which he landed hands down. Edgerton Makes Talk.

Frank Edgerton, assistant attorney general has gone to Germantown today, where he will represent the republican party in a political speech in which An-Grew Morrissey, private secretary to the governor, will be his opponent. As it is German picnic, Mr. Edgerton will not tell his celebrated Irish story, while Mr. Morrissey will sound the audience a little before talking on women suffrage.

Miss Muldoon Wins Prize.

Miss Mamie Muldoon of the fire commissioners' office won one of the prizes otfered by the Nebraska Panama-Pacific exposition for the sale of medals, the proceeds to go toward building a Nebraska building at the exposition in San Francisco. She will receive a round trip ticket including Pullman sleeper for the ticket including Pullman sleeper for the trip. Miss Gladys Van Sant of Omaha won the other prize.

Valuation of Yards.

The work of making a physical valuation of the South Omaha stock yards began yesterday, when Rate Expert U. G. Powell of the State Railway commission, with his two assistants, Messrs. Boyer and Gregery, began looking over the situation. The investigation will be made starting back in 1892, when the association was first formed, and a thorough going over of the books of the association will be made. It is not known how long it will take to make the valuation, but considerable time will elapse before it will be finished. The work is being done on a complaint made by R. B. Howell of Major Arthur Haysel, assistant adjutant general of the Nebraska National Guard, returned to the rifle camp at Ashland, where the state encampment of the guards has been held since August 27, having completed the payroll on which he has been working for a couple of days, tended by the largest attendance since The encampment will have cost the state, its organization. About 500 registered, when the troops have all returned home, about $5.000. Of this amount $4,112.58 will be for pay of the state's share due the men. The other expense, amounting to about $19,000, will be borne by the United States government.

Order Goes in Effect.

The fact that the railroads have notified next meeting at Lehigh. the commission that they will contest in the courts the order of the commission known as No. 19, making a reduction in freight rates on all lines of railroad in Nebraska, will not stop the going into effect of that order on next Sunday, September 6. The roads will have to put the odder in effect and pending a decision of the courts it will remain so.
