Hitchcock Sees Hard Road Ahead for His "Neutrality" Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Preliminary consideration will be given tomorrow by the foreign relations committee to Senator Hitchcock's bill to prohibit exportation to belligerent nations of munitions of war and to Senator Works' bill to prohibit exports not only of contraband, but of food, clothing or other necessities which serve to prolong the European conflict.

"I am surprised to find," said Senator Hitchcock today, "that many in congress who always have been earnest advocates of peace do not favor legislation at this time to prevent the exportation of arms to European belligerents. I have talked with many of them on this subject—some of them for years identified prominently with movements for the establishment of universal peace—and they have said they were not in sympathy with this bill at this time because it would prove a hardship to nations already at war.

"Take this sort of men and add them to those who are not advocates of universal peace and those whose constituents profit by the manufacture of arms and you will find that we have a rather difficult task ahead with a bill such as I have proposed."

Wealthy Chicago Policeman Quits

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—After thirty-two years of service William S. McGuire, who is called Chicago's model policeman, resigned today. He is declared to be the wealthiest man on the force and is reported to own property valued at more than $100,000.

McGuire does not drink, has never been reprimanded and never has been before the trial board. In addition he has made a good record in the capture of criminals. He started his financial success when he sold a piece of property for more than ten times the amount he paid for it. Other really transactions by which he always profited followed.

McGuire is planning to spend the winter on his country place at Palm Beach, Fla.

ALLIES RESUME ADVANCE ALONG WEST FRONTIER

It is argued, could be laid at the rate of ten or twelve miles a day.

Allies in West Waiting. While it seems clear that Germany is operating its main force in Poland, there is still no outward indication of a general advance on the part of the allies in the west. That General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, is feeling out the situation seems apparent, but so long as artillery duels continue to constitute most of the fighting, only slow progress has been expected, as it is a military maxim that guns alone cannot bring a decision. Germany has shifted so many of its troops to the eastern arena that the allies must now clearly outnumber them in France and Flanders. This condition together with the forwarding of French and British reinforcements, is leading Berlin, according to report, to expect pronounced activity on the part of the allies at any moment.

French Tell of Victory at Ypres. PARIS, Dec. 15.—The official statement given out by the French war office this afternoon says the French have retained the territory they recently won along the Ypres canal, to the west of Hollebeke, in the Argonne and elsewhere. There has been artillery fighting from the Somme to the Argonne and in Alsace. German infantry gained a foothold near Steinbach. The text of the communication follows: "Between the sea and the Lys the English have occupied the little forest to the west of Wytchaete. The ground gained yesterday by our troops along the Ypres canal and to the west of Hollebeke has been retained in spite of a vigorous counter attack on the part of the enemy.

"From the Belgian frontier to the Somme there is nothing to report. From the Somme to the Argonne there has been intermittent cannonading. Excepting in the region of Crouy this artillery fighting has not been spirited. In the Argonne we have made progress and retained the advances made by us on preceding days.

"In the Vosges the railroad station of St. Leonard, to the south of St. Die, has been violently bombed by the Germans from a considerable distance.

"In Alsace there has been much activity on the part of the enemy's artillery, with the exception of before Steinbach, where an attack by German infantrymen, commanded by Uffholtz, was successful in gaining a foothold. We have everywhere retained the positions won previously by us."

DEMURRAGE CHARGES HELD TO BE LEGALLY CHARGED

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—In the complaint of H. N. Jewell of Omaha against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company, that demurrage charges on a carload of cedar posts from Shelbyville, Tenn., to Grand Island, Neb., were illegal, the Interstate Commerce commission found them to have not been unlawfully collected. The minimum weight applied was not found to have been unreasonable.

AMERICA TO SEND WARSHIPS TO CANAL

Goethals for two destroyers, was due to a lack of information. Mr. Garrison explained that the edition had sent two messages, one asking for the destroyers without specifying the purpose of their use.

In reply to a message of inquiry on the latter point, Colonel Goethals explained that the wireless regulations were being violated in canal waters and referred to the mine of the canal zone as a base of supplies.

The War department again asked for specific instances of what had occurred, but tonight no further information had been received. On a full explanation of conditions in the canal zone depend exactly what action will be taken and under what departmental jurisdiction.

If the canal zone is being used as a base of supplies, Colonel Goethals will be instructed to use his land forces to prevent such violations. Should it develop that the wireless is being used within territorial waters, the Navy department will ask for an explanation from its naval officers, as the question of wireless regulation was placed by executive order of President Wilson, August 5, in the hands of the Navy department for enforcement, and Colonel Goethals, according to the War department officials, has no authority over the radio situation whatsoever.

STIMSON SAYS NAVY OF OFFENSE NEEDED

spending $90,000,000 a year on an army of only 90,000 men, of whom only 30,000 are available within the United States for general mobile service today.

"We are spending $200,000,000 on our army and navy. Why should not we spend this so as to produce the most efficient result possible rather than a result which is admittedly inefficient?"

Mr. Stimson outlined the naval policy which would keep the American navy on the defensive in guarding the coast in the event of war.

"In order to defend this country the navy must be free to fight the enemy's fleet wherever that enemy can be fought with the best chance of American success," he said. "Our navy must not be tied down to our coast."

"In the case of our army, our needs can be classified and summarized under three heads:

First Need.

"First, we need a moderate increase of our regular army, to be accomplished mainly by the introduction of a reserve system.

"Second, we need to lay the intelligent foundations upon which we can, when war comes, promptly organize the large citizen or volunteer army with which that war must be fought.

"Third, we must at once acquire a sufficient reserve of the field guns and ammunition and other war material which will be at once needed for the equipment of such a citizen army and yet which cannot be extemporized under emergency."

Mr. Stimson said the training of United States citizens from boyhood in the use of rifles, as in Switzerland and Australia, is imperative.

"I am informed that we have now 800 guns," continued Mr. Stimson, "and ammunition to serve them about one and one-half days. To send out modern infantry without the protection of field guns against an enemy armed with them, is simply murder."

WILSON WILL NOT MEDDLE IN ARMS EXPORT MATTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Various pending bills for cutting off exports of munitions of war and other articles to Europe have not been brought to the attention of President Wilson, he told callers today. He added he had taken no attitude toward the bills and would not interfere unless compelled by congressional leaders.
