SECRETARY SEYMOUR DEAD

Clerk of State Board of Equalization Expires of Heart Trouble.

FOUND FAINTING ON STREET

Long in Employ of State, Where for Five Years He Handled Figures of Assessment of Nebraska Property.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Henry Seymour, secretary of the State Board of Assessment, died suddenly at his home in this city at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

Death was caused from heart failure, according to Dr. J. E. Sward, his physician, who was with him from the time he found him on P street in the downtown district until he died.

With Captain J. L. Paul of St. Paul, Dr. Sward was walking down the street, when they discovered Mr. Seymour leaning against a post, evidently in considerable pain. He asked them to take him home, and after doing so Dr. Sward discovered that his heart action was very weak. He gave him a small injection of strychnine, but it was of no avail and he died soon after.

Mrs. Seymour was visiting at the home of her sister in Waverly and reached home early this morning after her husband had died. They have a son in Duluth. Besides the widow and son he leaves a brother, Victor Seymour, deputy clerk of the supreme court.

Old State House Employed

Mr. Seymour had been connected with the state house for several years, having been with the insurance department, then bookkeeper in the state auditor's office and on June 1, 1909, was appointed to his present position as secretary of the State Board of Assessment to fill the vacancy caused by the killing of Christ Schaeveland by an automobile. He was well known over the state and was in great demand at meetings of county assessors. The tax commission last week recommended him unanimously for reappointment as secretary of the Board of Assessment and the same was filed with the governor only a day or so ago. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

Child Sent to Geneva

Three children, Fenna, aged 11; Leona, 9, and Verona, 8 years of age, daughters of Mrs. Jessie Bilyue, have been committed to the Geneva school for girls, according to a copy of the commitment received by the state auditor's office from the clerk of the district court of Washington county.

Mrs. Bilyue has been traveling around the country in a covered wagon with Charles Schroeder and on reaching Washington county the children, with another named Marild, aged 3 years, were taken from them by the authorities, the younger one being held by the sheriff of Washington county, subject to the order of the court.

Marble Calls on Governor

H. P. Marble, assistant superintendent of the Menominee Indian school in Wisconsin and a former well known newspaper man in Nebraska, having owned and operated the Humboldt Leader for about fifteen years, called on Governor Morehead this morning to pay his respects to his old neighbor. Mr. Marble is spending his vacation visiting his old haunts in Nebraska.

Morehead on Deck Again

Governor Morehead returned home this morning from his vacation trip to Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he went to escape the swarms of job hunters which had infested his office as soon as it became known that Nebraska had gone democratic. He was accompanied on the trip by Food Commissioner Harman, who went along as a bodyguard and returned also this morning. The governor discovered, however, that his absence, as usual, had made the democratic "BRR" know "G" and plenty of the faithful were waiting to communicate their heart's desires into his more or less willing ear.

MIND OF TREASURER THOUGHT UNBALANCED

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—E. J. Robinson, examiner in the office of the state auditor, who was sent to Banner county to investigate the condition of the county treasurer's office there, because of the disappearance of J. W. Hill, the treasurer, returned home today.

Mr. Robinson does not believe that there was any intention of dishonesty on the part of Mr. Hill, although he had overdrawn about $500 but thinks from all he can learn that his mind became deranged. In fact, he has been acting queerly for some time. No one seems to be able to offer any information as to his whereabouts.

Turkey to Refuse to Permit Diplomats to Send Code Wires

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Turkish government has notified the cable companies that messages from or to belligerent countries will not be admitted to Turkey either terminally or in transit, according to an announcement made here today by the Commercial Cable company. Further, representatives of neutral powers in Turkey will not be permitted to exchange telegrams in code or cipher with their home offices or with the representatives of other neutral powers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Officials here say it is an undisputed principle of international law that a representative of a neutral country may maintain communication with his home government in secret. If Turkey should attempt to prohibit Ambassador Morgenthau from sending dispatches to Washington in diplomatic code, some action will be taken by the United States. However, the State department's only information on the situation was the cable company's notification. A report on the situation from the ambassador at Constantinople is being awaited.

RAILROADS WANT MANY MILLIONS

(Continued from Page One.) of the geographical area of the country, it means that the farmers will have to pay out over $1,000,000 in additional freight charges per annum. This affects over 500,000 bushels of grain on which the average carrying advance is at least one-half of a cent per bushel. Of this grain 385,000,000 bushels came into Chicago direct.

Big Boost in Meat Rates

The packing interests are also vitally affected. On packing house products, such as fresh meats, etc., the railroads have requested an increase that averages 34 cents per hundred pounds. This means a raise of 12 1/2 per cent. This advance on the Mississippi, such as Sioux City, Fort Worth, Omaha, East St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph. In the face of what the live stock interests of the country have had to contend with and when the damage to the industry that has been done through the recent epidemic disease, this raise on the face of it is manifestly unjust. It will react irrevocably against the consumer.

The agricultural implement field offers a striking example of what the increase entails. It would mean a freight raise varying from 10 to 100 per cent, as well as causing much inconvenience and extra labor to the chippers affected. Previously on payment of a $4 fee for each unloading the railroads would unload at any stop-over point on the way to final destination. This service they also now request be eliminated. The proposed increased tariff affects many of the necessities of life other than purely packing house products. In addition, although the requested raise has not as yet been extended to live stock, it is the opinion of those well versed that such a proceeding is imminent.

Farmers' Associations Help

"We are pleased to say that we are being helped in our propaganda by the Co-Operative Farmers' association, which owns 2,000 grain elevators in the affected area and has a membership of over 200,000. In addition, other bodies of equal importance and as vitally interested are aiding us. These are not actuated solely by selfish motives, but are fighting for the national good and for the great body of the people.

There has been a national cry that the railroads throughout the country through lack of money have been forced to curtail and, indeed, in some cases, to practically stop the buying of supplies. In spite of this claim, in the year ending 1913 they purchased over $90,000,000 worth more of supplies than in any previous year. For the year which ended in July, 1914, there was bought by the railroads over $6,000,000 worth more supplies than in any like period.

Borrowing Power Not Curtailed

"It has also been stated that railway earnings are so small as to jeopardize the credit of the roads and, therefore, that it has been well nigh impossible for them to borrow sufficient money to make necessary improvements. However, I proved before the Interstate Commerce commission that a certain railroad had borrowed at a rate of not over 5 per cent $3,000,000 on the security of one-year notes. There is no other business in this country, I maintained and proved at that time, that could do likewise. These facts amply prove that we are entitled in justice to the Interstate Commerce commission to have the benefit of a careful investigation made by the Interstate Commerce commission. No advance in rates should become effective until that body has found that the carriers have shown that the advance in rates is reasonable and that the increased revenue which the carriers will receive is fairly apportioned amongst the various commodities carried as freight.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness. Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 651 Washington St. Monticello, Ill.
