HOWARD AND SIXTEENTH STREETS

Aliens in United Kingdom Bother to Government Heads

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The number of "alien enemies" in the United Kingdom, which is estimated at from 50,000 to 60,000, including women and children, daily becomes a matter of more concern. Most of the better class have received police permits to remain at liberty, reporting at stated times to the police stations. Of these many continue in employment, but the discharging of clerks, teachers, governesses and servants of German or Austrian birth is becoming more common as the war feeling grows. The women, who are required to register with the police, are supported by charitable funds or out of the 200,000 marks appropriated by the German government for the relief of subjects in England. But the vast majority of unemployed and penniless, who are a charge on society and a source of concern to the police, have been gathered into various detention camps. At one of these camps at Aldershot there are over 2,000 inmates. They live in a tent city within a barbed wire enclosure. As an extra inducement to remain inside the barbed wire, the prisoners are deprived of their shoes. Other large camps are at Liverpool and Manchester. It is expected that the prisoners will soon be put to work in the fields.

Just as all the detained aliens have in Germany.

In the great steel and glass pavilion known as the Olympia, where fashion and nobility gathered for the annual military tournament and the horse show recently, some 600 Germans, Austrians and Hungarians are detained. The prisoners have plenty of space for exercise, which takes generally the form of children's games. They run after each other and about like boys in a play yard. Although the prisoners look the worse for lack of baths and laundries, they are for the larger part of the foreign riff-raff of London and are anything but discontented at having a day of liberty, with three meals included.

ROMANIA MAY ENTER WAR ON SIDE OF THE GERMANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Possibilities of Rumania entering the European conflict on the side of Austria are reported in brief official advices today from neutral observers in Bucharest. No reasons were given from the probable action of Rumania. Bulgaria, likewise, is reported showing strong sympathies for Russia. On the receipt of news of Russian victories in Austria a few days ago, there were big demonstrations against Austria throughout Bulgaria, which had to be suppressed by the police. Advices similarly show that Italy is having considerable difficulty in suppressing popular demonstrations in favor of the triple entente.

Forts Made Useless by Germans' New Siege Guns

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—It is still too early to base general predictions concerning war in the future upon the engagements of the present great European struggle. One prediction, however, does seem fairly justified already. It is that the day of fortresses has passed. The new 42-centimeter (16.5-inch) siege gun of the German forces appears to have demonstrated its ability to demolish the strongest fortifications ever made. Pictures of the demolition at Liege bear striking testimony to the power of this new arm. A single projectile demolished utterly walls of reinforced cement and steel, ripped open steel towers and piled the mass upon the fort's defenders. This new siege gun has been repeatedly asserted that no nation has any military secrets that are not in the possession of all other important nations, but events have proved not only that the existence of this terrible weapon was not known to foreign nations, but that only a limited number of high German army officials themselves had so much as heard of it.

Filibuster Against Pork Barrel Bill Results in Victory

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The day and night fight on the river and harbor bill in the senate showed signs of a break today with victory for the filibustering Republicans, when it became known that President Wilson favored abandoning the bill and substituting a new resolution to appropriate $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 to continue only those projects under way. The original bill proposed $53,000,000. Officials said the president believed the bill should be abandoned in its present form, because government revenues, already falling because of the European war, must be supplemented by a war tax. The economy measure will extend all along the line, even increases in salaries to officials will be abandoned.

No Change in News from Eastern Side

LONDON, Sept. 19.—News from the eastern theater continues to be of the same character; that is, further reports of overwhelming Russian victories against the Austrians in Galicia and of the stubborn pressure on the Russian frontier to the north, where the Russians, however, appear to be holding their own.

AISNE STRUGGLE GROWS TO BE OF DECISIVE VALUE

duel. That is taken to indicate that today's struggle may be marked by a tremendous advance of infantry, such as made the battlefield of the Marne a scene of indescribable horror and desolation.

The news from Berlin confounding the position of the German forces has a more confident ring. The admission has been made that the German army was short of ammunition, but this shortage has been rectified and supplied and reinforcements are being sent forward without trouble. A French officer who has just returned from the battle front, is authority for the statement that the strain on both sides of the line in France promises soon to get beyond human endurance. He likens the antagonism to two exhausted pugilists and says that soon they will be unable to inflict further punishment on each other. If this situation develops, the only possible way for the allies to prevent a weary and disheartening winter campaign, it is argued here, would be a successful assault on the German communications. Such an assault, it is admitted, will not be an easy matter.

