Pioneers Getting Ready for Their Annual Reunion

At the meeting of the Douglas County Association of Nebraska Pioneers yesterday afternoon, President Lockner and Secretary Edwards were authorized to select the general committee to entertain after the reception and entertainment of the members of the Nebraska territorial and state pioneers who hold their annual reunion in Omaha from September 29 to October 3. They are also authorized to appoint all subcommittees and outline the work that they are to perform.

President Yost of the Nebraska Territorial and State Pioneers' association asserted that with the sixty or more county organizations in the state the attendance at the reunion should reach between 4,000 and 5,000. He was of the opinion that the pioneers intended to make the reunion something of a home-coming week and, while they might not be in the city during the entire four days, most of them would remain two and a majority of them three days, participating in the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities when not visiting friends and relatives. He asserted that during the home-coming week he would be very busy and to assist him in looking after the wants of the visitors he had named Rome Miller, W. L. Kierstead, Martin Dunham and W. B. Crouse as a committee. This committee, however, will not take upon itself any of the duties devolving upon the general committee from the Douglas county association.

Resolutions on the death of Mrs. Edward Rosewater, Mrs. Dennis Cunningham and George Van Norman were reported, read and adopted and ordered spread upon the records.

GERMAN ARMY CORPS CUT OFF FROM MAIN BODY

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A Paris dispatch to the Daily Chronicle says: "In the haste of the Germans' latest retrograde movement many regiments of Germans have been cut off and remain in the wooded country within the triangle of Senlis, Gonesse and Dammarville. It is believed that they amount in all to about one army corps. They have been cut off from the main body by the allies' lines between Compiègne and Meaux and their situation is precarious.

The remarkable resistance of the fortress at Mauberge to the invading Germans is one of the most interesting features of the campaign. Because of its stubborn stand it has undoubtedly seriously embarrassed the Germans in bringing up field guns against Paris and maintaining their communications.

Laon and Le Fere have been invested by the Germans and have perhaps fallen."

U. S. TO DECLARE WAR ON GERMANS IF JESUITS DIE?

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A Jesuit priest, who escaped from Louvain, has written his father, Phillip Cooley of this city, as follows: "All of our people escaped except eleven. One of these was shot at once, as he had a diary of the war on his person. The others were taken to Brussels, where they were to have been shot, but the American minister stopped in and stopped it. He told the Germans that his government would declare war if any of these persons were shot."

CAUSE OF QUARREL BETWEEN ROMANIAN CLONED IN MYSTERY

None Will Talk and Shuts Is Unconcerned.

Joe Opritea, Roumanian, 25 years old, died last night at the South Omaha hospital of wounds inflicted in a fight last Saturday night over Joe Jerman's saloon at Twenty-sixth and P streets by John Shuta. Mike Dain, also wounded in the same fight, is still holding his own at the South Omaha hospital. Opritea was practically disemboweled by Shuta's knife and Dain had his throat cut.

There was little hope of saving the life of Opritea, but physicians hoped that Dain will live. Shuta, the man accused of the crime, is confined at the police station, where he was taken immediately after the affray last Saturday night. He refuses to discuss the case. According to Detective Mike Gillin, the men had trouble some days before the fight. It is said that Shuta was the aggressor. When told of the death of Opritea last night Shuta showed little concern and appeared not to understand the charge under which he rests. Opritea's body was turned over to Undertaker B. J. Larkin.

Southwestern Market Affects Hogs

It is a far call from the feed lots of Nebraska's farms to the cotton fields of the south, and yet the connection between the two is such that the local hog market yesterday was practically at a standstill in South Omaha. There were only sixty carloads of hogs received and all were disposed of, but hog men stated that unless some way is found to move the cotton of the south the hog market will be shut to pieces for some time to come. According to one of the large hog dealers at the yards, this season generally brings out the call for hog meat for the negroes and cotton field workers of the south. This year the cotton market is tied up on account of the war and in consequence the planters and the cotton men are not buying pork meat and bacon. The temper of the market yesterday was decidedly gloomy in view of the continuation of the war.

Horse Prices Way Up.

Horsemen at the yards say that the erroneous report of foreign horse buyers has sent the prices soaring. A week ago a report got out that army men from Europe were buying horses for the war. In consequence it is said the farmers promptly ran the prices up and now every old plug has taken on an added value in the eyes of the speculative owner.

As a matter of fact it is said that an order for 30,000 horses was placed in Canada markets by the belligerents. This order was then subdivided. About 100 or 125 horses were purchased at the local yards for the war, it is said. The prices paid ranged from $75 to $125, the last figure being the final word of the purchasers. Now it is said the farmers are holding their stock away up in the air and in consequence things are a bit slow. The horse dealers are the innocent bystanders in the case and are suffering.

Back from State Fair.

Tired, but enthusiastic, the local delegation from the state fair arrived home last night after a big day at the capital city. There was a goodly turn out considering the weather and all reported an enjoyable time. A number have already begun planning the visit to the state fair, which will come some time within the next sixty days. This is the big day and everybody with a drop of foot ball spirit joins the crowd.

Bought Too Much.

Every mail brings us notices of higher prices and many merchants are taking advantage of the situation and are marking the goods bought at the old prices. We are not going to do that here at Flynn's. We figured on a big business this fall and bought heavier than usual. We are not looking for big prices, but we are looking for big business, and every customer that helps us it will be rewarded by better values. Every one knows the character of Flynn's clothes. The stock is bigger and better than ever before. In our children's departments you will find better values than you can find anywhere outside of this house. John Flynn & Co.

H. Vance Lane, formerly of Omaha, now in New York, recently lost his motor car by theft and recovered it again in a peculiar way. The New York Times tells of the incident in this manner:

Through information furnished by a woman, the police yesterday arrested Herbert Trollet, 25 years old, a chauffeur, of 25 West 14th street, who charged him with stealing an automobile belonging to H. Vance Lane of 64 West End avenue.

Trollet, a director of the New York Telephone company, following Trollet's arrest, Joseph De Lorenzo, to whom, according to the police, Trollet sold the stolen automobile for $100, was arrested at his home in West New York, N. J. The police say Trollet confessed and gave them De Lorenzo's name. The woman who informed against Trollet said that he had deceived her in pretending to her that he was a single man, when in fact he was married.

TOOK GOODS TO TAILOR FROM WHOM IT HAD BEEN STOLEN

When Ray Scott, a colored porter, decided to have a new overcoat made out of a piece of goods he owned, he happened to take it to a tailor who declared that the fabric had been stolen from his shop two weeks before. Scott was arrested by Officer Farrand on the charge of petit larceny. He asserted that he did not steal the goods, but had bought it from another man. The Bee Want Ads Are the Best Business Boosters.
