

FARRELL MAKES HIS REPORT

For the First Time This Year Makes Public His Draft List.

PLAYERS' CLAIMS ALLOWED

Pa Bourke to Pay Salary of Four Players Who Were Here for Short Time in Spring—Cook Awarded to Omaha.

The report of Secretary John H. Farrell was read at the convention Tuesday afternoon and accepted. The report was the thirtieth annual report of the secretary. The most important part of the report was the draft list. For the first time this year the official draft list was made public.

The list is as follows:

National League.

- By Cincinnati from Winnipeg—$ 500
By St. Louis from Victoria—Steele, 1,200
By St. Louis from Syracuse—North, 1,300
By Chicago from Medicine Hat—Buckley, 500
By Chicago from South Bend—Schorr, 750
By Chicago from Saginaw—Robbins, 750
By Chicago from San Francisco—Staudridge, 2,500
By Chicago from Toronto—Fisher, 2,500
By Chicago from Indianapolis—Adams, 2,500
By Chicago from Buffalo—McConnell (subject to investigation), 2,500
By Pittsburgh from Harrisburg—Adams, 1,300
By Pittsburgh from Sioux City—Murphy, 1,500
By Pittsburgh from Ludington—Altenberg, 500
By Pittsburgh from Denver—Coffey, (subject to investigation), 1,500
By New York from Sacramento—Stead, 2,500
By New York from Portland, Ore.—Korea, 2,500
By New York from Middletown, N. Y.—Seull, 500
By New York from New Orleans—Adams, 1,500
By New York from Seattle—Clyde, 1,300
By New York from Columbus, O.—Cook, 2,500
By New York from Poughkeepsie—Hentley, 500
By Brooklyn from Louisville—Toney, 2,500
By Brooklyn from Chattanooga—Howell, 1,500
By Brooklyn from Fort Worth—Appleton, 1,300
By Brooklyn from Wichita—Barre, 1,300
By Brooklyn from Harrisburg—Chabek, 1,300
By Brooklyn from Seattle—Bell, 1,300
By Brooklyn from Waco—Donald, 1,300

American League.

- By Boston from Saginaw—Scott, 750
By Boston from Battle Creek—Pratt, 1,200
By Philadelphia from Greenboro—Harper, 500
By Philadelphia from Trenton—Lee, 1,300
By Philadelphia from Greenboro—Crane, 500
By Washington from Galveston—Massey, 1,500
By Washington from Fort Worth—Brown, 1,500
By Detroit from Pottsville—Hill, 750
By Detroit from Grand Forks—Peters, 750
By Chicago from Kansas City—Brief, 2,500
By St. Louis from Atantia—Perryman, 1,500
By St. Louis from Elmira—Kaufmann, 1,200
By St. Louis from Charleston—Cochran, 750
By St. Louis from Burlington—Miller, 500

National Association.