Allies Hope to Break Line.
The Belgian army, in harrying the invaders, probably prevents the dispatch of any great part of the German army now occupying Belgium to reinforce their countrymen in France, but the Belgian forces are not strong enough seriously to interfere with communications, while the allies must break some part of the line or turn the German right before they can effectively threaten the communication of the invaders.

Petrograd reports that General Rennenkampf has definitely arrested the German advance. This movement had been assisted by river excursion boats changed into what the soldiers termed a "one-horse" navy and has driven the Russians back into the marsh country along the border.

Austrians Reorganized.
The Austrians, in a persistent effort to save the remnants of their army and reestablish it as a fighting force, have, according to reports from Vienna, fortified their extended new defensive front from Dohobay, southwest of Lemberg, to Cracow, with the center on Przemyel. An attack on the Przemyel fortress is expected at once from the Russians under command of General Ruzsky and Brusiloff. One report which reaches London from Galicia declares that the Austrian cavalry has been entirely wiped out. This may account for the fortification of the Austrian line instead of its continued retreat toward Cracow.

From many points in the dual monarchy come disquieting reports. Pola, the naval base on the Adriatic, is said to be in revolt, while the people of Vienna, refusing longer to have their attention diverted towards the west, are demanding news of the situation in Galicia, from which district hordes of refugee Poles and wounded Austrian soldiers are pouring into the capital daily. "Violent scenes outside the ministry of war building at Vienna are reported.

British Dread Casualty List.
The most cruel aspect, from the British standpoint, of the terrible battle now raging in the western area of the war is the dreadful apprehension with which the British public awaits the publication of the casualty list of the last week's fighting. Many of Great Britain's most famous regiments are reported to have been moved down in the terrific assault on the heights held by the Germans above the River Aisne. The German public may also expect a shock in this regard, for the battlefields already swept over, give evidence, according to reports received here, that the famous Prussian Guards corps has been virtually wiped out.

Japanese Imperials Land at Laoshan Bay

TOKIO, Sept. 19.—The Japanese imperial troops, co-operating with the Japanese fleet, landed at Laoshan bay September 18, according to official announcement made today. The cavalry on September 17 captured Kalo Chow station and seized a train. Among the passengers was the president of the Shan Tung railway, who was made a prisoner. The Shan Tung railroad, the president of which was made a prisoner by the Japanese, is German-owned and was opened in 1904. The main line extends from Tsin Tsu west to Tsinan. The capture of the station at Kalo Chow was earlier reported in news dispatches.

WOUNDED TELL BEST STORIES

Those Being Brought Back from Battlefield Giving Best Accounts. PROVE WAR TO BE BLOODY

Paris, Sept. 19.—The principal sources of really graphic information of operations at the front are, for the moment, accounts given by returning wounded and prisoners and by private letters. They all go to show that the worst predictions as to the bloody character of the war are being realized. The ravages in the German ranks are in part, it is declared, to furious charges with the bayonet, but mostly to the 75-millimeter guns. A German officer, interviewed on his way to one of the interior military prisons, declared "The French cannon isn't a war cannon, it's a butchery cannon." One of the latest battles at Hamblin in the Vosges was fought on the edge of a forest between two regiments of infantry supported by artillery, and so fierce became the fire on both sides that the two regiments were obliged to retire at the same time, leaving the field to grape and shrapnel.

From the Sergeant Aviator Deeken it is learned that six German flying machines succumbed to machine fire at the Luxembourg frontier. "We are in France for the moment," he writes, "and the Germans are retiring, burning Belgian villages as they pass. Gastinger, on a Belgian aeroplane, came back from the frontier with a ball in his back; fortunately the German bullets don't seem to do much damage; this one was stopped by a leaf of bread. Our squadron's going ahead, and very soon, a letter dated Berlin."

