AMERICAN SCRIBE IS ORDERED SHOT

After Being with Germany Army Two Weeks Newspaper Men from This Country Escape.

ARE HELD AS PRISONERS

While Told They Are Not Prisoners They Hear They Are to Be Shot if They Try to Make Their Escape.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 10.—The party of American correspondents, who accompanied the German army for nearly two weeks, across Belgium and into France, found themselves safe on Dutch soil today after being held prisoners by the Germans for four days under unusual circumstances. The Associated-Press correspondent reached Rotterdam late last night.

For the last week the party had been under surveillance at Aix La Chapelle, whether they had been brought on a train with prisoners from Beaumont, Belgium. The party included Roger Lewis, the Associated Press; Irvin R. Cobb, the Saturday Evening Post and the Philadelphia Public Ledger; James O'Donnell Bennett and John T. McCutcheon, the Chicago Tribune, and Harry Hansen, the Chicago Daily News.

March with the Army.

The party succeeded in marching along with the army, some times in slight of fighting, until Beaumont was reached. Here the Germans had established temporary headquarters. At Beaumont the correspondents were held up by Commandant Mittendorf, whose suspicions against all newspaper men had been aroused by a party of three correspondents picked up the previous day, who represented themselves as Americans, although two of them were Belgians. The trio were taken to a Beaumont jail. The party included Gerbaud, Stevens and Hennebeard and the negro chauffeur. All were arrested for photographing and traveling in an automobile which unlawfully carried a Red Cross flag.

Sentenced to Death.

After being repeatedly told that they were not prisoners the Americans were locked up with the three other correspondents arrested the day before. Stevens had already been sentenced to be shot as an English spy.

No Food but Wine.

For two nights they slept on the floor under a heavy guard and still told that they were not prisoners, but warned that they would be shot if they moved one step out of the house. After they had given their word of honor that they would not attempt to escape their guards was doubled. No food was supplied the prisoners, their only sustenance being a bottle of wine.

Shot At by Snipers.

The train, carrying beside the prisoners, several cases of wounded German soldiers, arrived at Aix La Chapelle after a two days' slow journey. All eight of the correspondents were packed into a single second class compartment, without food or drink, and at the mercy of Belgian snipers, who frequently fired from houses as the train passed. The party arrived at Aix La Chapelle carefully guarded and were forbidden to leave the city.

Belgians on Offensive.

The surveillance of the military guard and the police relaxed when the authorities discovered that the American correspondents had in their possession accounts favorable to the German cause. The party finally crossed the Dutch border without permission of the authorities.

Kaiser Sends Message to Wilson Complaining of Other's Cruelties

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Rotterdam has telegraphed the text of a message sent by Emperor William to President Wilson, under date of September 4. It is as follows:

"I consider it my duty, sir, to inform you as the most notable representative of the principles of humanity, that after the capture of the French fort of Longwy my troops found in this place dum-dum bullets, which had been manufactured in special works by the French government. Such bullets were found not only on French killed and wounded soldiers and on French prisoners, but also on English troops.

"You know what terrible wounds and awful suffering are caused by these bullets, and that their use is strictly forbidden by the generally recognized rules of international warfare.

Cut Part of Communication.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in France, describing the turn of the tide in favor of the allied forces, says: "From trustworthy sources it is reported that we have already cut part of the German line of communication in the east, and it seems highly probable that we shall soon be able to drive them back upon their ammunition and supply column.

Death Record.

Arnold J. White LEAD, S. D., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Residents of this city received word of the death at the National sanitarium at Hot Springs of Arnold J. White of this city, a pioneer of the Hills and one of its best known citizens. Mr. White, whose real name was Kuschal, was born in Switzerland nearly seventy years ago and adopted the name White on coming to this country. He came here in 1877 and had made his home here until a month ago, when his health broke down. He was a member of Stanton post, Grand Army of the Republic, and leaves only an invalid wife.

Right Wing Withdraws.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The French embassy today received the following dispatch from Bordeaux, bearing yesterday's date:

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE MARCHING TO GERMAN CAPITAL

The retiring Germans have Cracow behind them, on which to rally.

Cracow is on about the same meridian as Koenigsberg, and the Russian forces are almost leveled up to this meridian with armies in East Prussia, 300 miles from the point where the Austrians are now fighting their last fight.

Make Last Stand.

"The key to the whole tactical situation is at Rawa, where the Austrians are making a desperate struggle to prevent the Russian advance movement. It is the last stand of an out-manuevered army and defeat means annihilation.

IMPETUS OF RUSS ARMY A SURPRISE

Military Experts Marvel at Speed Acquired by Huge Russian Steam Roller.

ALLIES NOW MORE HOPEFUL

Exultant Messages from Petrograd Indicate Disaster for the Dual Monarchy as Czar's Army Sweeps Toward Berlin.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Exultant messages from Petrograd and admissions of disaster from Vienna indicate that the long series of military misfortunes marking the history of the dual monarchy are about to be capped with an unparalleled debacle which will not only open the road to Berlin, but bring Austria to sue for peace.

The armies in the west seem as if pausing to watch the fateful drama in Galicia, the outcome of which may have a tremendous effect on the plans of the invaders in the western theater of war, as well as on the allies themselves in that region.

The news from Belgium indicates that the Germans are preparing for eventualities by rushing reinforcements southward. The first definite indication of this movement is given in a dispatch from Belgium, which relates that the German forces that have been waiting outside Ghent for the levy of provisions demanded from that city has left hurriedly in a southeasterly direction.

England had looked hopefully for the Russian "steam roller" to get under way, but the impetus which the Russian army in the eastern theater of the war already has acquired has surprised even the military experts.

The movement of the Russian advance has been so speedy that the German divisions advancing in the Vistula are hardly likely to arrive in time to assist their sorely pressed ally in Galicia.

Reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian armies already are driving the Germans before them on the western bank of the Vistula. In this region the only base left for a rallying point for the Austrian and German forces is Cracow, the old capital of the kingdom of Poland, situated in a broad plain on the left bank of the Vistula and not more than thirty miles from the frontier of Silesia. If this place falls before the onslaught of the Russians it is felt in London that the annihilation of the Austrian-German armies in the southeast may result.

May Sweep Into Germany.

The Russian advance now occupies almost a straight line from Koenigsberg on the Baltic in east Prussia to Cracow. If Austria is disposed of, a tremendous battle line from 300 to 350 miles long may sweep into the German empire. Many
