Surprise the Folks on Xmas

A portrait of you and the children almost invariably furnishes a big surprise to father, mother, brothers and sisters back home.

There's no better time for that surprise to come than on Christmas morning, when all are at hand to look with wonder on the changes time has worked, especially on the youngsters.

Pose at once for a portrait of yourself with your little ones-and use the pictures liberally as Christmas gifts.

> Besides your immediate family, you have a score of acquaintances to remember with something inexpensive. yet full of personality. Nothing answers quite so well as artistic portraits.

BUT-artistic poses require time and patience, both from you and from the photographer. Rushed work is never up to standard. So do not wait until the last moment, but
