and obtained work as a waitress at the Union Stock Yards. Scott worked in different places. He continually urged his wife to return to him, but she refused until he had given up drink.

Last night Scott came to the Skrupa home to see his wife. Mrs. Scott was nervous about the visit of her mother and sister. She remained in the room during the visit. Scott exhibited signs of drink it is said. He again urged his wife to return. She refused. Then he asked for a private interview with her and she refused, because she told him she feared he meant to kill her.

Scott then drew a revolver and began to shoot. One bullet struck his wife in the right elbow. She rushed out the dining room towards the back of the house. A second bullet entered the woman's back under the shoulder blade. Mrs. Skrupa wrestled with the man for the gun, but he succeeded in breaking away and made for the back yard, where there is a chicken coop. There was a hurried struggle as though the man was trying to break through the back fence. Then the revolver sounded again. When the police under Chief Briggs and Captain Carey arrived, they found Mrs. Scott dead.

He had used the last bullet in his gun, a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson, to end his own life.

Mrs. Scott, holding her 3-year-old baby in her arms, staggered across the street to the home of John Guderman, where she fell. Doctors E. J. Shanahan and F. O. Beck attended her and then took her to the South Omaha hospital. Mrs. Scott, while dangerously wounded, was very calm. She insisted on walking from the auto to the hospital.

Glad Husband Dead. When told about her husband's death Mrs. Scott remarked that she was glad of it. "He made my life a misery since our marriage," she said between gasps of pain. Realizing that she had been ill seriously, she told the doctors that while she did not want to die and leave her baby, she felt that Scott had made her life so unhappy that she was satisfied whatever way the battle went.

Mrs. Scott is 22 years old. Her baby is 3 years of age. She is said to be a hard working young woman and was well spoken of by a number of the policemen who know her personally. Scott lived with his mother, Mrs. Fred Meyers, of 154 North Nineteenth street, Omaha. He was for a time employed at the Omaha Packing company. Later he worked for the yards and for some time is said to have worked in an Omaha saloon. Lately he claimed to be working as a switchman. Scott's body was taken in charge by Undertaker E. J. Larkin.

Mrs. Scott is a daughter of Frank Skrupa, who runs a saloon in Omaha at Ninth and Douglas streets. He is also interested in the Her Grand Tax company.

Bowlers Meet. Peter Peterson was elected president of the Magic City Bowling league for this year, with Ray Colley as vice president. Frank Lepinski was chosen secretary and Robert Clayburn treasurer. The league will operate under last year's rules and will consist of an eight-team aggregation. A meeting of the officers will be held Friday night at the Brunsvick pool hall, Twenty-fourth and M streets.

Notables to Come. Governor John H. Morehead, Mayor Dahlman of Omaha and Mayor Hoctor of South Omaha are scheduled to grace the Centennial club festival, which will be opened tomorrow night, at Twenty-fourth and F streets.

Frank L. Johnson, president of the Centennial club, and James Michael will head a grand automobile parade which will start from Twenty-fourth and F streets at 7:30 o'clock. The parade will go to the Paxton hotel in Omaha to meet Governor Morehead and Mayor Dahlman and other invited guests of note. Frank's band will furnish the music for the occasion.

Quinby Will Talk Dundee Annexation On Monday Evening

To promote the annexation of Dundee to Omaha is a matter with which Laurio J. Quinby, democratic candidate for the state senate from Douglas county, is concerning himself at the present time. He is calling an open meeting of citizens of Dundee to meet on his porch in Dundee Monday evening, when he wants to discuss with them the matter of annexation. He says he desires to get a free expression of sentiment on this matter from the people of Dundee. He hopes the matter of annexation can be placed before the voters of Dundee at the fall election.

He points out that at present citizens of Dundee must pay $7 a year to send each one of their children to the Omaha High school, and in addition to the sum Dundee is compelled to pay by the state law. He says there were approximately fifty Dundee children in the Omaha High school last year, and that their number will be increased this year.

"The tax rate in Dundee," he says, "is steadily rising, while that in Omaha remains practically stationary."

Grandsons Play Wedding March

Hugo and Chester Heyn, grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Max Morris, played the wedding march Friday evening at the golden wedding ceremony pronounced for Mr. and Mrs. Morris by Rabbi Frederick Cohn. The march was played on piano and violin. Mrs. M. T. Bentzen sang a solo.

The celebration was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Morris, on Twenty-ninth and Harney streets. Mr. and Mrs. Morris with their children and grandchildren marched into the front room of the home, where a golden wedding ceremony was pronounced by Rabbi Cohn, a ring being used. They received the congratulations of their friends, and refreshments were served in the dining room.

POPLETON PROPERTY IS TO BE PLATTED AT ONCE

The sale of eight blocks by the Popleton estate to the firm of Schuler & Cary marks one of the important real estate transactions of the last week. This property lies two blocks west of the Jenkin home and is near the Saunders school and the new cathedral. The purchasers expect at once to install the necessary improvements and offer the lots for sale with moderate restrictions to insure a good class of homes, at the same time within the Shore Line Investment company of San Francisco when that company put on the beach resort known as Granada.