- By Kansas City from Savannah—Mayer, 500
By Kansas City from Fort Worth—Forbes (withdrawn), 500
By Kansas City from Saskatoon—Northrup (withdrawn), 500
By Milwaukee from Battle Creek—Lafosse, 500
By Milwaukee from Dayton—Harce (withdrawn), 500
By Milwaukee from Burlington—Lunty (withdrawn), 500
By Indianapolis from Omaha—Tippie, 1,000
By Indianapolis from Ottawa, Ont.—Mitchell, 500
By Rochester from Lawrence—Brusy, 750
By Newark from Albany—Sturges (withdrawn), 500
By Newark from Terre Haute—Sheenan (withdrawn), 500
By Newark from Fort Wayne—Smith (withdrawn), 500
By Louisville from Davenport—Middleton, 750
By Louisville from Springfield, Ill.—Kirschnick (withdrawn), 500
By Louisville from Savannah—Crowell (withdrawn), 500
By Portland, Ore., from Lewiston—Blackwell (withdrawn), 500
By Portland from Farmington—Phillips (withdrawn), 500
By Portland from Muskegon—Lofberg, (withdrawn), 500
By Portland from Tazarkana—Stillbauer (withdrawn), 500
By Venice, Cal., from Topeka—Grover (withdrawn), 500
By Venice, Cal., from Des Moines—Haley (withdrawn), 500
By Oakland from Medicine Hat—Daniels, (disallowed), 400
By Toronto from Lawrence—Brusy, (disallowed), 500
By Toronto from Duluth—Brackett, 500
By Minneapolis from Hastings—Willy, 500
By Chattanooga from Waco—Hill, 600
By Chattanooga from Houston—Kitchens, 600
By Chattanooga from Beaumont—Bettis, 600
By Chattanooga from Salem—Roberts, 300
By Chattanooga from Winton—Salmon—Hickman, 300
By Chattanooga from Savannah—Mayer (disallowed), 300
By Chattanooga from Bay City—Harris, 400
By Birmingham from Waco—Donalds, (disallowed), 400
By Birmingham from Dallas—Dale—Mullin (disallowed), 400
By Birmingham from Charlotte—Hartin, 300
By Birmingham from Winston-Salem—Ray, 200
By Atlanta from Galveston—Hett, 600
By Atlanta from Dallas—Tullon, 600
By Atlanta from Savannah—Mayer (disallowed), 600
By Atlanta from Albany, Ga.—Williams, 400
By Atlanta from Bay City—Coombs, (disallowed), 400
By Atlanta from Beaumont—Brant, (withdrawn), 400
By Atlanta from Winton-Salem—Ray, (disallowed), 400
By Lincoln from Ottawa, Ont.—Mitchell, (disallowed), 400
By Lincoln from Toronto—Trout, (disallowed), 400
By Lincoln from Petersburg—Kelly, 400
By Lincoln from London—Herrman, 400
By Sioux City from Duluth—Brackett, (disallowed), 300
By Sioux City from Cedar Rapids—Hendling, 300
By Denver from Davenport—Marshall, 300
By Memphis from Houston—Hose, (disallowed), 300
By Memphis from Reading—Crotch, 300
By Memphis from Hamilton, Ont.—Haldwin, 300
By Grand Rapids from Bay City—Coombs, (disallowed), 400
By Grand Rapids from Muscatine—Gould, (disallowed), 300
By Elmira from Bay City—Harris, (disallowed), 300
By Binghamton from Charleston, S. C.—Payne, 400
By Davenport from Muscatine—Gould, 300
By Waco from Portsmouth, O.—Couswell, 300
By Waco from Fort Smith, O.—Hickey, 300
By Houston from Denton—Jenn, 300
By Savannah from Muscatine—Gould, (disallowed), 300
By Savannah from Charlotte—Hartin, (disallowed), 300
By Savannah from Short, 300

Cases on Report.

Cases settled by the National Board of Arbitration during the summer are also enumerated in the report. Among the cases were seven which had to do with Pa Bourke of the Omaha club. Six players that Pa did not pay board for around the village very long asked for a little extra pay. For them got it. H. S. Alexander, Emmett Ormsby, Clo-man and Lester Stevenson were all awarded claims on Pa.

MINORS LET MAJORS HAVE FREE HAND IN THE PEACE PARLEY

(Continued from Page One.)

as putting the job up to the majors squarely on its merits. The minors are none the less tenacious of their rights, though. "Any settlement," says a Western league magnate, "must of course be as fair to the minors as the majors."

Not Convention Action.

Even before the convention formally convened in annual session at the Rome, two things were definitely settled. First, that no official action had been taken by the sons of organized and outlaw base ball toward effecting peace; second, that no such action would be taken by or at this convention. This much was made plain by Ban Johnson, Garry Herrmann, Charles Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn National League team, and Charles Thomas, president-secretary of the Chicago Cubs.

Let 'er Ride a Year.

There are those among major leaguers who argue that it will not do to settle this war except on the terms of the big leagues of Organized base ball, and that if the Federals are not quite ready to come to those terms it might be better to just let matters ride for another year. From the majors' standpoint, so far as players are concerned, this seems to have some merit, for most of the major teams have succeeded in resigning plenty of players for, not only one, but two and three years ahead. With the minors, of course, it is totally different. But over and above all this is the expressed desire of Messrs Johnson, Herrmann and others for reasonable peace.

A Close Friend of Weeghman.

A close friend of Weeghman, who is averse to the use of his name in this connection, says you may be very sure of one thing, that Weeghman will make no dicker with Organized base ball purely for his own selfish advantage. "Mr. Weeghman is a square man," says he, "and will not settle until he can settle in such a way as to take care of all the Federal league men with whom he is interested. He wants peace, no doubt of that, but not peace at any price."