Specimen of Letter.
The following letter from a brigadier of dragons is a specimen of a certain class of letters that have begun to arrive in Paris:

"My Dear Parents: If you receive this letter it will be because I have been killed, but don't weep for me, since my fall will have been the noblest a Frenchman can dream of—to die for his country on the eve of victory. We shall be the victors because we have right and confidence on our side. I shall have done my duty to the end and I hope my death will have been useful to my country. My last thoughts will be for you."

With this letter there came another from the cure of a little Belgian village giving the details of the death of the writer of the above. It was in a Belgian forest that a party of dragons were surprised by an ambush and all shot down excepting three and on these three the Prussians rushed to complete their work. The brigadier, already wounded in the leg, managed to master his pain and charged alone, and the cure adds that there was other than French blood shed upon the field.

"His body is not lost," the cure continues. "It reposes in the little cemetery of our village, where you will come to visit his tomb after the war." A letter from a wounded soldier to his wife in Paris reads: "We were in the first rank with our lieutenant, Jean Ebrard, at the head. He received six bullets. First wounded in the thigh, he got up again, collected his men and went on ahead. Another ball struck him in the shoulder and four others were stopped by his knapsack. He found another later in his life. 'Precious souvenir,' he said. He went to have his wounds dressed on returning to the place of assembling. There's a sample of the conduct of our officers."

SEIZE AUSTRIAN STEAMER CARRYING GREEK FLAG

LONDON, Sept. 19.—(By a. m.)—The Star has published a dispatch from Rome saying that warship cruising in the Adriatic has captured an Austrian steamer flying the Greek flag, loaded with arms and ammunition destined for Albania.

Doctor Recommended Warner's

"I have great faith in your remedy. My first husband's mother, Mrs. Mary C. West, had a bad case of kidney trouble. She was in bed one year. Three doctors attended her, and after a consultation they told her husband she could not live five hours, as one of her kidneys was gone. Then he called an old doctor who had previously attended her. He told her that all he knew to do was to try Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, and if this remedy did not do her any good, nothing would. So she started to take Warner's and in less than three weeks she was on her feet again and she was thoroughly cured by your remedy."—Mrs. George Armstrong, Lynn, Mass. The experience of thirty-five years has demonstrated the fact that Warner's acts specifically upon the kidney and liver in such a manner that it establishes a healthy condition of these vital organs. It is sold by all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes, or we will send you a free sample, if you address Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 352, Rochester, N. Y.

BERLIN IS SURE OF THE OUTCOME OF BIG BATTLE

Fear until he and his observer had safely landed within the German lines. He then collapsed. As a result of the trip the observer was able to deliver a valuable report. The well known sculptor, Friedrich Pfannschmidt, captain of the Fourth Foot Guards, was killed in the battle near Chalons. Herman Wendel, the socialist member of the Reichstag, who caused a sensation during the budget debate by closing his speech with the words "Long Live France," has volunteered in the Frankfurter landsturm battalion and has seen service in Belgium.

Fear the Aviators.
A shower of steel arrows, released by French aviators over a mile high in the air, is the modern terror of war, according to accounts of German wounded, printed in the Munich Medical Weekly. The arrows, which are of pressed steel, from four to six inches long and a quarter of an inch in diameter, have a heavy pointed head and a skeletonized shaft. The arrows seem to have caused more surprise than actual damage. Only one man was killed by a head wound in the attack described, the others causing mostly flesh wounds. The regiment to which the wounded belonged, resting in close battalion formation, paid little attention to two aviators circling over a mile overhead until the novel projectiles suddenly rained down, scattering far and wide. Men were wounded in three companies. The battery in the rear, at first unphased, later realized the service of the missiles, and as many as possible crawled under the wagons and escaped another shower of them.

Crown Prince George and Prince Frederick Christian of Saxony have been awarded the Iron Cross.

NEW GERMAN CASUALTY LIST CONTAINS NAMES OF 6,000

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—The twenty-eighth casualty list just published shows 1,095 dead, 4,929 wounded and 1,023 missing. The total losses as given by all the lists is now 7,482 dead, 28,584 wounded and 9,900 missing. The list just published seems to include the casualties from the recent battle at Tannenberg, East Prussia. Count Anton Sigray, lieutenant of the Third Hungarian Hussars, who is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Gerard, wife of the American ambassador, is believed to be a prisoner of the Russians, and it is rumored that he has been taken to Odessa.

