Scarcity of Dog Catchers When Two Are Sent to Jail

Complaint has been filed with the city commission against two dog catchers, Tom Hall and Jerry Kitzler, colored, charging them with firing a revolver at Biaggio Battisto. Hall was arrested, fined and thrown into the county jail. The complaint alleges that Mrs. Gratia Battisto, sister-in-law of Battisto, looked at a dog the dog catchers were chasing, and that they fired a revolver on the woman, and when Battisto protested they fired at him. The dog catchers say Battisto ran into his house and came out with a shotgun and was then fired at. City commissioners will hear the complaint Tuesday.

Supreme Court Justice writes an Invalid Will advertisement. The astonishing information contained in this newspaper clipping brings home with singular emphasis the great Caution required in drawing up a Will. It seems almost incredible that a Supreme Court Justice, a man of great wisdom in all branches of the Law, wrote a Will that proved invalid. If you have written YOUR Will without legal advice and great care, let us go through it with you and see if it complies exactly with the Law of Nebraska. If carelessness comes to light in the probate of a Will written by a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, you can readily see how easily mistakes and oversights can creep in.
