A WELL-known man of affairs in Omaha, whose family connection spells legion, had a little idea up his sleeve he intends putting into action very soon.

This said individual, as he says himself, loves to be ultra and insists on doing things up to the moment. So to live up to this decision, he is going to add another page to the family Bible.

On being questioned as to the reason of such individuality, he answered:

"I insist on being a modern, up-to-the-moment man of affairs, so I will add a fourth sheet to my Bible with the appellation—'Divorces.'"

His Bible will then read: "Marriages—'Births—'Deaths—'Divorces'—"

And between you and me and the gate post, several names of his relatives who have become widows and widowers of the court, will soon grace this page so muchly a la mode.

Hudson-Nichols Wedding.
The wedding of Miss Adele Nichols and Mr. Charles B. Hudson was celebrated Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms, white roses and asparagus fern.

Miss Mildred Frost, a cousin of the bride, played the Lohengrin wedding march.

The marriage lines were read in the living room by Rev. Mr. Keyes of the Walnut Hill Methodist church. The bride was very attractive in a gown of ivory satin made with a draped tunic.

The bodice was of real lace and trimmed with seed pearls. Her tulle veil was held in place by a coronet cap of lace and caught with orange blossoms sent by Mrs. Hittelle from her home, Anaheim, in southern California. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eva Nichols, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of old rose crepe meter. The bodice and short tunic was made of lace and finished with a Russian girle of old rose velvet. She carried Mrs. Ward roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Wallace Fellows was best man. A reception followed the ceremony for about 100 guests.

The bride's go-away gown was of Copenhagen blue broadcloth. With this was worn a Tipperary turban of straw.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson have gone east on their wedding trip and will be at home after the first of February in the Ohio apartments in Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. Hudson is connected with the Burlington railroad in Lincoln.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Frost, Lynch, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Orngan, Heaver Crossing, Neb.

Miss Mildred Frost, Lynch, Neb. Mr. Raymond Allen, McCook, Neb.

With the Wayfarers.
Mr. and Mrs. George Brandeis will leave the last of the month for New York City, to be gone several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. B. A. McDermott will leave this evening for Chicago, where they will spend the week end.

Informal Luncheon.
Mrs. Jerome Magee of Billings, Mont., who is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Herman Kountze, was honor guest today at an informal luncheon given by Mrs. D. C. Bradford.

Fine Arts Lecture.
Prof. I. B. Stoughton Holborn will give the third of a series of lectures on "The Inspiration of Greek Art," before the Omaha Society of Fine Arts, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Young Woman's Christian association auditorium. This lecture will be on "Homer and Early Discoveries in Homeric Land."

WOMAN BURNED IN SAYING HER RING
Fights Her Way to Dresser Through Flames in Order to Get Her Wedding Ring.

FIREMEN THEN RESCUE HER
To save her wedding ring, Mrs. Theodore O. King, 178 Cass street, allowed herself to be trapped by stifling clouds of black smoke and a wall of flame, at 4 yesterday morning, while she fought her way to a dresser where the small gold band lay. She slipped the ring on her finger and ran to a window screaming for help. Fireman Arthur Olson of Company No. 3, Nineteenth and Harney streets, was the first to reach the window and he bore her in safety to the ground. Other firemen wrapped their rubber coats about her thinly clad form and carried her to a neighboring house.

The King lives upstairs over the Courtney stables, which caught fire early this morning, supposedly caused by tramps, who sneaked in and were careless with matches. Theodore King is employed at Courtney's as a barman and driver. He was badly burned while saving the four hundred dollars which were in the place at the time.

Mrs. King was scorched about the face and arms, and her nightgown was burning when Fireman Olson took her to safety. Olson sacrificed his eyebrows and part of his hair in making the rescue.

Police surgeon Innes applied first aid to the injured, and the two homeless ones were housed at headquarters for the night.

The stable was almost entirely destroyed. The damage is thought to be over $500.

MRS. MARY KINNEY SENDS MARRIAGE LICENSE BACK
"This license has not been used and will not be used."

The above note was received at the court house, accompanied by a marriage license issued November 5, 1914, to Thomas F. Kinney. It was returned by Mrs. Mary Kinney who was married to Thomas as his first wife, divorced him three years ago and prepared to marry him for the second time November 5, only to "change her mind again."

In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Available everywhere.—Advertisement.

