MARANVILLE'S PLAY STOPS IT Visiting Hurrier Begins to Tetter in Final Frame After Pitching Contest Unsurpassed in Championship Play in Philly.

Boston ... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 Philadelphia ... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—In a pitchers' battle with a dramatic climax usually reserved for base ball fiction, the Boston Nationals defeated the Philadelphia Americans here today in the second game of the world's series by a score of 1 to 0.

Battle Even Eight Frames. Although the American league representatives were forced to bow, for the second time in two days, to the superior play of their National league rivals, they offered a far more determined opposition than was the case on Friday.

For eight innings the two clubs battled behind the pitching of James and Plank without the semblance of an advantage. Then came the break in the game and once again the Machmen saw another world's series contest slip from their clutches to the credit of the Stallings clan.

Break in Ninth. James had been pitching unhit table ball and Plank, while not quite as effective, had, with the aid of his remarkable in-field, held Boston scoreless. The Athletics' veteran twirler was working as smoothly as at the beginning of the game when Maranville faced him at the opening of the ninth inning.

It was Deal, however, who upset Plank's expectation and the Athletics chances. He drove a long double over Strunk's head and a moment later stole third when Schang threw low to Barry to catch Deal off the base.

Whether Baker was not close enough in the bag or Barry believed it was too late to head off the runner is not known. James fanned, but Mann lifted a levelling Texas leauser over Eddie Collins' head and although the latter made a great try for the ball, he just touched it with his finger tips and sprawled in the turf.

The Athletics replied with a great rally in the half of the ninth and James, who had carried the game on his shoulders alone up to this point, began to totter. The thousands of rosters for the home club were stamping, cheering and clapping in unison and Barry waited patiently until James passed him to first. Schang fanned, but Walsh, batting for Plank, also was walked by the rattled pitcher.

With almost the same motion he snapped the ball to Schmidt at first for a double on Murphy and a second later went down in a cloud of dust as Walsh crashed into him at top speed.

This electrifying play came at a most opportune and dramatic moment for James had begun to falter after pitching a game which for skill and control has never been surpassed in a world's series match in this city, not even in the twirling duels in which Christy Mathewson, "Chief" Bender and Plank have figured. The Boston boxman had perfect control, change of pace and a splitter that broke like forked lightning.

The day was built for base ball. The sun dried up the moist clouds during the morning and shone brilliantly on the soft greens of the field. An August temperature presaged a good work-out of the players in practice and a fast fielding game.

Manager Stallings had his reversible outfield working out at the bat, so he could shift his back fielders in case a left-hander pitcher was sent in by the Athletics. Mann was ready to replace Moran in right and Cathers to take Connolly's place in left should Manager Mack send Plank to the box.

The Athletics evidently expected the big right-hander, James, would pitch for Boston, for after a left-hander, Davies, had served a few bells to the home batsmen, John Coombs took his place. For Boston, Cottrill, a southpaw, pitched in practice and the visitors sent drive after drive to the far gardens. Both innings worked smoothly and imaginary double plays, turned with lightning rapidity, brought cheer from the stands.