It is Easy to Discover the Strength of the Players' Fraternity.

You find many men of weight at this convention admitting that but for the Dave Patis organization, the Federal league would never have gained its present strength and fighting powers.

Wives of Visiting Magnates Are Being Royally Entertained

Visiting women in attendance at the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues meeting vote Omaha the most hospitable convention city, so far as the women are concerned. Royal entertainment has been planned for them and is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bourke, wife of the Omaha club owner, and Mrs. E. V. Parrish, headquarters for the visiting women are at the Paxton hotel.

An automobile trip was arranged in their honor yesterday and they were entertained at an Orpheum theater party last evening. Wednesday afternoon they will visit the Linger Art gallery and in the evening will be honor guests at a dinner party at the Paxton hotel, while the men folks are banqueting at the Rome. Thursday noon a luncheon will be given in their honor at the Commercial club, following which they will be taken on an excursion to O'Brien's candy factory and the Itea Biscuit company. The entertainment will conclude with a Boyd theater party Thursday evening.

Among the visiting women who had registered yesterday were: Mesdames James C. McGill of Denver, D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Charles Ebbets, sr., Brooklyn; C. C. Ellis, Muskogee, Okl.; A. H. Pulford, Winnipeg, Canada; Patrick Ragan, Brooklyn; J. M. Speed, Memphis; John F. Kiuwin, Oakosh, Wis.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, D. Andrews, Wapleson, Ia.; James Crumberry, Chicago; J. T. Hayes, Davenport, Ia.; Mrs. W. A. Autrey and Mrs. W. A. Bourke of Omaha and Miss Irene Frank of Jackson, Mich.

"Joe" Flanner Here With His Usual Spunk

No such base ball gathering would be complete without A. J. Flanner—"Joe" Flanner, as everybody knows him. He is on deck. For seventeen years Joe Flanner was editor of the Sporting News at St. Louis, and for many a year back of that he has been closely identified with base ball. He knows everything and everybody that is worth knowing in the history of the institution and nobody has ever yet stopped to question or cavil anything that Joe Flanner ever said on the subject.

California Sees End of Prize Fights

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It appears to be definitely settled that no more championship prize fights will be staged in California.

Major Want to Dictate.

Just here, it may pay not to be too unsophisticated. There are a few eccentric circles revolving in this little machine. Unquestionably the majors would prefer to see the war settled on their own terms, not the Federals', and that, too, independent of the minors. It is not hard to discover on the part of the majors a decided aversion to having this thing come within the scope of the minor league deliberation. And keep in mind the fact that this present convention is primarily a minor league affair. So, again, it is urged and probably correctly, that this convention will have no hand in redress-

Breese Comes for Western Confab and Then Disappears

A very important meeting of the Western league was scheduled for the Paxton hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was scheduled, but that was all. After spending several precious moments rounding up his herd President Norris L. O'Neil succeeded in corralling Jimmy McGill of Denver, Hugh Jones of Lincoln, Pa. Bourke of Omaha, Archie Catlin of Topeka, Ed Hanlon of Sioux City, Frank Labell of Des Moines and Jack Holland of St. Joseph. The seven and O'Neil were comfortably reclining in arm chairs in O'Neil's room and O'Neil was calling the roll when it was discovered that Dan Breese of Wichita was not among those present.

Mr. Breese came to Omaha to attend the Western league meeting. Breese had a hunch that he and his franchise would be a mooted question in the Western league meeting and he wanted to be in on all the doings. If there was to be any oratory Breese intended to occupy the floor his share of the time. O'Neil telephoned all the hotels in with Gibbons in New York near the end of the year.

WESTERN LEAGUE TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT MEETING DOES

It seems certain now that what, if any, effect the convention may have on the destiny of the Western league will not be known until toward the end of the season. President O'Neil, Magnates Bourke, Labell, Fairweather and others seem agreed on that. The Western simply is biding its time to see what right-of-way

Let 'er Ride a Year.

There are those among major leaguers who argue that it will not do to settle this war except on the terms of the big leagues of Organized base ball, and that if the Federals are not quite ready to come to those terms it might be better to just let matters ride for another year. From the majors' standpoint, so far as players are concerned, this seems to have some merit, for most of the major teams have succeeded in resigning plenty of players for, not only one, but two and three years ahead. With the minors, of course, it is totally different. But over and above all this is the expressed desire of Messrs Johnson, Herrmann and others for reasonable peace.

