Miss Kumpf in Serious Condition—Miss Clara Kumpf, well known teacher in the First grade at Edward Roosevelt school, is in a local hospital in a precarious condition. Not much hope is being held out for her recovery.

Christmas Mail Arrives—Fifteen new trucks to take care of the parcel post business at the Union station are already receiving their burden of Christmas mail, which increases every day, despite the fact that it is over six weeks until Christmas.

To Ask Bids for Trucks—The Postoffice department has authorized Cadet Taylor to get bids for the new postoffice tugs, or trucks, which are to be added to the equipment of the parcel post business here. Two of these vehicles will be bought to facilitate hauling packages in the Omaha postoffice.

Reper Compliments Local Postoffice—Postmaster John C. Wharton received a letter Tuesday from Daniel C. Roper, assistant postmaster general, in which the latter highly compliments the department for the splendid showing made during the month just closed. The local postoffice increased their business by more than 5 per cent, or $10,000 more than the corresponding month last year.

Lee May Die from Injuries—Clarence W. Lee, 24 Benton street, Council Bluffs, may die from injuries received when he fell from a scaffold at the Skinner Macaroni company's new building. Fourteenth and Jackson streets. Lee, who is a deaf mute, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital by Dr. Connel, who says that the unfortunate man is suffering from internal injuries, as well as a probable fractured skull.

Women to Report False Advertising to Omaha Ad Club

For the first time in local Ad club history women were permitted to take part in affairs of the club. Heretofore all meetings and luncheons have been strictly stag affairs, but at the noon meeting in the Home hotel olive room a dozen or more of the fair sex were on hand.

W. G. Cleveland, chairman of the "vigilance committee" called upon members of the club to spread the request to all women shoppers everywhere to report false advertising to members of the Ad club.

"Women do most of the buying and they will make the best detectives," declared Mr. Cleveland.

The Omaha Ad club has a stunt up its collective sleeve for use at the base ball magnates' banquet Thursday night, but the nature of it is being guarded jealously by those in charge.

"What advertisers can do to help the printers and engravers and vice-versa" formed an interesting topic.

Many Women Listen to Murder Trial

A score of women are included in the crowd of spectators at the trial of Mrs. Bernice Russell in criminal court or the charge of manslaughter for the slaying of her husband, Charles Russell, last August at the Sprague hotel.

Besides the women, who are watching the case with unusual interest because of the rarity of female defendants in criminal trials of such seriousness, almost 100 men are attending the hearing. A little child is also in the crowd, sitting next to her mother and playing unconcernedly as the story of the tragedy is told from the witness stand.

State's evidence was all in at noon and Mrs. Russell took the stand to plead justification and self-defense at the resumption of the trial this afternoon.

Uncle Sam Buys a McKeen Motor Car

The reclamation service of the United States government has purchased a McKeen fifty-five foot 200-horsepower, seventy-five passenger, all-steel gasoline motor car for its Yuma Valley railway twenty miles in length, which is being constructed in the Arizona Yuma valley. There are many features in the McKeen motor car not possessed by any other passenger car in the world, which makes it eminently suited for the service on the government's railroad in Arizona.

This is the third government to adopt McKeen motor cars, the Queensland and Victorian governments of Australia having purchased seven McKeen motor cars some time ago.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS ARE NOT FOR BUYING HOMES

Pensions granted to widows by the county, and intended to help the women support their families, must not be used to buy homes for the families, Juvenile Judge Will's G. Sears declares. He says that all the county can be expected to do is to help buy food and clothing for bereft families.

The judge made the declaration in connection with the case of Mrs. Mary Hess, 2411 Cassiella street, who gets a widow's pension from the county. It was discovered that while her little daughter, Margaret, was kept out of school to take care of the house, savings of Mrs. Hess and her son, Will, out of their earnings and the pension, were being used to make payments on a home they were buying.

