MRS. A. J. GEORGE, the anti-suffrage speaker who was entertained at a large luncheon Thursday at the Loyal hotel, tells an amusing story of the girl students at Radcliffe college.

"Not long ago a suffrage club was formed at Radcliffe and the suffragists paraded their yellow ribbons and 'votes for women' buttons. Shortly afterwards, an anti-suffrage club was formed and the old rose and black ribbons and American beauty roses were very much in evidence. Both clubs had an equal membership, but feeling ran very high.

"Then one of the students, a very bright, witty young lady, announced that she would organize an 'On-the-Fence' club. She gathered a number of fellow students about her and they displayed dainty feminine banners of pink and blue, and laid so much stress on their alluring femininity and the good times they were having by not bothering their pretty heads on either side of the question that the 'On-the-Fence' club soon outnumbered both the other clubs put together."

Dr. J. J. Foster Defends Position on School Board

OMAHA, Oct. 23.—To the Editor of The Bee: As a candidate for re-election on the school board, I have been subjected to unfair and unfounded charges in certain public prints, which I ask you to permit me to answer.

In one of these articles reference is made to a $20,000 annual deficit. Every reporter on your paper knows, and every citizen can easily inform himself, as to my record on the board in the matter of handling the school financials, from my first year of service. I have always stood for economy as far as it was consistent with progress. I have voted against many expenditures that I deemed unnecessary or unwise at the risk of personal criticism, although I have never placed the dollar before the child.

In regard to the Rumsel case, and the dismissal and demotion of teachers, I wish to say that the board is being unfairly and falsely accused. Most of the criticisms are made by people who have been misinformed as to the real facts of the case. I was out of the city when the vote was taken which exonerated Mr. Rumsel, but had I been present I should have so voted, since no evidence was brought out at the hearing or the trial which at all proved the charges brought against him. Every one who knows me personally knows that if any real evidence had been produced, proving the charges made against Mr. Rumsel, I should have been among the first to vote against him. I make no defense ever for any man or woman whom I am convinced has done wrong.

When I returned home, the final decision having been made, I, as chairman of the teachers' committee, was confronted with the duty of reorganizing the teaching force, so as to remove all discord and produce a harmonious working force. Everyone will readily see the need of such harmony. Nothing can be more harmful to a school system than unfounded malicious attacks. The only possible solution was to discover the ones who had been the chief disturbers and remove them. I ask any business man what he would do with a similar situation among his working force. If any of the voters sincerely question why some teachers were demoted, I shall be glad to explain personally.

In regard to the dismissal of Miss Steger, she has been for some time a disturbing element. She had shown a spirit of hostility and insubordination toward all school officials ever here. I consider one of the essential qualifications of a teacher to be co-operation. I know of no school board that would retain such a teacher. I believe that every teacher on the force who is familiar with the facts, approves the action of the board. Contrary to common opinion, Miss Steger had practically no evidence to offer at the Rumsel investigation, and I shall be glad to show anyone who questions that statement a verbatim report of her testimony verified by the district court reporter who took the testimony. Had she any evidence to offer, she should have given it when every opportunity was given. I confess I was surprised that a woman with Miss Steger's reputation for justice and Christian charity would repeat such unfounded slanderous tales which are bound to bring ruin and sorrow into a home. Such accusations should be made only upon convincing evidence, and I have known Miss Steger personally and have been for some time associated in the same church with her, so had absolutely no personal prejudice against her, or no personal prejudice in favor of Mr. Rumsel and no personal object to gain. Therefore, I could not have voted in a "spirit of petty revenge."

It seems passing strange that a reputable citizen of Omaha, discharging an important trust from his highest sense of duty and at the sacrifice of much valuable time and money, should be maligned and abused, while those who sought to bring disgrace upon others without any real evidence, should be accepted as martyrs in a holy cause.

I have no apologies to offer for any of my official actions, but I do ask that the facts be known before judgment is passed.

JOHN J. FOSTER.

Political Parties Not Involved in the Election of Judges

Apparent misunderstanding on the part of voters of the non-partisan judiciary ballot has caused the election commissioner to issue an explanatory statement setting forth that the question of party is not involved in the vote for one district judge and county clerk at the approaching election. County Judge Crawford and his opponent are both republicans, while District Judge English and J. H. Grosman, his opponent, are both democrats.

JUDGE BRITT DECLARES WAR ON THE DOPE FIENDS

Fifteen cocaine fiends arrested Thursday night by the police were given short shrift by Acting Police Magistrate Britt. Lately, auto owners have been complaining of the theft of tools, accessories and other articles from machines left downtown, and in most cases the thieves have been traced to drug fiends, who sell their loot for a few cents in order to buy cocaine. In several instances these drug-insane men have worked $100 worth of damage in order to obtain a few nickels.

"I'm going to give you thirty days apiece in the county jail, and I'm going to see that you serve every day of it. Furthermore, every dope fiend that appears before me and is known as an old timer, will get a double dose."

Cottage Evaporated Milk

Sterilized Unsweetened

For Every Cooking Purpose

Whether for cakes, puddings, custards, cream soups or gravies—wherever you have been using bottle milk or cream—you can get better results with Cottage Milk.

It is more economical than bottle milk—every drop can be used. It is always on your shelf ready for use so you don't have to plan your cooking and baking a day ahead.

It is good to the last drop. In bottle milk the richness goes into the cream which is generally used for coffee or cereals while the blue milk is used in baking and cooking. And this blue milk hasn't the proper food value to insure satisfactory and uniform results. With Cottage Milk you can use part of it full strength for cream and dilute the rest for cooking purposes and always have the proper food value.

Cottage Milk is of the highest quality and uniformity at all times. Our policy of selling direct from the Condenseries to the grocer insures your getting it always fresh. Order a supply today.

Once you learn the quality, convenience and economy of Cottage Milk you'll never go back to bottle milk.