A Close Friend of Weeghman.

A close friend of Weeghman, who is averse to the use of his name in this connection, says you may be very sure of one thing, that Weeghman will make no dicker with Organized base ball purely for his own selfish advantage. "Mr. Weeghman is a square man," says he, "and will not settle until he can settle in such a way as to take care of all the Federal league men with whom he is interested. He wants peace, no doubt of that, but not peace at any price."

It is Easy to Discover the Strength of the Players' Fraternity.

You find many men of weight at this convention admitting that but for the Dave Patis organization, the Federal league would never have gained its present strength and fighting powers.

Wives of Visiting Magnates Are Being Royally Entertained

Visiting women in attendance at the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues meeting vote Omaha the most hospitable convention city, so far as the women are concerned. Royal entertainment has been planned for them and is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bourke, wife of the Omaha club owner, and Mrs. E. V. Parrish, headquarters for the visiting women are at the Paxton hotel.

An automobile trip was arranged in their honor yesterday and they were entertained at an Orpheum theater party last evening. Wednesday afternoon they will visit the Linger Art gallery and in the evening will be honor guests at a dinner party at the Paxton hotel, while the men folks are banqueting at the Rome. Thursday noon a luncheon will be given in their honor at the Commercial club, following which they will be taken on an excursion to O'Brien's candy factory and the Itea Biscuit company. The entertainment will conclude with a Boyd theater party Thursday evening.

Among the visiting women who had registered yesterday were: Mesdames James C. McGill of Denver, D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Charles Ebbets, sr., Brooklyn; C. C. Ellis, Muskogee, Okl.; A. H. Pulford, Winnipeg, Canada; Patrick Ragan, Brooklyn; J. M. Speed, Memphis; John F. Kiuwin, Oakosh, Wis.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, D. Andrews, Wapleson, Ia.; James Crumberry, Chicago; J. T. Hayes, Davenport, Ia.; Mrs. W. A. Autrey and Mrs. W. A. Bourke of Omaha and Miss Irene Frank of Jackson, Mich.

"Joe" Flanner Here With His Usual Spunk

No such base ball gathering would be complete without A. J. Flanner—"Joe" Flanner, as everybody knows him. He is on deck. For seventeen years Joe Flanner was editor of the Sporting News at St. Louis, and for many a year back of that he has been closely identified with base ball. He knows everything and everybody that is worth knowing in the history of the institution and nobody has ever yet stopped to question or cavil anything that Joe Flanner ever said on the subject.

California Sees End of Prize Fights

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It appears to be definitely settled that no more championship prize fights will be staged in California.

Major Want to Dictate.

Just here, it may pay not to be too unsophisticated. There are a few eccentric circles revolving in this little machine. Unquestionably the majors would prefer to see the war settled on their own terms, not the Federals', and that, too, independent of the minors. It is not hard to discover on the part of the majors a decided aversion to having this thing come within the scope of the minor league deliberation. And keep in mind the fact that this present convention is primarily a minor league affair. So, again, it is urged and probably correctly, that this convention will have no hand in redress-

Breese Comes for Western Confab and Then Disappears

A very important meeting of the Western league was scheduled for the Paxton hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was scheduled, but that was all. After spending several precious moments rounding up his herd President Norris L. O'Neil succeeded in corralling Jimmy McGill of Denver, Hugh Jones of Lincoln, Pa. Bourke of Omaha, Archie Catlin of Topeka, Ed Hanlon of Sioux City, Frank Labell of Des Moines and Jack Holland of St. Joseph. The seven and O'Neil were comfortably reclining in arm chairs in O'Neil's room and O'Neil was calling the roll when it was discovered that Dan Breese of Wichita was not among those present.

Mr. Breese came to Omaha to attend the Western league meeting. Breese had a hunch that he and his franchise would be a mooted question in the Western league meeting and he wanted to be in on all the doings. If there was to be any oratory Breese intended to occupy the floor his share of the time. O'Neil telephoned all the hotels in with Gibbons in New York near the end of the year.

