Russia to Turn Attention Now Toward South

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Post says: "The rapidity of the movement on the battlefields in Poland has been unequalled since the days of Napoleon. Deducing the time spent in actual fighting, the Russian pursuit has been pressed for more than a week at a rate averaging fourteen miles per day over the Polish roads, which are very heavy after the rainy season. "There is believed to be no doubt that the Germans in their retreat passed Czestochowa without stopping. The troops of this column which apparently were marching in good order, were probably the first line of the German divisions extracted from the disastrous fighting in Poland at the cost of the reserve troops and the allied Austrians. "Similar tactics seem to have been employed on other points, with the object of preserving the best troops. This would appear to indicate that the Germans have given up their Russian adventure and will once more concentrate against France and Great Britain in Belgium. "The correspondent continues: "Grand Duke Nicholas' reference in dispatches announcing his victory, to the new task of opening a new period of the war, means, if I am not mistaken, that Russia will now turn her main attention toward the settlement of the eastern question. This means, first and foremost, the breaking up of Austria-Hungary, followed by the expulsion of the Turk from Europe and possibly the reconstruction of a new Armenia among other rearrangements of the Balkan states. No Russian doubts that Constantinople is the natural capital of the Russian empire and no sacrifice will be thought to great for the attainment of this historical goal."

X-RAY PHOTOS IN DAMAGE SUIT AMUSE THE JURORS

Involved hypothetical questions put to Dr. A. F. Tyler, a physician and X-ray specialist, and frequent wrangles between Attorneys John A. More and J. C. Kinster, counsels for the parties to the suit, served to amuse the jury which is hearing the case of Peter Koran against the Cudahy Packing company. Several negatives of X-ray photographs were introduced in evidence by Dr. Tyler. Koran is suing for $20,000 damages for injuries which he alleges resulted from a fall he experienced in the pickling department of the Cudahy plant.

AUSTRIANS ANNOUNCE VICTORIES OVER SERVIANS

VIENNA (via Amsterdam), Nov. 9.—The following official statement was issued today: "In the southwestern war theater the battle on the whole front yesterday continued with undiminished force. In spite of the obstinate resistance of the enemy, entrenchment after entrenchment near Kroupna was taken, until 5 o'clock this morning, one of the strongest points, Kostanjik, which the Serbians believed unconquerable, was stormed by our troops. The number of prisoners and captured guns is not known."

Nebraska RUSH NOW ON FOR OFFICES

Many Members of Legislature Are in Speakership Race. GOVERNOR MOREHEAD BESIEGED

Hosts of Men, Both Applicants and Friends of Applicants, Pay Call Upon His Excellency in Hope of Giving Service to State.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—If newly elected democratic members of the legislature, or those who have been connected with former sessions, have not shed their hats in the speakership ring they have not made themselves known. If there are any former members who are not candidates for chief clerk at the coming session, they, too, have not come forward with a request to be remembered. Today the reception room of the executive offices was filled with candidates for office or with those who desire office for a friend. Governor Morehead saw them all, but there were no indications that the ear of the executive had been reached in the way the applicant desired. The governor is needed in a great many ways. Some of the jobs which come directly from the governor on account of changes in boards caused by the failure of republicans to land. Others desire the "inflorence" of the governor to land places in the legislature or with other state officers.

Pardon Board Application. E. G. Magel, present members of the State Pardon board, is not averse to putting in another three years. Judge W. H. England wants to be a member of the board. Judge England bases his claims to appointment on the fact that he was one of the men who influenced R. B. Howell to become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor after he had refused to do so. After Howell had refused the nomination the judge switched his support to Governor Morehead because of the attacks made on the letter by the republican state committee. The judge figures that Governor Morehead is under a double obligation to him, first, because he got Howell to run, and, second, because he did not support him afterwards, but did support Morehead.

Speakership Race. Besides the distinguished statesman and journalist, Colonel Henry C. Richmond of Omaha, who will be a candidate for speaker of the house, George Jackson of Nuckolls and G. W. Meredith of Ashland will be candidates for the speakership. It is also said that George W. Fuller of Seward will be a candidate. All four of these have served in former sessions, the first named as chief clerk, the rest as members.

For the chief clerkship there are three aspiring statesmen who have been connected with former sessions. Horace M. Davis of Ord would like to prepare the minutes of the session; John Washington McKissick, hero of the anti-university removal bill, a Gage county ex-member, and George Washington Potts, also prominent in two sessions, would like to be chief of the minutes men. E. E. Ridgell of Omaha, who failed to coincide with the views of Chief Clerk Richmond at the last session when he served as assistant to that gentleman, is also a candidate for chief clerk.

Over in the senate there is much quiet. Being the dignified body it is expected that there will be no wild scramble for the offices. H. M. Davis, who applies to be chief clerk of the house, may switch as a candidate for secretary of the senate. Mr. Davis served as an assistant at one session and knows something of the duties. For president of the senate Jack Grace of Mascot has been mentioned, while Edward E. Howell of Omaha is looked upon as good timber. Will Brookley of Edmar is another democrat who made a good presiding officer during the 1913 session and is among the "mentioned." Senator Robertson of Joy, who tried to abolish Nebraska's standing army at the last session, will also be a candidate.

Brought to Penitentiary. Sheriff F. O. Aaron of Scott's Bluff county brought in the penitentiary this morning two men. One of them was John Achsiger, sentenced to nineteen years for the murder of Jake Miller, and the other a Mexican named Fabian Suarez, sentenced to six to twelve months for carrying concealed weapons. The latter had once before been fined for the same offense. Calls on Governor. Congressman Asswell of Louisiana, elected to the lower house at the last election, called at the state house this morning and paid his compliments to Governor Morehead. The congressman is making a lecture tour in this part of the country.