QUITs STATE MILITIA TO JOIN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY
Harold T. Peterson of Kearney didn't find the Nebraska National Guard sufficiently warlike to suit him and saw no prospect of being enrolled in the armies of the Germans or the allies. So he did the best he could, being a citizen of a peaceful country that is at peace, and enlisted in the navy as apprentice seaman at the local recruiting station. He presented a certificate of honorable discharge from the National Guard, because one cannot belong to the navy and the army at the same time. He will proceed at once to the Great Lakes naval training station, Chicago.

BLACKSMITH HURT WHEN KICKED OVER LEFT EYE
Dennis Lynch, employe at the J. P. Moore blacksmith shop at 1312 Howard street, while shoeing a horse, was badly hurt when he was kicked over the left eye and rendered unconscious for over an hour. Dr. C. B. Feltz was called and had the injured man removed to his home at 1118 South Twelfth street. He is a member of the Horseshoers' union.

Team Runs Away, Coal Driver Injured
Joseph LaHood, driver for the Nebraska Fuel company, was seriously injured when his team ran away on the St. Mary's avenue hill. LaHood was coming down the hill and the wheels of his wagon slipped. This frightened the horses and they started to run. LaHood was thrown from the seat and one of the wheels passed over his leg close to the knee, crushing the bones into splinters.

Running down the hill, LaHood's team collided with another team, upsetting both wagons, injuring all four horses and converting the wagons into scrap. The injured man was taken to the Wise Memorial hospital and it is thought his leg will have to be amputated.

WATCHMAN IS WANTED FOR 40TH AND LEAVENWORTH
Residents near Fortieth and Leavenworth streets have petitioned the city commission for such action as will result in the stationing of a watchman at that intersection. The matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

This is one of the Belt Line railroad crossings. It is now guarded by a bell, which is said to go wrong as frequently as right and amount to nothing, so far as safety is concerned.

TRIES TO THROW PEPPER INTO EYES OF OFFICER
Clarence Smith, arrested for theft of a watch from Friedla's second-hand store, 708 North Sixteenth street, attempted to throw red pepper in the eyes of George Emery as the latter was bringing him to headquarters. Smith is being held for further investigation.

NEW THEATER ON FARNAM STREET
J. E. Schlank Secures Ninety-Nine-Year Lease on 132 Feet Just West of Sixteenth.

WILL BUILD ON ENTIRE LOT
Jacob E. Schlank, proprietor of the Hipp theater, has leased for ninety-nine years the 132-foot frontage on the south side of Farnam street, between the Board of Trade and the Patterson buildings.

Terms of the lease were not made public, but it is said that they amount to about 5 per cent per annum on a valuation of $500,000 or $600,000. The George Warren Smith estate of New York owns the property. No option or purchase is included in the deal.

Upon the expiration of the present lease, which has about two years yet to run, Mr. Schlank will erect a substantial building covering the entire 132 feet of Farnam street frontage, at a cost of about $300,000, it is said. A. P. Tukey & Son will act as agents for the lessee.

A large, up-to-date motion picture theater will occupy part of the proposed building, it is said, and stores and offices will take up the remaining space. The property is now occupied by the temporary quarters of the United States National bank and by six other tenants, with only one-story buildings.

Lease Calls for Building.
"The lease requires that improvements worth at least $100,000 shall be made upon the property," says Mr. Schlank. "I expect that the theater alone will cost that much. We will build it on the rear half of the lot, extending the entire width. It will seat about 2,000 people and will be run by myself as an exclusive 'movie' house. It will have an entrance from Farnam street."

"Plans for the building on the front half of the property have not been outlined yet, as we don't know whether the upper floors will be for offices or a hotel. Stores will take up the street level. The building will be at least eight stories high. Over $700,000 in capital is represented by the syndicate of Omaha and eastern men who will back the project."

Negotiations for the valuable property have been pending for several weeks, but were only closed when Mr. Schlank went to New York last week and spent several days. A syndicate with $700,000 to invest originally had planned to lease the property, but a misunderstanding delayed the matter. Then new negotiations were made direct by the "movie" man, who first tried to get sixty-six feet and later leased the entire 132 feet owned by the Smith estate. The lease has not yet been filed.

Ice Cutting Has Been Resumed Here
The ice harvest, interfered with by the recent warm weather, has resumed and several hundred men are finding employment on the lakes and reservoirs in and around Omaha.

It is asserted that ten days more cold weather will be sufficient to enable the ice dealers to gather a bumper crop.

When the warm spell set in it was asserted that about 75 per cent of the normal ice crop had been gathered. The warm weather did not continue long enough to honeycomb the ice, though it made it a bit soft on the upper side and prevented freezing on the under. The cold snap of the last few days has made the ice solid top and bottom. As a result ice fourteen to sixteen inches thick and as solid as steel is being harvested.