WESTERN LEAGUE TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT MEETING DOES

It seems certain now that what, if any, effect the convention may have on the destiny of the Western league will not be known until toward the end of the season. President O'Neil, Magnates Bourke, Labell, Fairweather and others seem agreed on that. The Western simply is biding its time to see what right-of-way

Let 'er Ride a Year.

There are those among major leaguers who argue that it will not do to settle this war except on the terms of the big leagues of Organized base ball, and that if the Federals are not quite ready to come to those terms it might be better to just let matters ride for another year. From the majors' standpoint, so far as players are concerned, this seems to have some merit, for most of the major teams have succeeded in resigning plenty of players for, not only one, but two and three years ahead. With the minors, of course, it is totally different. But over and above all this is the expressed desire of Messrs Johnson, Herrmann and others for reasonable peace.

A Close Friend of Weeghman.

A close friend of Weeghman, who is averse to the use of his name in this connection, says you may be very sure of one thing, that Weeghman will make no dicker with Organized base ball purely for his own selfish advantage. "Mr. Weeghman is a square man," says he, "and will not settle until he can settle in such a way as to take care of all the Federal league men with whom he is interested. He wants peace, no doubt of that, but not peace at any price."

It is Easy to Discover the Strength of the Players' Fraternity.

You find many men of weight at this convention admitting that but for the Dave Patis organization, the Federal league would never have gained its present strength and fighting powers.

Wives of Visiting Magnates Are Being Royally Entertained

Visiting women in attendance at the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues meeting vote Omaha the most hospitable convention city, so far as the women are concerned. Royal entertainment has been planned for them and is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bourke, wife of the Omaha club owner, and Mrs. E. V. Parrish, headquarters for the visiting women are at the Paxton hotel.

An automobile trip was arranged in their honor yesterday and they were entertained at an Orpheum theater party last evening. Wednesday afternoon they will visit the Linger Art gallery and in the evening will be honor guests at a dinner party at the Paxton hotel, while the men folks are banqueting at the Rome. Thursday noon a luncheon will be given in their honor at the Commercial club, following which they will be taken on an excursion to O'Brien's candy factory and the Itea Biscuit company. The entertainment will conclude with a Boyd theater party Thursday evening.

Among the visiting women who had registered yesterday were: Mesdames James C. McGill of Denver, D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Charles Ebbets, sr., Brooklyn; C. C. Ellis, Muskogee, Okl.; A. H. Pulford, Winnipeg, Canada; Patrick Ragan, Brooklyn; J. M. Speed, Memphis; John F. Kiuwin, Oakosh, Wis.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, D. Andrews, Wapleson, Ia.; James Crumberry, Chicago; J. T. Hayes, Davenport, Ia.; Mrs. W. A. Autrey and Mrs. W. A. Bourke of Omaha and Miss Irene Frank of Jackson, Mich.

"Joe" Flanner Here With His Usual Spunk

No such base ball gathering would be complete without A. J. Flanner—"Joe" Flanner, as everybody knows him. He is on deck. For seventeen years Joe Flanner was editor of the Sporting News at St. Louis, and for many a year back of that he has been closely identified with base ball. He knows everything and everybody that is worth knowing in the history of the institution and nobody has ever yet stopped to question or cavil anything that Joe Flanner ever said on the subject.

California Sees End of Prize Fights

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It appears to be definitely settled that no more championship prize fights will be staged in California.

Major Want to Dictate.

Just here, it may pay not to be too unsophisticated. There are a few eccentric circles revolving in this little machine. Unquestionably the majors would prefer to see the war settled on their own terms, not the Federals', and that, too, independent of the minors. It is not hard to discover on the part of the majors a decided aversion to having this thing come within the scope of the minor league deliberation. And keep in mind the fact that this present convention is primarily a minor league affair. So, again, it is urged and probably correctly, that this convention will have no hand in redress-

Breese Comes for Western Confab and Then Disappears

A very important meeting of the Western league was scheduled for the Paxton hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was scheduled, but that was all. After spending several precious moments rounding up his herd President Norris L. O'Neil succeeded in corralling Jimmy McGill of Denver, Hugh Jones of Lincoln, Pa. Bourke of Omaha, Archie Catlin of Topeka, Ed Hanlon of Sioux City, Frank Labell of Des Moines and Jack Holland of St. Joseph. The seven and O'Neil were comfortably reclining in arm chairs in O'Neil's room and O'Neil was calling the roll when it was discovered that Dan Breese of Wichita was not among those present.

