War Notice About Drugs

Notwithstanding the European war conditions which have so seriously interfered with commercial transactions, our stock of crude drugs, chemicals, dye stuffs, pharmaceuticals, toilet goods, perfumeries, etc., is absolutely unbroken.

Our long established policy of making purchases in round quantities direct from manufacturers or importers, is now of the greatest advantage to both ourselves and our customers. Our warehouse at 1514 Dodge street, which consists of 270 running feet of an orderly, well-kept stock, is now a source of great satisfaction to us.

We have thus far been obliged to advance prices on but a few items, and can at the present time supply every article demanded in this market. Our policy will be not to advance with the market, but to give our customers, in almost every instance, the benefit of our own well fortified commercial condition.

Now, more than ever, the slogan is true:

Exposition to Be Held Next Year, Says President Moore

According to President Moore, of the Panama Pacific exposition scheduled for San Francisco, the big show is certain to be held next year. He is sending out, over his official signature, a statement to the effect that the exposition will be held and therein he explains the reason why. He says: "There have been reports that the exposition, because of the war in Europe, would be postponed. It will not be postponed. There have been published statements that the war in Europe would seriously affect the commercial or educational importance or the financial success of the exposition. They will not be so affected. "The exposition will open on its scheduled date—February 23, 1915. It will be completely ready when open. It is more than 90 per cent completed today. Nothing will be permitted to interfere with the consummation of the plans originally laid down. "Many friends and parties in interest have presented arguments in support of postponement for a year. These have been given anxious study on nothing save a general feeling of doubt and uncertainty. These are sufficiently answered by saying that there is no longer any doubt or uncertainty as to the success of the exposition, whatever the situation in Europe may be. Other arguments for postponement have some practical foundation, but for every one of these there is a stronger and better argument for proceeding with our plans. "The exposition will, therefore, open as scheduled. There is not the slightest reason to believe its success, in any phase, will be any less than that which was so certain three weeks ago. Not one of the nations at war has notified us of an intention to withdraw her participation. France and Italy have, in fact, notified us that their plans remain unchanged, but even if we should lose the others the interest and importance of the exposition would still, as a whole, surpass all precedent. "As to the domestic participation, the effect of the European war seems likely to be rather advantageous than otherwise. The stimulus on exhibits is greatly felt, as American manufacturers become impressed with the opportunity given by the exposition for bringing their goods to the attention of the large distributors of Central South America, the Orient and Canada. "As to attendance, all expert opinion agrees that there is nothing in the situation, even if continued through 1915, that will affect seriously the willingness or ability of the people of the western hemisphere and of the far east to visit the exposition. Some opinion is firm that travel to California may even be increased by the war. The decision of the exposition management has, however, been reached without regard to that consideration. We consider it our duty alike to our nation, to the participating nations, to our exhibitors and to ourselves to carry out the plans as originally laid down and which, now nearly at fruition, promise the most important, the most beautiful and the most successful exposition in history."

RYDER HAS SOME WOOD FOR WHOEVER WANTS IT

Nearly 500 cords of wood will be given away by Street Commissioner J. J. Ryder if someone is found who needs or will take the wood. Unless it is given away Commissioner Ryder may have it cut and corded and hold it for the poor people who will need fuel this winter. This wood is now in the trees. Several dozen large trees are standing in the streets or alleys in new additions and must be cut to open the way for traffic. One of the trees, in Saratoga Place, is the largest cottonwood tree in Omaha. Commissioner Ryder attempted to have the trees cut and removed free of charge to the city, but no one could be found who wanted the wood.

Big Grain Receipts Find Ready Sale on the Local Market

There was another big bulge in wheat prices, cash wheat on the Omaha market selling from $1 up to $1.05, the bulk of the sales being around $1.06, 2 to 3 cents higher than Saturday. The market opened strong and inside of one-half hour had sold up 2 cents. Omaha receipts were: Wheat, 60 cars, 90 cars; oats, 65 cars. Practically everything was sold before the close of the session. The Omaha market followed Chicago, though the fluctuations were not so rapid. September was high at $1.12 and low at $1.09. December fluctuated between $1.11 and $1.13, while May sold as high at $1.23 and as low as $1.20.

T. L. COMBS HEADS NATIONAL JEWELERS FOR THIRD TIME

T. L. Combs of Omaha has been re-elected president of the American National Retail Jewelers' association for the third consecutive time by the ninth annual convention of the Retail Jewelers' association, held in Chicago during the last two weeks of August. This is the first time any man has been elected to a third term in office in the association. "It was the largest convention of its kind ever held," said Mr. Combs, "there being 2,300 registered jewelers present. The association is trying to get legislation passed which will assure not only the purchasers but also the retail dealer that such articles as gold filled watch cases are not fraudulent in material when sold as dependable goods. Fraudulent advertising will also be included."

Reporters Will Not Help Gibson Seeking a Mate

In all the town of Huntington, W. Va., there is not a single maid—single—capable of wrenching the heartstrings of Will Gibson, who represents himself as a bachelor of charm and merit. But in the unbounded, untrammeled west, with its r-r-rolling per-arries and dashing cowgirls (he's been going to the movies, the coast he hopes to find a miss whose heart will beat in union with his own. This much Assistant Postmaster J. I. Woodard gathered from a letter he received from Gibson. Two young women reporters on local dailies were covering the "federal run" and they pounced upon Mr. Woodard for some news. "Why yes, I have something here that might interest you ladies," smiled the old villain, winking at the mere male who does the stunt for this paper. Deep silence veiled the office for a moment as the pair of female item-cluths scanned the missive. Two little pink noses went straight up in the air and four little heels pounded smartly on the floor as the possessors of the heels exited.