AISNE MORE BLOODY THAN MARNE BATTLE

Throughout yesterday the whole front was engaged, the fight again being hottest on the left flank, where the turning movement is becoming defined. The enemy made a series of vigorous counter attacks. "General French's army has again been sighted out for the enemy's particular attention, but their three attempts to get hold upon it have been in vain. While the fighting is hard on the eastern half of their front, the Germans are digging hard into the center from Rheims to Arras and this probably will form the pivot of the battle."

"I WILL TAKE OFF MY HAT TO YOU"

High Salaried Traveling Salesman Boosts Dresher Bros.' Cleaning Establishment to the Skies.

PRAISE IS MERITED

All this transpired in the lobby of the Paxton Hotel. "Al" Dresher, of the firm of Dresher Bros., Dry Cleaners and Dyers at 2211-2213 Farham St., for once had a minute or two to spare and put in the time smoking a cigar and incidentally picking up the acquaintance of traveling men who needed suits of clothes. Now "Al" is long on this acquaintance-making business and it was not two minutes before he was in earnest conversation with a "drummer," one of the highest priced paint and oil salesmen in the country. "So YOU are one of the Dreshers of Dresher Bros. the Cleaners, are you?" queried the drummer. "You bet I be," answered the voluble "Al." "Well, I've got to hand it to you boys," answered the traveling salesman. "I used to think there was at least one other American cleaning plant as good as yours—a plant that used to do my work in Philadelphia—but I'm durned if I think so now. You folks have done some of the clearest cleaning work I've ever seen. First time I landed in old Omaha about three years ago I sent you a job of cleaning through one of the hotels here. And SAY, do you know that job tickled me so that I've managed to dig up some work for you every trip since." "Etc., Etc., Etc.—Praise and commendation galore. Not all the praise was "Sally" or "Jolly" either. The traveling man meant it and so did "Al" when he stated that he had a $5,000 cleaning plant, the liveliest, finest equipped, almost promptest cleaning plant in the entire glorious U. S. A. "All of which goes to show that you have at your fingers' ends, an institution that is a credit to Omaha." Dreshers are just now busy in making last year's clothes do duty this year; they are going to save Omahans hundreds of dollars through this operation, for every Omahian who has a last year's garment cleaned, pressed and re-rinsed at Dresher's Inimitable Plant will save find it necessary to buy a new garment this year. "Plenty good enough" is the universal expression of those who have Dreshers fix up their old duds. Remember the words of that traveling man, Dresher's Cleaning Plant has it over any other concern of the kind. "When all this sinks in Phone Tyan 245—that's Dresher's private exchange number—and tell Dreshers to send a man at once—Advertisement."

NOT ENOUGH

The higher we advance in civilization more investigating is required into new inventions and better sanitary methods. NOT ENOUGH will be told of Dr. Todd's teeth until every dentist in the United States and the public has investigated and found the great advantage in Dr. Todd's new sanitary porcelain teeth. "Mr. H. D. Rogers said today: "After wearing four sanitary bridges for six months I can't say enough good about your teeth. I have found this out, since having the old teeth removed and new sanitary teeth put in." Dr. Todd will stay in the practice of dentistry for many years and his agents will advertise and sell the new teeth. Come in and investigate. DR. G. W. TODD 403-495-491-489-507 Brandeis Building.

Great Inventions of the Day

The last ten years have seen some great inventions perfected, none, however, more than the Typewriter. We are able today to show the most wonderful product of the typewriter industry—the CORONA folding typewriter, weight six pounds. Formerly typewriters were heavy and cumbersome. Their weight prohibited their being carried. The CORONA overcomes this disadvantage entirely. It has all the features of the larger machines without their bulkiness.

You cannot appreciate this wonderful typewriter unless you see it—and that's what you should do at the earliest possible moment. If you cannot call, phone us and we will send one of our representatives with a CORONA and demonstrate it to you. We'll put our time against yours and show one of the wonders of modern times. We want a few more live agents in unallotted territory. Write us for our agency proposition.

Central Typewriter Exchange, Inc.

307-309 South 17th St. Phone Douglas 4121. NOTE: We have taken a number of good second hand machines of different makes in exchange for the CORONA. These we have thoroughly overhauled and we offer them at very low prices. Investigate. We doubtless have just what you want.