"When we came to Omaha about four years ago and began to look over the city, we were surprised at the low values of close-in properties compared with those of Pacific coast cities," said Mr. Schuler. "It was associated with the Shore Line Investment company of San Francisco when that company put on the beach resort known as Granada."

SUMMER PARKS' SEASON DRAWING TO EARLY CLOSE

Though Kraus park has suffered in the sizes of its crowds during the last week of unseasonable park weather, there has been a sufficient number on hand to warrant dancing and roller skating, the resort's favored attractions.

The second annual picnic of the proceeds and business club held last Thursday, was unsuccessful, it having rained a greater part of the day and the evening was cold and damp.

Before the close of the season in early September it is hoped old Sol will make himself more evident and a few big picnics and outings can be arranged for.

GIVES POLICE WRONG NAME, BUT RUSE FAILS TO WORK

H. G. Montgomery of 218 South Nineteenth street, when he was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Wheeler for speeding, thought he would be free and give the police a bogus name and address and they would be none the wiser. Accordingly he said his name was H. G. Gray and lived at 812 Cass street. He failed to appear at court. A short search uncovered the whereabouts of Mr. Montgomery, who really works for a filling station at Nineteenth and Farnam. He will be tried on a more serious charge than speeding Monday morning.

MOTORCYCLIST BREAKS LEG WHEN HE IS HIT BY AUTO

Oldrich Krema, aged 19, living at 223 North Twenty-third street, South Omaha, is to the St. Joseph hospital with a compound fracture of his left leg as the result of colliding on a motorcycle with a R. H. Lemke, 163 North Twenty-sixth street, South Omaha, in an automobile at Twenty-fifth and Leavenworth streets Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

Dr. Kenyon attended the injured man and says the break is a bad one. The driver of the machine asserted that the motorcycle were not looking where they were going.

CANADIAN FARMERS NOT EXPECTED TO ENLIST

Edwin Hart Jenks, D. D. Upon his return from Alberta, where his sons, Chester and Hart, are home-steading, he was asked by friends whether he would be called upon to fight for Great Britain, recent press dispatches indicating that all eligible Britons might be sent against Germany.

NEWS of SCHOOLS and COLLEGES

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

University of Nebraska to Make an Exhibit at State Fair.

BUILDING FOR THE PURPOSE
 All Activities of the Great University to Be Shown in Moving Pictures and Otherwise During Week.

The University of Nebraska is making extensive preparations for an exhibit showing its manifold departments and activities at the state fair in September. Whereas in past years the university has maintained a comparatively small exhibit at the annual fair, this year it will become one of the striking features of the exhibition. The old Horticultural hall has been given over to the university for its exclusive use, and is to be rededicated University hall. In this building, with a floor space of several thousand square feet, the departments and colleges of the university will be represented by exhibits, the many departments which deal with public service will have headquarters, an information bureau will be conducted, and motion pictures dealing with the resources of the state and the activities of the university will be shown in nearly continuous shows.

The building is in the shape of a cross, and each of the four wings will be occupied by a division of the exhibit. In the south wing will be the large lecture hall, in which the motion pictures will be shown. These films, the property of the state conservation commission, will cover among other the following subjects: The university, showing both campuses, athletics, freshmen-sophomore Olympics, etc.; power farming, wheat and corn growing, the best sugar industry, irrigation in the state, the horse industry, poultry, agriculture, better baby, control of weeds, a general view showing the variety of the state, meat, food and sanitary milk institution; canning in the home and in school (this last by the agricultural college). From 9 in the morning until 6 at night these films will be shown in continuous thirty-minute shows. Bulletin outside the building will announce the subject of the reels to be shown.

Registrar Greer in Charge.
 After each motion picture show the audience can pass immediately to the other parts of the building and other exhibits. In the center of the four wings will be the general information bureau, where catalogs may be had. Registrar Greer will probably be in charge of this bureau.

In the west wing will be the exhibits of the college and school of agriculture and the experiment stations. After a glimpse of the power farming "movies" and the pictures of growing wheat, corn, sugar, poultry, apples and other industries of this agricultural state, the exhibit of the state school of farming will be doubly interesting.

In the east wing will be the colleges of medicine, engineering, arts and sciences, and other colleges. The Nebraska College of Medicine, in Omaha, has recently been classed among the best—the "country" for its high standard of scholarship and its up-to-date equipment. The engineering college holds equal rank in its field. The exhibits in this section of the building will be especially attractive, including some of the class work of drawing and painting students in the school of fine arts and a display of ceramic pottery.

The entire north wing of the building will be given over to public service displays, to show the people of the state the immediately practical things accomplished for the state by the university. In this section will be representatives of the legislative reference bureau, the state geological survey, the state museum, the department of high school inspection, university extension, the department of conservation and soil survey, the weather bureau, farmers' institutes, boys' and girls' work.

Committee in Charge.
 The committee which is arranging the exhibits is composed of Professors Barker, Chaburn, Reed, Pugsley, Condra (chairman), Dr. Conrad, in speaking of the exhibit, said that the main idea would be to give visitors an idea of the university as a whole, combining the work of the farm and city campuses under one
