

TRYON'S DEFENDERS LAUDED AS HEROES

Garrison of Four Hundred Defies Germans, Though Half Are Buried Alive in Ruins.

REFUSE DEMAND TO SURRENDER

"Never," is Reply to Invaders Who Threaten to Reduce Ports to Cinders with Their Big Guns.

(Copyright, 1914, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 23.—(Special Cablegram to New York World and Omaha Bee)—It has already been related how gallantly little Fort Tryon defied the Germans on the Meuse, but it is only just being realized what a service its garrison rendered the allied forces.

For five days 60 of them kept 10,000 Germans at bay, notwithstanding the awful pounding from the terrible guns that gave the death blow to Liege, Namur and other strongholds.

After two days' bombardment, the enemy tried to carry the fort. They got within ten yards, but fell in such numbers they had to withdraw. The next day they summoned the garrison to surrender.

"Never," was the reply. "We shall shell you with our heavy guns until you and your fort are but a heap of cinders," came the retort.

They almost succeeded in carrying out this threat before relief came. When the siege was raised, practically nothing was left of the fort, while over half its defenders had been buried alive in its ruins.

The captain in command was wounded in twenty-eight places and his lieutenant had his leg blown away. The governor of Verdun came in person to congratulate the garrison on its magnificent feat, and ever since a stream of generals and other officers from all sides has come to see the damage done. Every regiment that passes has orders to halt and render the garrison all military honors. The defenders are lauded with presents in recognition of their heroic defense.

Geneva Committee Acts as Clearing House of War News

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PARIS, Oct. 23.—The Geneva committee organized to centralize and assure the exchange of information regarding prisoners of war is receiving more than 2,000 inquiries a day by letter, in addition to many telegrams.

Requests for information have been received from M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, concerning his son, wounded near Nancy and picked up by the Germans; from Sir Edward Grey, English foreign minister, concerning his nephew; Princess of Saxe-Meininingen, of whose death she had not been informed through German channels; from the rector of the university of Munich concerning his son, a prisoner in England.

A German general, unable to do so himself, begged the committee to send good news to the wife of a French colonel, a prisoner at Karlsruhe.

The Paris papers are also serving as a sort of clearing house for information concerning families and friends dispersed as the result of the exodus from the north of France on the approach of the Germans.

Some of the papers are carrying pages of these inquiries and it has been proposed to organize a committee similar to the Geneva committee to take charge of them.

English Army Mail Delivered Quickly

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—Thousands of letters and cards postmarked "Army Base Post-office" and bearing a circular mark in red, which means approved by censor, are now being received daily. The promptness of the delivery is in striking contrast to the slow mailing of commercial mail and a tribute to the completeness and efficiency of the British army equipment.

Every command in the battle line has its field postoffice tent, containing collapsible sorting racks, folding table, letter box, mail bags and other necessary paraphernalia, with an attachment of the army postoffice corps in charge.

The army postoffice corps is made up of the London postoffice employees enrolled in the territorial or militia. In the Egyptian campaign of 1907 the corps first saw service, consisting then of 100 men and two officers. During the South African war the force was increased to 48 officers and men, of whom several were killed in action, while fifty died of disease. Its record week at that time was the distributing of 33,416 letters and 19,619 parcels and the dispatching of 108,109 letters and packets.

SON OF FRENCH MINISTER NIPPED BY GERMAN SQUAD

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) BERLIN, Oct. 1.—It was recently reported by cable that a son of M. Delcasse, the French minister, had been wounded and had fallen into the hands of the Germans. A letter of a soldier at the front tells how his capture occurred.

On morning a German patrol of three men entered a village near the river Meuse to discover whether it was occupied by the French. They had hardly entered a school house when the leader, looking out of a window, saw a French patrol of ten men coming down the village street. Taking their positions at the windows the three Germans opened such a hot fire upon the French party that eight of them were killed before they could receive from the position caused by this sudden attack. The Germans were surprised to find that the sublieutenant, the commander of the French patrol, who fell wounded into their hands, was the son of Delcasse. The young man, who is only about 26 years old, was brought to a hospital at Merseburg in central Germany. His wounds are not dangerous, although he was shot through both thighs.

AVIATORS SPOIL MANY MANEUVERS

French Airman Tells How He Directed Shot that Destroyed Division.

SAVING OF POWDER RESULTS

Without Their Guidance Much Ammunition Would Be Wasted—Prevent Sunday Attack on Paris by Daring.

"In honor of my cross, I set out and spotted some German guns so well that our batteries were able to knock out half of them.

"I have been working with the artillery since the beginning of September. One day I succeeded in surprising a German division sneaking up to steal a march on us. They were well within range of our guns, to whom I signalled. Five minutes afterwards that division was nothing but a heap of mangled corpses. We came upon them the next day as our men advanced and counted more than 4,000 killed.

"I don't know what our gunners would do without the help of aviators. Minus the aeroplanes, most of the time they would be simply wasting time and ammunition, whereas we are able to regulate their shots to a hair's breadth."

Paris has just learned, the correspondent continues, that it was only saved another Sunday raid owing to the ceaseless patrol by airmen. They had a terrible time, for at the height they patrolled they were blinded by terrific hail and snowstorms or else were obliged to grope their way through a thick fog.

It says much for the stubbornness of the Germans appointed to worry Paris, that notwithstanding the conditions they set out according to schedule. They were signalled as far away as Compiegne. When they saw the preparations made to meet them they turned tail.

The Paris patrol was kept up till night and one aeroplane barely escaped colliding with the Sacre Coeur cathedral by a yard or two, having lost its bearings in a fog.

THOMAS ATKINS DEMANDS JAM AS CAMPAIGN FOOD

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—The call for contributions of jam, which is made by certain British war relief societies backed by the press, may lead strangers to believe that Thomas Atkins is the most pampered of fighting men. But this is not true, since the hard Egyptian campaign of 1984 proved that jam is not a luxury, but a necessary preventive of scurvy. Millions of pounds of jam were consumed by the British troops in the Boer war, and the army in France has been kept well supplied with it in the present campaign.

The British soldier is the best fed in Europe. A force of 500,000 men is given four months' rations on this scale: 24,000,000 pounds of hard bread, 15,000,000 pounds of beef, 1,600,000 pounds of compressed vegetables, 720,000 tins of condensed milk, 500,000 pounds of salt, 500,000 pounds of coffee and 400,000 pounds of tea, 40,000 gallons of rum, 44,000 bottles of port and 24,000 bottles of whisky and 4,500,000 tins of jam of one pound each.

Among the miscellaneous stores used at the front are tons of alum for purifying water, chloride of lime and carbolic acid disinfectants. Hay, oats and bran are also furnished on a generous scale for the horses and mules.

HOSTILE FOREIGNERS IN GERMANY RETURN HOME

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—English and Russian civilians caught in the German and Austrian health resorts at the outbreak of the war are now allowed to return to their own countries, excepting able-bodied men of military age. Few restrictions are placed on alien enemies remaining there, who are allowed to travel short distances and to remain outdoors until 9 o'clock at night, which is the curfew hour.

These are the conditions reported by a member of the American Women's Relief committee of London, who has just taken over a party of German girls from England, returning with English girls from Germany and Austria. She also says that food seems plentiful in the places visited and life quite normal. The opera season is on in Frankfurt.

A cheer followed the general's peroration.