Advices Women to Send All Tramps to Headquarters
Mrs. George Doane, in charge of the local Associated Charities, urged Omaha housewives not to feed tramps who come to their door, but to send them to headquarters, where their wants will be met.

"Food and clothing will be provided for them and work whenever possible. Mrs. Doane told of the work of the charities and asserted that money was not being expended unwisely, as each case was investigated and a record kept of assistance given. This talk was given at the first of a series of suffrage teas, which was held by the Omaha Suffrage association at the home of Mrs. Thomas Brown Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Beattie Randall of the Visiting Nurse association, urged the necessity for a baby milk station in the Italian district and told of the great amount of food that had been accomplished in teaching foreign mothers proper care and feeding of infants. "Another need of the city is a place where the mentally incompetent and 'dope' fiends can be cared for," she said. A high tribute was paid Mrs. Herbert Rogers, who inspired the Visiting Nurse association.

Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, chairman of the City Central Suffrage committee, explained plans for the success of the local production of the suffrage movie, "Your Girl and Mine," in February. Coupon books, to be sold, were distributed among the women. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. A. M. Kincaid.

British of Omaha Send Another $500 to War Sufferers
John Dale dispatched Wednesday $500 subscribed by Omaha sympathizers to Europe for distribution to Belgian and English war sufferers. This makes a total of $2,500 sent by the British Empire Association of Omaha to Europe.

Heavy Snow All the Way to Mountains
While there is no blizzard in sight, according to reports yesterday to the railroads, all over Nebraska a snow-storm that is heavier than the one of last Saturday has been general since early Wednesday night. When the reports to headquarters were filed at yesterday morning all through the western and central portions of Nebraska the new snow had attained a depth of from four to six inches and was still falling.

In the eastern portion of Nebraska the snow did not begin to fall until after 7 o'clock, but after that hour it continued most of the day. In the Black Hills and over the country to the north new snow to a depth of from six to fourteen inches had fallen. A greater portion of Wyoming reported a similar conditions.

The railroads reported the storm traveling east and at noon it was said to have spread pretty well over Iowa, reaching down into Kansas and Missouri.

Union Pacific Asks $45,000 Judgment from Rock Island
The Rock Island railroad owes the Union Pacific $45,000, according to allegations made by the latter in a suit in district court, and judgment for this amount is asked.

Of the total $42,197 is unpaid charges for handling local freight, including storage charges and other expenses, the petition asserts. The remainder consists of amounts alleged due for use of the Union Pacific bridge over the Missouri and use of the plaintiff's tracks from Kansas City to Topeka, Kan.

BLONBERG IS HELD UNDER THE MANN ACT
Carl Blonberg, charged under the Mann act with taking Dora M. Ellwood to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada, in April, 1913, was taken in charge by United States officers at the expiration of a police court sentence on another charge and given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Daniel in the federal building. He was held under $2,000 bond for a hearing Saturday morning.

MANY MISTAKES IN VOTE COUNTING
In Scarcely a Precinct Does the Official Count Tally with the Recount.
MANY MISTAKES ARE MADE
Ballot counting troubles in Omaha were not cured by the election commissioner's appointment of specially qualified men for this purpose, according to the results of the recount of the Foster-Madden vote, just finished in the county court. In all the eighty-odd precincts in the city proper there were but six precincts in which the recount showed that the original count of ballots had been correct.

The election commissioner office is said to have been surprised at the changes shown by the recount, but blamed them partly on the long ballot, which caused judges and clerks to work far into the night.

"It is not surprising that men become tired when compelled by the long ballot to work far into the night, and they naturally make mistakes," said Deputy Commissioner Henry Ostrom.

Discrepancy in First Ward.
In the First precinct of the First ward the original count showed ninety-three votes for Madden and forty-seven for Foster. The recount showed seventy-six for Madden and fifty-seven for Foster. There were many other discrepancies in the downtown wards, notwithstanding that the election commissioner made a special effort to pick high-class men for judges and clerks there.

In the Fifth of the First the recount gave Madden a net gain of twelve votes, the original count having given Madden eight votes less than he received and Foster four votes more than he really got.

More Mistakes.
In the Fifth of the Twelfth the original count gave Foster seven votes less than those actually cast for him and gave Madden one too many. In a precinct in the Eleventh ward the original count gave Madden six votes too many.

The original totals were: Foster, 7,960; Madden, 7,748. The totals shown by the recount were: Foster, 8,006; Madden, 7,812. Foster gained fifty-six votes by the recount and Madden gained sixty-four.
