Has Been Prominent in Railroad and Fraternal Circles and Was at One Time Register of Decds.

Harry Porter Devel, Nebraska pioneer, veteran tallroad man and prominent in the business affairs of Omaha for more than half a century, is dead at his home, 1966 Dodge street, where he resided for thirty-five years. He lacked but a few days of being 78 years of age, having been born December 11, 1835, in Clarkson, Monroe county, New York.

Mr. Deuel died some time Sunday night of apoplexy, the fatal stroke having been the third. He sustained two light strokes several years ago. When members of the family went to call him for breakfast, he was dead, his appearance indicating that he died while sleeping, or, at least without a struggle. It is uncertain just when the funeral will be held, but it will probably be Wednesday afternoon and will probably be in charge of the Masons, he having been a member of the Masonie lodge for years.

So far as appearances went, for his age, Mr. Deucl was in perfect health. He was on the street Sunday and Sunday evening, and visited with several of his friends and neighbors who called. He is survived by his wife, one son, Charles L. Deucl, who is secretary of the McCord-Brady Wholesale Grocery company, two grandchildren, two cousins, Mrs. Joseph Redman and Mrs. E. P. Hancy, besides By Aerial Bombs a nephew, Jay D. Foster of the Foster-Barker company.

Born In New York.

While born in New York, with his par-ents, Mr. Deuel came to Illinois, where announced officially this afternoon that the British aviators who Saturday afternoon raided Friedrichshafen, on Lake he grew to manhood, where he received Constance, report positively that all the his education at Farmington academy and ombs thrown by them reached their ob-Lombard university at Galesburg, and lective and that serious damage was where he married Miss Jane Miller in white duck pants and white ruffled shirt. The boat landing was in the vicinity of Douglas street and the Porter & Deuel warehouse on the lots at Ninth and Farnam streets where the M. E. Smith & Co, wholesale house now stands, Represents All Roads.

Some years later and after the Burlington, Rock Island and Northwestern built across Iowa and into Council Bluffs, he became joint agent for the companies and handled the pool on both passenger and freight business. Later he became agent here for the Burlington, and subsequently city passenger agent for the Union Pacific, resigning in 1896 to again go with the Burlington as superintendent of the station on Tenth street that was built and completed at that time. He remained with the Burilngton until 1889, when he resigned to accept the appointment of auditor of Douglas county, resigning this position in 1901 to accept the office of register of deeds, to which he had been elected. This last named office he held until 1906, when his term expired and when he retired from active work. He also served two terms as member of the library board.

Prominent in secret society circles, Mr. Deuel was a thirty-third degree Mason. He was the first grand high priest and Shrine and a prominent Elk.

At one time Mr. Deuel owned the west sixty-six feet of the ground on which The Bee building stands. He sold the property for $1,400 and was congratulated upon receiving such a high price. It was in a house on this lot where he and his wife lived several years after coming to Omaha. The house was built of cottonwood lumber and covered with a cloth roof. At that time the location was far out in the country, while the Deuel neighbors were mostly wild animals and Indians.