Nebraska Delegation to Suffrage Meeting

Mrs. Draper Smith

The Nebraska delegation to the National Woman Suffrage association convention which opens Thursday, left Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., where the meeting will be held. The delegation includes Mrs. Draper Smith, state suffrage president; Mrs. H. C. Sumney and Mrs. James Richardson of Omaha, and Mrs. W. E. Hareley of Lincoln, chairman of the speakers and publicity bureau.

Mrs. Smith, who will give a report of the Nebraska campaign at the convention, was almost deterred from making the trip by an attack of illness, but had recovered sufficiently to warrant her traveling.

On her return from the convention Mr. Richardson and son, James, will meet Mrs. Richardson in St. Louis, where they will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Richardson's mother.

APPRAISERS APPOINTED TO PUT VALUE ON LAND

Inability of the Missouri Pacific Railway company and Mrs. Mary A. Dalley to agree upon the value of the latter's property upon the east side of Fifteenth, between Grace and Yates streets, has resulted in the appointment of a board of six appraisers to decide the matter.

The railroad wants the land for additional switching tracks and yard room. County Judge Crawford appointed these men on the commission to appraise the land: W. R. McFarland, W. H. Gates, W. D. Crawford, D. J. Sholes, Harry A. Tukey and George F. Morton.

A similar board of appraisers is now at work in Benson, because of disagreement over values of property required for sewer purposes.

ULLERY HERE INSPECTING POSTOFFICE CHANGES
 Superintendent of Construction E. Ullery of Red Oak, Ia., is spending the day in Omaha, going over the new platform porch which is being established above the entrance of the federal building, as well as a general inspection of the entire structure, including the new lavatory on the top floor, which is being installed for the Indians. With Cadet Taylor, the inspector spent the morning in going over the blueprints of several improvements to be made in the building in the near future. Mrs. Ullery accompanied her husband to the city and is visiting with friends here.

DEPUTY SHERIFF GOES TO LINCOLN TO MARRY

John Pospichal, a deputy under Sheriff Felix McShane, has been matrimonially inclined for some time. However, he put off getting married until after election. When Sheriff McShane was re-elected Pospichal decided to celebrate his honeymoon by getting married, so he went to Lincoln, with his bride, unbeknown to everybody except a couple of friends. The wedding was performed there, and when the couple returned they were given a lively reception by many friends at the Tel Jed Sokot hall.

PUFORD IS ON THE WARPATH

Owner of Winnipeg Club Objects to Way He Was Ousted.

QUESTION UP TO THE MINORS

Convention Must Decide Matter—May Make Serious Split in the Harmony Which is Expected to Prevail.

Even though peace be eventually decided between the Federal league and Organized ball, the minor league convention may see a serious split in the harmony of things. If certain action is taken by the board of arbitration the Northern league may become an outlaw league.

The case before the board of arbitration has to do with the Winnipeg franchise. A. H. Puford owner. Last season the Northern league disbanded. It was immediately reorganized and Puford and his Winnipeg team left out of the new circuit. Puford declares the disbandment and the reorganization was merely to force him from the circuit. The Winnipeg man has his case before the board of arbitration. Settlement will be made soon. The point at issue is merely the legality of the actions taken by the Northern league. If they by their constitution are permitted to disband and then reorganize Puford has no case.

Certain officials of the league declare they do not want Puford in the Northern league, and that if the board of arbitration finds for the Winnipeg man, they threaten to come out from under the shadow of Organized ball and make the Northern league an outlaw league.

President John Burmeister declares the Northern league does not consider Puford desirable and that they will take drastic measures to keep him out.

The case promises to be a warm one and Puford will have plenty of testimony before the board. The Northern league will also have several volumes and the matter will be a touchy one to handle.

Puford declares the Winnipeg club should be in the league. It drew over 100,000 people last year, more than any other club. He says the league cannot complain on its financial success and he knows no reason for opposition to him.