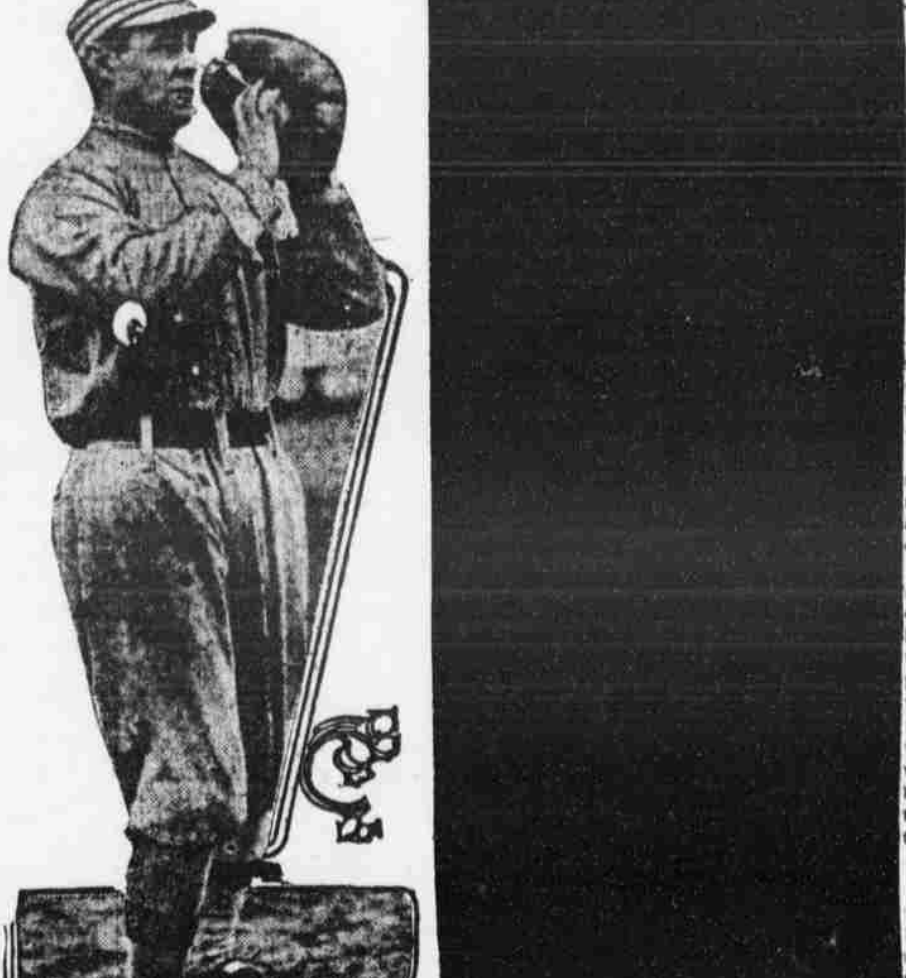

Play by Innings. Boston—Plank's first serve was a ball, the curve breaking wide of the plate. The next one came over for a strike.

play on the runner. Evers scratched an infield single which Plank could not get in time to make the throw. Cathers fanned on three pitched balls. Whitted walked. Plank making a kick when Hildebrand called the last pitch a ball. Schmidt filed out to Strunk. No runs, one hit, no errors. Philadelphia—Big James sent up an inshoot which was too low. His second one was a strike. Murphy walked. James got himself in a hole on the batter by trying to keep the ball on the corners of plate.

Second Inning. Boston—Gowdy was given a bid hand when he came to bat. Plank fooled him on the first one with a slow curve. Gowdy walked. Plank was unable to control his wide curve. The Bostonians had hit speed yesterday and Plank was now feeding them on curves. Maranville sacrificed. Baker to Melanck. Plank fanned. Deal's smash and tossed to Baker, who threw to Collins, who touched Gowdy as he tried to slide back to second. Deal stole second. He was almost caught between the bases, but Schang's throw was a little wide, so that Melanck was not in position to throw to second, but Barry saved him an error with a high jumping catch. James fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning. Boston—Barry threw out Mann. It was a slow roller and Barry only got the ball after a hard run. His snap throw had Mann by a few feet at the bag. Evers struck solidly to center, after having two singles called on him. It was his second hit. Evers was almost picked off first by Schang, but Minnis dropped the ball. Cathers out on a fly to Baker. Evers tried to steal, but Whitted fouled off the ball. Evers out stealing. Schang to Collins. It was a pitch out and Evers was caught ten feet off the bag. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning. Boston—Whitted filed to Strunk. Schmidt smashed a single to right field after the count on him was 3 and 2. Gowdy out on a fly to Murphy. Maranville singled to right, Schmidt going to second. Barry made a wonderful stab of Deal's high bouncer and touched second, forcing Maranville. The blow was almost a sure hit on which Schmidt could have easily scored. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—James took Murphy's weak smash and threw him out. Oldring could not fathom James' speed and struck out on three straight strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Morty Graves, for many years the star motorcycle rider of the country, came into his own yesterday at the Stadium Speedway and topped two races. It was the first time Morty had won a race on the local track, as M-Niel and Fleckenstein, with their Cyclones, had been consistently triumphing him. Morty won a match race and then led the field home in the free-for-all finale.

Suddeth and Graves put up a nifty conflict in the free-for-all. Graves took the lead at the start and held it for half a dozen laps with Suddeth trailing close behind.

McNeil won one match race from Fleckenstein and Graves, but his motor went bad and he lost to Graves once and dropped out in the free-for-all. Fleck has sent his Cyclone to St. Paul for repairs. It mysteriously broke last Tuesday and Larry was unable to remedy it himself.

Suddeth won the two French point races easily. He took the lead and held it both times to the finish. In the third French point race his engine went bad and he was forced to drop out just before the start.