State Board Gives Explanation of Its Crop Estimates

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—According to the estimates of the State Board of Agriculture, the average corn yield for Nebraska for 1914 was 25.36 bushels to the acre. The average price received by the farmer was found to be 21 cents a bushel. The government report deals with the Nebraska corn crop on a per cent basis. In the fall of 1913 the wheat and alfalfa acreage was increased in this state, while the corn acreage decreased. Reckoning on the per cent basis and allowing an increase in acreage, the government figured the acreage at 7,458,000 in the preliminary report. This estimate does not take into account the slump in this state which was a direct result of the dry weather of 1913. The assessors of the state reported an acreage of 6,530,078 to the State Board of Agriculture. This was taken from a census furnished by the farmers themselves in April, 1914. If the government experts find the yield per acre the same as reported by the crop correspondents of the State Board of Agriculture, the yield probably will be fixed at 190,000,000 bushels, or thereabouts, instead of the 165,539,957 bushels forecasted by the State Board of Agriculture. It is believed by many crop experts that the discrepancy lies in the high acreage assigned by the government. The federal figures show an actual increase of almost 1,000,000 acres over the acreage compiled by the state board, when it is well known that the alfalfa and wheat acreages caused a decrease.

In forty Nebraska counties the corn crop is valued at more than $1,000,000. Sixty counties—Antelope, Cumming, Knox, Lancaster, Platte and Saunders—have corn yield valued at more than $2,000,000. The crop in Custer county is valued at $3,348,000. The following counties had average yields of thirty-five bushels to the acre or over: Burt, Cass, Colfax, Cumming, Dodge, Douglas, Hamilton, Greeley, Nebraska, Polk, Scott's Bluff, Stanton, Thurston, Washington and York. In 1912 the corn yield in Nebraska was estimated at 154,375,786 bushels; in 1913, 90,299,366 bushels; and in 1914, 165,539,957 bushels.

Frank Gillian Is Instantly Killed in Upset Near Hartington. TWO OTHER MEN BADLY HURT

E. J. Holstrom and Harry Thompson of Wausa Are Injured—Car Turns Turtel on Sharp Curve on Hill. HARTINGTON, Neb., Nov. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Frank Gillian, a farmer living fourteen miles southwest of this city, is dead and E. J. Holstrom and Harry Thompson, tailors of Wausa, are badly hurt as a result of an automobile accident on the Burney hill, four miles southwest of town, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The men were coming down the hill on their way to this city when the car turned turtle on a sharp curve in the road. Gillian was killed instantly, having his neck broken. The other two men were seriously injured. The injured men were brought into town and taken to a doctor's office, and the county attorney and coroner went out after the body of the dead man and brought it to this city. Mr. Gillian leaves a wife and three children.

FALL FROM TRAIN PROVES FATAL TO DILLER FARMER

WILBER, Neb., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Jacob C. Lettman of Diller was killed Saturday evening by falling off a Burlington train three miles south of Crete. Saturday morning the train crew yesterday morning near the track. The coroner was called, but owing to the absence of the two train crews no verdict will be returned till some time today. It seems from what little information can be gathered that Lettman was hunched over between Crete and Milford and Saturday intended going home to Diller, and got on the step of the last car at Crete. The vestibule being closed he hung onto the hand rails as long as possible, and either dropped or jumped off, striking his head on the ties and being otherwise bruised about the body. The train crew of the passenger train did not see him hanging on the side, and it was not until his body was found yesterday morning that anything was known of the accident. He was 24 years old and married.

ALLEGED FORGER IS ARRESTED AT BEATRICE

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—A stranger, giving the name of C. W. Miller, was arrested last evening and lodged in the city jail on the charge of passing a forged check for $25 on E. Schickel, the shoeman, and a check for $15 on the Fair store. The checks were made payable to C. W. Miller, bore the signature of W. P. Carrithers, a farmer living near Beatrice, and were endorsed by C. W. Miller. Four forged checks, two for $16 and two for $18, were found on Miller's person when arrested. He is a man about 50 years of age, and stated that he had been working on a farm near Wilbur.

Nebraska BONDS OF BROTHERHOOD TO BE FORGED BY WAR

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—That despite the present war the time is not far off when the patriots will be able to bring the people of the world together in the bonds of brotherhood, was the assertion of John Wesley Hill, president of the International Peace Forum, New York City, in an address before the International Peace congress here tonight. "The effect of war is not at once apparent in all fighting forces," he said. "Some men come to the denial of all morality in war more slowly than others, but there is nothing more certain than that a prolonged and universal world war would, in time, obliterate civilization."

To Bee Readers

For the past several months we have been talking to you every day through our advertising columns about the real value and convenience of the service offered through Bee Want Ads and showing you just how to find, read and to take the best advantage of them.

To the average person, the want ad columns are a jumble of type, somewhat hard to read and to find whatever he may have some interest in. To those familiar with the various uses and arrangement of want ads, these columns are most accessible and convenient for hundreds of daily wants.

To make our want ad columns more convenient and popular, we have made many improvements, such as indexing the Business Chances columns alphabetically according to the names of business offered, classifying real estate ads according to location, etc., and in showing you these ads may be actually turned to profit and advantage to yourself.

That the volume of want ads has increased about 100% in the past few months, simply doubles the service to you and gives you twice as many chances of getting a satisfactory deal in each case.

It will pay well in the long run to form a habit of reading Bee Want Ads every day, just as you read the news columns or the display ads, "store news." You can't get much service in any other way. The Bee's Want Ad columns stand in a class by themselves.
