YOUNG WOMEN'S BUILDING AT FAIR NOW UNDER WAY

Ground has been broken for the Young Women's Christian association building on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International exposition. Prominent men and women workers from all parts of the country had a part in the services. The site is one of the most attractive and desirable on the exposition grounds, inside the floral wall and to the left of the main entrance at Scott street, with an outlook to the west on the great Palace of Horticulture to the east Festival hall, the beautiful South Gardens bordering it on the north. Lecture and assembly hall, rest rooms, quick lunch, dining, and ballroom, and motion picture theaters where films showing association work all over the world are for free use of members and their friends. The $25,000 members have all been invited.

War Not Affecting Panama Exposition

Of the thirty-eight nations that have agreed to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition, only three are among those now engaged in war, according to Garner Curran, deputy to the commissioner of the Panama-Pacific exposition for the World Insurance congress in Omaha. From this he went on to show that the war would not really affect the exposition to any great extent. "England and Germany never agreed to participate," he said. "Spain has come since the outbreak of the war and it has doubled its space."

EUROPEAN BUILDINGS AT FAIR WAIT END OF WAR

Harry Snyder, chief clerk to General Manager Walters of the Northwestern, is home from the Pacific coast. Relative to the western fruit crop, Mr. Snyder asserts that the yield of citrus fruit is going to be that of most former years, and that the quality gives promise of being perfect.
While in San Francisco Mr. Snyder visited the exposition grounds and ascertained that finishing of the buildings is progressing rapidly. However, the buildings that were to have been erected by the countries of Europe now engaged in war are at a standstill. Work on them had been commenced, and some were pretty well along toward completion. Now work has ceased and the general opinion is that nothing more will be done upon them unless the war should suddenly end.

MORE MAGNATES ACCEPT INVITATION TO COME

Another fresh list of acceptances has arrived in the mail at the Bureau of Publicity from base ball magnates all over the country who say they will be here for the meeting of the base ball leagues in November. Among those who have recently expressed their intention of being here are Charles Cline of Clinton, Ill., president of the Illinois and Missouri leagues; W. F. King, Adrian, Mich.; Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn, Mike J. Finn of the Southern league, T. C. Hayden of Webb City, Mo.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, Tenn.; M. E. Cantillon of Minneapolis, John Burmeister, president of the Northern league, and Miller Huggins of the St. Louis Nationals.

A Spendthrift WON'T Have His Clothes Cleaned

Your real, out and out Spendthrift says: "Oh, what's the use of having last year's clothes cleaned up. I'll buy NEW ones!"

That's all right if you feel that way—and have money to throw away—but most of us are not overburdened with money and WILL have our last year's winter clothes cleaned, dyed, pressed and generally altered if assured that the job will come out nicely.

To the sensible ones (those who are not weighted down with surplus money) Dreshers' $57,000 plant will prove a haven of economy. Dreshers will create a series of surprises with your last winter's garments—they will re-style—re-make—clean—dye—and press them so that the wearer really FEELS as though he is wearing new clothes.

Search Lights Able to Follow Airships Through London Fog

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Tests over London last night proved that searchlights can detect a Zeppelin even in a foggy weather. Incidentally the populace derive great amusement from the experiments.
It was the first foggy night of last month—not a thick pea-soup fog such as November and December bring, but a very marked fog. The British airship, which has been making experimental flights over London by day and by night the last fortnight, made her appearance at dusk and sailed over the city for several hours. Searchlights were trained from several strategic points and they managed to follow it wherever it went. Much of the time there were two shafts playing on the big brown sausage shaped craft, and they kept it in sight when it dropped down near the roofs of high buildings and followed its upward course and its sudden turns and windings. Many thousands of people were out on the streets gazing on the spectacle.
It has been believed that the Zeppelins will choose a foggy day for a raid on London, if they attempt such a hazardous exploit, just as the British flying men took advantage of a thick mist for their flights across Belgium into Germany, when bombs were dropped on Dusseldorf, and by mistake on Maastricht in Holland.
Every preparation has been made to give the Zeppelins a warm reception if they invade English air. Aeroplanes fully equipped for fighting are kept in reserve and could be launched like fire engines on the stroke of the bell, if alarm of an approaching Zeppelin is sent out.
The cost of the precautions against Zeppelins is heavy, but it must be balanced by the economy in street lighting. Old residents say that London at night these days reminds them of the old town before the advent of electricity when gas lights struggled against the gloom. Certainly two-thirds of the electric lights in the most populated districts are out of commission.

ALL WOMEN TAXPAYERS AND MOTHERS CAN VOTE

Two women asked County Assessor Counsman Monday to enter their names on his lists as taxpayers in order to become qualified voters for the school board election.
According to employes in the county assessor's office prospective women voters often tender money to them in the belief that payment of voting tax is necessary. This is not the case, there being only one requirement for women voters. They must be taxpayers in their own name or mothers of children of school age.
The tax lists will be kept open all this week in order to allow women ample opportunity to become qualified as voters.

Stop Those Early Bronchial Coughs.

They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens and phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cantonment, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. Wants others to know of Foley's Honey and Tar. All dealers everywhere.—Advertisement.

Efficient Employees

An advertisement under The Bee's "Help Wanted" heading commands the attention of the most desirable workers in Omaha. Every employer is up against the problem of securing intelligent and efficient employes, but a few moments thought given to writing the right kind of a "Help Wanted" advertisement will be a big step toward solving the problem. The nature of employment offered, conditions surrounding the position, the opportunities, etc, should be stated. An employer will find that a response to an ad that is really informative will be from a worker who means business.