Mr. Breese came to Omaha to attend the Western league meeting. Breese had a hunch that he and his franchise would be a mooted question in the Western league meeting and he wanted to be in on all the doings. If there was to be any oratory Breese intended to occupy the floor his share of the time. O'Neil telephoned all the hotels in with Gibbons in New York near the end of the year.

WESTERN LEAGUE TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT MEETING DOES

It seems certain now that what, if any, effect the convention may have on the destiny of the Western league will not be known until toward the end of the season. President O'Neil, Magnates Bourke, Labell, Fairweather and others seem agreed on that. The Western simply is biding its time to see what right-of-way

Let 'er Ride a Year.

There are those among major leaguers who argue that it will not do to settle this war except on the terms of the big leagues of Organized base ball, and that if the Federals are not quite ready to come to those terms it might be better to just let matters ride for another year. From the majors' standpoint, so far as players are concerned, this seems to have some merit, for most of the major teams have succeeded in resigning plenty of players for, not only one, but two and three years ahead. With the minors, of course, it is totally different. But over and above all this is the expressed desire of Messrs Johnson, Herrmann and others for reasonable peace.

A Close Friend of Weeghman.

A close friend of Weeghman, who is averse to the use of his name in this connection, says you may be very sure of one thing, that Weeghman will make no dicker with Organized base ball purely for his own selfish advantage. "Mr. Weeghman is a square man," says he, "and will not settle until he can settle in such a way as to take care of all the Federal league men with whom he is interested. He wants peace, no doubt of that, but not peace at any price."

It is Easy to Discover the Strength of the Players' Fraternity.

You find many men of weight at this convention admitting that but for the Dave Patis organization, the Federal league would never have gained its present strength and fighting powers.

Wives of Visiting Magnates Are Being Royally Entertained

Visiting women in attendance at the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues meeting vote Omaha the most hospitable convention city, so far as the women are concerned. Royal entertainment has been planned for them and is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bourke, wife of the Omaha club owner, and Mrs. E. V. Parrish, headquarters for the visiting women are at the Paxton hotel.

An automobile trip was arranged in their honor yesterday and they were entertained at an Orpheum theater party last evening. Wednesday afternoon they will visit the Linger Art gallery and in the evening will be honor guests at a dinner party at the Paxton hotel, while the men folks are banqueting at the Rome. Thursday noon a luncheon will be given in their honor at the Commercial club, following which they will be taken on an excursion to O'Brien's candy factory and the Itea Biscuit company. The entertainment will conclude with a Boyd theater party Thursday evening.

Among the visiting women who had registered yesterday were: Mesdames James C. McGill of Denver, D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Charles Ebbets, sr., Brooklyn; C. C. Ellis, Muskogee, Okl.; A. H. Pulford, Winnipeg, Canada; Patrick Ragan, Brooklyn; J. M. Speed, Memphis; John F. Kiuwin, Oakosh, Wis.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, D. Andrews, Wapleson, Ia.; James Crumberry, Chicago; J. T. Hayes, Davenport, Ia.; Mrs. W. A. Autrey and Mrs. W. A. Bourke of Omaha and Miss Irene Frank of Jackson, Mich.

"Joe" Flanner Here With His Usual Spunk

No such base ball gathering would be complete without A. J. Flanner—"Joe" Flanner, as everybody knows him. He is on deck. For seventeen years Joe Flanner was editor of the Sporting News at St. Louis, and for many a year back of that he has been closely identified with base ball. He knows everything and everybody that is worth knowing in the history of the institution and nobody has ever yet stopped to question or cavil anything that Joe Flanner ever said on the subject.

California Sees End of Prize Fights

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It appears to be definitely settled that no more championship prize fights will be staged in California.

Major Want to Dictate.

