By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, January 7, 1915.

NOW THAT the holidays are well over and the gossips have had a real good fling at the rest cure, they are bobbing up again this week with signs of new life and discussing the papers of Cupid during the Christmas festivities. These parties have always had a little way of their own of bringing the younger set together, and this time it is in the debutante set.

At all of the functions for this year's society is a certain young debutante has been constantly seen with the son of one of Omaha's oldest families. This miss received a most envied honor recently and the young man in question has until now successfully dodged the rumor darts, enjoying a nice, quiet existence. His older brother, however, has not been so fortunate, as he has twice been scheduled to take the grand matrimonial leap and is supposed even now by his favored friends to be planning a wedding trip—but owing to the prominence of the maid of the first man's heart and her residence amongst us—society is talking—and that is quite enough, you know.

COST OF RUNNING SCHOOLS IS LESS

Total Expenditures in 1914 Under 1913 Despite Increases in Pay of Teachers and Janitors.

FIGURES IN THE ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the financial affairs of the Board of Education shows total expenditures for 1914 less than for 1913, despite the fact that some salaries of teachers advanced under the automatic system in vogue which affords a continuous progress.

The total expenditures for 1914 were $2,377,94, as against $2,366,75 in 1913. The teachers' pay received in aggregate was $1,278,651. In 1913, $1,264,493. The increase is partly due to additional teachers to meet enlarged requirements, but also to the permanent system by which salaries automatically increase with the teachers' advancement. For example, the pay of teachers in the elementary schools runs as follows:

Grade teacher without accredited experience, $29 for the first year; $30 for the second year; $30, third year; $30, fourth year; $30, fifth year; $30, sixth year; $30, seventh year; $30, eighth year; $30, thereafter. And the system applies also to other instructors, so that a larger budget for teachers' salaries is not necessarily an indication of money ill spent.

Liquor licenses for 1914 brought in $27,000, as against $25,000 in 1913, simply because of a decrease in the number of saloons from 27 to 25. Each saloon pays $1,000 a year toward the education of a boy and girl.

Some Shifts Both Ways. The total tax collections amounted last year to $623,222.34. For last year total $613,116, as against $56,421 for 1913; "improvements" $77,983, as against $69,315. Janitors' pay nets a relative increase, while that of office and clerical hire is slightly less than in 1913. There is a falling off in police court fines, explained by Judge Foster as due to numerous appeals; possibly, remissions also may account for some figure.

The state apportionment was $40,973.35. These are the larger items of income. Here is Secretary Bourke's official statement of general fund expenditures for 1914:

Advertising	72.34
Books	16,322.80

Tebbins has been a mail carrier in Omaha for forty-two years and is the oldest carrier in point of service.

He has never been off duty on account of sickness, his only vacations having been the annual events, and one leave of absence, resulting from an injury he received when on duty. He served three years in the union army during the civil war and marched with Sherman to the sea. In addition to participation in several big battles and sieges.

Mr. Tebbins is still hale and hearty and expects to continue in the service of Uncle Sam for several more years. He lives at 327 South Twenty-eighth street with his wife, who is just one year younger than he, and four children.

Muscle Makers for Boys in the Parks Hummel's Surprise

Commissioner Hummel has a dandy surprise party awaiting the girls and boys of Omaha. It is to come off with the break of spring.

Here it is: He will place in eight parks—Riverview, Deer and Hanscom on the south, Elmwood on the west, Bemis in the central section, Kountze, Miller and Fontenelle on the north—what Dick Grotte calls "muscle developers" for the girls, although if Dick had an eye for alliterative beauty he might make it muscle makers.

That will enable the park commissioner to turn over to the girls the slides, which they and boys have been using jointly heretofore, and which have been extremely popular.

These "muscle developers" combine two turning poles, two trapezes, two climbing poles and six traveling rings. They will reach a length six by side of forty-five feet. They have proved to be howling successes in other cities, and can be bought for reasonable prices. Their installation, Commissioner Hummel feels, will vastly enhance the possibilities of the parks for juvenile recreation and sport, and they have already had remarkable effect, he says.

Big Mortgage on New Hotel Filed

MANY SINGERS ARE COMING

At the club rooms of the Omaha Musik Verein, Seventeenth and Cass streets, Wednesday night a large number of the musically inclined German-Americans of Omaha met and organized the Omaha Saengerfest association, having for its principal purpose the management of the Saengerbund of the Northwest that will hold its meeting here during the coming summer. Officers were elected as follows:

President—Leo Hoffmann.
First Vice President—A. L. Meyer.
Second Vice President—Theodore Stinhold.
Secretary—Val J. Peter.
Treasurer—E. F. Meile.

Secretary Peter was given authority to name his assistant, and the two officers, together with the others elected, are empowered to name an executive committee of thirty persons to aid in carrying on the work incident to the holding of the meeting that is expected to bring anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000 people to the city during the week of Saengerfest.

Will Increase Membership. Steps were taken to immediately increase the membership of all the local German singing societies in order that a chorus of not less than 1,000 voices may be secured to take part in the concert that will be given. Prof. Theodore Rud Reese was elected musical director, and he announced that in the near future, as soon as he can get the singers together, practice will begin. In the meantime he will be anxious to get singers, and those, both men and women, who desire to join the chorus are requested to communicate with him. His telephone is Harney 471.

Chorus rehearsals will be at the Verein headquarters, Seventeenth and Cass streets, where, during the last few months, several thousand dollars have been expended in enlarging and refitting and refurbishing the auditorium.

The newly organized Saengerfest association is to become a permanent musical institution of the city. It is incorporated under the laws of the state and will devote its energies to building up music locally, bringing musical attractions to the city and fostering movements both in the city and in the state.

During the meeting numerous letters were read from musical organizations all over the west and central west, all pledging support to the Saengerfest to be held the coming summer and all indicating that the attendance will be large.

Keep Uric Acid Out of Joints

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to stimulate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-radic drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well—Advertisement.

A tiny but powerful gasoline engine built into an extra wheel and attachable to any bicycle in less than a minute is the latest gasoline achievement to be seen in Omaha.

A local motorcycle agent had a demonstrator riding about town yesterday afternoon, showing off the new wheel. The extra wheel, when attached to a bicycle, makes it look like a child's tri-cycle. The attachment weighs about seventy pounds and is said to cost about $30.

According to the man riding the machine yesterday, the engine is strong enough to pull rider and wheel up almost any hill and can attain a speed of forty miles an hour.
