CHRISTMAS ship gifts for the suffering children in the war zone of Europe must be sent to The Bee office by Friday morning. People are responding most generously to this great opportunity to help send a bit of cheer to what will probably be one of the saddest Christmas times ever known in Europe.

A few letters have been received from the front, and the scenes must be pathetic and heart rending.

Interesting letters have been received by Mrs. H. K. Morton from her daughter, Miss Gladys Morton, who has been a graduate nurse in the American hospital in Neuilly, France, for two years. She is now on duty in the ambulance division, or emergency ward, where as many as 200 wounded soldiers are received in one day. Miss Morton writes that the suffering is heartbreaking, as most of the men had no attention after the "first aid" dressing until they reach the hospital, four or five days later. The nurses stay on duty from fifteen to nineteen hours out of the twenty-four.

Mrs. Morton also has a brother who is probably at the front, since he sailed from Quebec in a Canadian regiment, September 26.

ANTIS MEET AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. George Asserts Suffrage Adopting Vicious Methods.

OBJECTS TO STREET TALKS

Says the Anti Suffrage are Full of Women Who See Wage Earners—One Out of Five in General Pursuits.

"I am appalled to see decent women in suffrage campaign stating adopting vicious methods that even politicians have discarded as being no longer effective. Yet suffragists say they will purify politics. If such libelous attacks on the personal character of women as have been made on anti-suffragists are occasioned when the disagreement is only as to suffrage, to what length might it not grow?" So said Mrs. A. J. George of Boston, anti-suffrage speaker, who was honor guest at a large luncheon given at the Loyal hotel yesterday noon, over which Mrs. Henry W. Yates, presided.

Mrs. George also objected very strongly to the methods of publicity practiced by the suffragists, especially in their street meetings. "I do not believe that any woman should address a street meeting and be forced to raise her voice to a scream as she goes down the street. At the same time, Mr. George said that she thought perhaps the anti-suffrage would be forced to resort to street meetings to counteract the effect of the suffrage street meetings. "People ask us why we bother with the suffrage campaign; that we don't have to go to the polls if we don't wish to. We, however, abhor some of the suffrage ideals and will be forced to go to the polls, if suffrage wins, in order to register our protest against their measures without the ballot."

Mrs. George's talk was principally along the lines of "What Women Can Do Without the Ballot." She said that women could do more by rousing public opinion than by voting and said that no suffrage state has instituted reform measures that have not been legislated in male suffrage state.

Anti do not say that woman's place is in the home, but they do say that her greatest efficiency and power for good is in the home. Do not pay any attention to the suffragists who tell you that it is only the society women who oppose suffrage. The enormous membership lists of anti-suffrage wage-earning women leagues is proof that the working women do not want the ballot. And even if they did, there is only one woman out of five in this country who is engaged in a fruitful pursuit, we must consider what will be the effect of suffrage on all the rest of the women in the home."

FRANK BURMAN VISITS HERE AFTER NINE-YEAR ABSENCE

Frank Burman, once member of the legislature from Douglas county, is visiting in Omaha after nine years' absence. He is located at Spokane, where he has been for a number of years, and is now secretary and manager of the insurance department of the Colonial Building company. He is one of the organizers of the Scandinavian Brotherhood of America, a fraternal organization, whose interests he is trying to promote.

"Omaha has improved wonderfully since I was here last," says Mr. Burman, "and it is good to meet so many of my old friends as I go along the street. I have gotten along nicely in Spokane, except that I lost my wife last summer, who died under sad circumstances. I am taking a vacation and, incidentally, will try to establish local lodges of the Scandinavian Brotherhood here and in St. Paul and Minneapolis before I go back."

DAHLMAN IS HONORARY MEMBER SPANISH WAR VETS

Lee Forby camp No. 1 United Spanish War Veterans, at its regular meeting, held in Memorial hall at the court house, elected Mayor Dahlman to honorary membership by unanimous vote. He will be given the obligation at the seventh annual ball of the camp, to be given in the Douglas auditorium on October 23. The proceeds of the ball are to be set aside to build a memorial to the soldier dead of the camp.

Exhibit at Orchard & Winheim's

Information that is both instructive and interesting is being gained by hundreds during the educational exposition at the big furniture store. People like to see how things are made and such exhibits as the making of willow furniture, box springs and upholstered furniture are attracting much attention. The gift carnival feature adds the zest of chance to every visit, and an afternoon spent in this beautiful store passes quickly.

All Given Cheerfully.

The following letter from Otto Abrahamson of Minden, dated October 21, is characteristic of many that are being received by the children of Sacred Heart school for the Christmas ship edit:

and crates for the long trip to Europe. Motor trucks for this service have been provided by the David Cole Creamery company, A. Hoppe, Schmoller & Stuller, McCord-Bradley company, Burgess-Nash company, Overland Motor company, Alameda Dairy company, Omaha Electric Light and Power company, Omaha Transfer company and Thomas Kilpatrick & Co. Many other firms generously offered to assist in this work, and may yet be called on to do so.

Pupils Respond Freely.

Among other things, the Omaha High school students for the first day's return, contributed $17 in cash for the Christmas ship. Some of the other schools have raised sums in cash, all of which will be expended under the direction of a committee of principals, to be chosen by Superintendent Gratt.

Some of the railroad and express agents in the smaller towns seem to be confused as to the matter of sending in goods and packages free of charge. The general freight agents in Omaha say the matter is covered by a special order, and that no charges are to be made for the handling of any of these goods.

It's a Standing Order.

Assistant General Freight Agent Malcolm of the Missouri Pacific says that every agent of the company knows, or should know, that there is a general rule that goods for charitable purposes are transported free of charge and are thus to be accepted from the consignee. If an agent is in doubt at any time, it is his duty to wire the general, or assistant general agent of his division for instructions. The instructions that would go back would be to accept and forward the consignments.

Last week General Freight Agent Tuttle of Chicago by letter notified all general and all division freight agents of the Burlington system to accept, bill and transport free of charge all packages offered as consignments to go on the Christmas ship, these officers in turn to notify company agents.

Ladies Get Big Returns.

Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Orlitt, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Naah and Mrs. Dietz all report splendid response to their appeals, and each says she has a wonderful collection of gifts, and more coming in all the time. Quite a sum in cash has been turned over to these ladies, and they will expand it for suitable articles to go on the Christmas ship.

A Wish for Peace.

The York Woman's Department club writes that its box of gifts will be here Friday, and "besides the gifts, the box is weighted with wishes for peace on earth that such help may not be needed," signed by Mrs. E. E. Welch, president.

Father P. J. Judge sent a check for $1.50 to the Christmas Ship Editor of The Bee, representing money which had been donated by the children of Sacred Heart school, of which he is the pastor.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church brought in $10 as the gift of that organization to the Christmas ship fund. "May God bless all the donors and all who receive the donations is my prayer," writes Mrs. Joseph Davidson of Verdigris, Neb., in sending a money order for $2.50 for herself and children.

From Schuyler comes $1 with this note: "A wee little boy wants you to buy with this some toy that will gladden the heart of another nice boy at Christmas tide. God's blessing surely rests with the Christmas ship and its precious cargo."