Just here, it may pay not to be too unsophisticated. There are a few eccentric circles revolving in this little machine. Unquestionably the majors would prefer to see the war settled on their own terms, not the Federals', and that, too, independent of the minors. It is not hard to discover on the part of the majors a decided aversion to having this thing come within the scope of the minor league deliberation. And keep in mind the fact that this present convention is primarily a minor league affair. So, again, it is urged and probably correctly, that this convention will have no hand in redress-

Breese Comes for Western Confab and Then Disappears

A very important meeting of the Western league was scheduled for the Paxton hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was scheduled, but that was all. After spending several precious moments rounding up his herd President Norris L. O'Neil succeeded in corralling Jimmy McGill of Denver, Hugh Jones of Lincoln, Pa. Bourke of Omaha, Archie Catlin of Topeka, Ed Hanlon of Sioux City, Frank Labell of Des Moines and Jack Holland of St. Joseph. The seven and O'Neil were comfortably reclining in arm chairs in O'Neil's room and O'Neil was calling the roll when it was discovered that Dan Breese of Wichita was not among those present.

Mr. Breese came to Omaha to attend the Western league meeting. Breese had a hunch that he and his franchise would be a mooted question in the Western league meeting and he wanted to be in on all the doings. If there was to be any oratory Breese intended to occupy the floor his share of the time. O'Neil telephoned all the hotels in with Gibbons in New York near the end of the year.

WESTERN LEAGUE TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT MEETING DOES

It seems certain now that what, if any, effect the convention may have on the destiny of the Western league will not be known until toward the end of the season. President O'Neil, Magnates Bourke, Labell, Fairweather and others seem agreed on that. The Western simply is biding its time to see what right-of-way

Let 'er Ride a Year.

There are those among major leaguers who argue that it will not do to settle this war except on the terms of the big leagues of Organized base ball, and that if the Federals are not quite ready to come to those terms it might be better to just let matters ride for another year. From the majors' standpoint, so far as players are concerned, this seems to have some merit, for most of the major teams have succeeded in resigning plenty of players for, not only one, but two and three years ahead. With the minors, of course, it is totally different. But over and above all this is the expressed desire of Messrs Johnson, Herrmann and others for reasonable peace.

A Close Friend of Weeghman.

A close friend of Weeghman, who is averse to the use of his name in this connection, says you may be very sure of one thing, that Weeghman will make no dicker with Organized base ball purely for his own selfish advantage. "Mr. Weeghman is a square man," says he, "and will not settle until he can settle in such a way as to take care of all the Federal league men with whom he is interested. He wants peace, no doubt of that, but not peace at any price."

It is Easy to Discover the Strength of the Players' Fraternity.

You find many men of weight at this convention admitting that but for the Dave Patis organization, the Federal league would never have gained its present strength and fighting powers.

Wives of Visiting Magnates Are Being Royally Entertained

Visiting women in attendance at the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues meeting vote Omaha the most hospitable convention city, so far as the women are concerned. Royal entertainment has been planned for them and is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Bourke, wife of the Omaha club owner, and Mrs. E. V. Parrish, headquarters for the visiting women are at the Paxton hotel.

An automobile trip was arranged in their honor yesterday and they were entertained at an Orpheum theater party last evening. Wednesday afternoon they will visit the Linger Art gallery and in the evening will be honor guests at a dinner party at the Paxton hotel, while the men folks are banqueting at the Rome. Thursday noon a luncheon will be given in their honor at the Commercial club, following which they will be taken on an excursion to O'Brien's candy factory and the Itea Biscuit company. The entertainment will conclude with a Boyd theater party Thursday evening.

Among the visiting women who had registered yesterday were: Mesdames James C. McGill of Denver, D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; Charles Ebbets, sr., Brooklyn; C. C. Ellis, Muskogee, Okl.; A. H. Pulford, Winnipeg, Canada; Patrick Ragan, Brooklyn; J. M. Speed, Memphis; John F. Kiuwin, Oakosh, Wis.; Clyde Shropshire, Nashville, D. Andrews, Wapleson, Ia.; James Crumberry, Chicago; J. T. Hayes, Davenport, Ia.; Mrs. W. A. Autrey and Mrs. W. A. Bourke of Omaha and Miss Irene Frank of Jackson, Mich.

"Joe" Flanner Here With His Usual Spunk

No such base ball gathering would be complete without A. J. Flanner—"Joe" Flanner, as everybody knows him. He is on deck. For seventeen years Joe Flanner was editor of the Sporting News at St. Louis, and for many a year back of that he has been closely identified with base ball. He knows everything and everybody that is worth knowing in the history of the institution and nobody has ever yet stopped to question or cavil anything that Joe Flanner ever said on the subject.

California Sees End of Prize Fights

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—It appears to be definitely settled that no more championship prize fights will be staged in California.