CARNEGIE AWARDS MEDALS

His Hero Fund Commission Gives Out Honors to Various Persons. OHIO GETS MOST OF THEM

State Famous for Its Presidents Receives Nineteen Out of the Sixty-Nine Acts of Heroism Recognized.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 30.—Ohio has a fine record as a mother of heroes, as well as presidents, according to the awards of medals made by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission here today. In all, sixty-nine acts of heroism are recognized, nineteen to the credit of Ohio men and boys. This is more than twice as many as appear for any other state, Michigan having nine, and the others scattered among nineteen states.

March 25 and 26, 1913, were the great hero-making days, twenty-one of the heroic acts in the list given out having been recalled from those days of flood along the Ohio and its tributaries. In all fifteen silver medals and fifty-four bronze medals are awarded. Thirteen of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of ten of these pensions or sums of money to be applied, subject to the discretion of the commission, are granted. In fifty cases sums aggregating over $600 are appropriated for education, purchase of homes or other worthy purposes that may be approved by the commission.

Six Heroines on List. There are six heroines: Margaret Guy, aged 16, of South Boston, Mass., who saved a lad three years her senior from drowning; Mary Allen of Big Rapids, Mich., who rescued two girls from drowning in Rose lake, LeRoy, Mich.; Sophia Thomas of Newry, S. C., who rescued a girl from a rabid dog; Phoebe Briggs, a Vassar college girl, who saved three college mates from drowning; Mrs. Lillian M. Coburn, who saved two men from burning at Susquihanna, Cal., and Frances Spanke, a 14-year-old girl of Hartman, Ark., who lost her own life in saving another girl from being killed by a train.
