Wednesday, January 27, 1915.

TRANGERS often observe things that we ourselves either do not seor overlook, and when they hand out compliments that they really mean, it is much more gratifying than an exchange of mutual aumiration among ourselves. A periodical visitor to Omaha, whose epinion is worth having, told me that the improvement in the attire of our women was the most striking thing he noted-even more than the inprovement in the appearance of the city,

"I have always had an opportunity to see the people dressed for various occasions-street, theater, dinners, dances-and the up-to-dateness is constantly in evidence." is the way he put it. "I don't know a city in the country-not even New York City-where a theater audience shows up better than it does in Omaha when the society crowd is in attendance. I was at a dance not long ago where every woman there would have been eligible to any ball room floor in the country. On the street, too, though not in such great numbers, the well dressed women are strictly in style without overdoing it, and that is saying a whole lot in these days of freak

Now to me, knowing with what experience my authority could speak, although the pame would carry weight only with those personally acquainted with him, this sounded just too good to keep to myself. Such reputation must be maintained, and I am sure it will be if our women realize that it devolves on them to uphold it.

Moths Eat His Dress Suit.

What pesky little things moths are, especially when they get into your fulldress suit just about fifteen minutes before you are due at a dinner party! Such a castrophe-castrophe is said with intent-stured blandly at one of our gay young bachelors not so awfully many

The dinner was set for 7 o'clock at the Omaha club, and with just about time to be on time and properly in tune this couth jerked out his best bib and tucker and discovered it to be full of moth holes. Portunately, he is possessed with a keen sense of humor, and in the most casual way possible Mr. B. sent his regrets and supplied a substitute for his hostess.

General Smith Weds.

Brigadier General Frederick A. Smith, U. S. A., retired, formerly stationed here, was married today in New York City to Mrs. Robert Hedenor.

The ceremony was celebrated very quietly at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. E. Wayne Hullett at 274 West Eighty-fourth street.

General Smith is 64 years old and has seen much service both in this country and the Philippines. Mrs. Hedener was formerly Miss Emma Mandeville of New York City and the romance dates back to the days of General Smith's school years at the United States Military academy. Just before the general retired in 1913 he was in command of the Fifth brigade, which went to Vera Cruz. He was refleved by General Funaton.

W. R. Burbank Loses No Time in Joining Forces of Samson

W. R. Burbank, president of the Ponte nelle Hotel company and manager of the new hotel, which is to open in February, has just joined forces with King Ak-Sar-Ben. Mr. Burbank halls from New York, and now that he has made Omaha his home he lost no time in joining the ranks of the big booster organization of the city and state. There is, however, method in this act which other Omahans will wish they had patterned after, for Samson has announced that the first 500 who join will not be subjected to the cruelties of initiation this year. That is some bait held out to prospective members. They are biting at it in good shape, and that is why Samson already has a few hundred names on his list of members and already has a few hundred $10 bills in the treasury. Wee unto the five hundred and first man who joins, for beginning with him there will be such a grilling and mauling at the Den, such an accumulation of hardships as are seldom assembled short of the trenches of Europe.

Revival of Carmen Big Operatic Event of Present Season

With such unusual interest attaching to these "Carmen" performances, the Victor is to be congratulated upon its enterprise in presenting in the February list of new Victor records four "Carmen" records by Geraldine Farrar and one by Frances Alda, which added to the Victor "Carmen" records by Caruso and Amato already issued gives everyone the opportunity to hear this all-star cast in this great success. The four Farrar records. are the four principal airs from 'Carmen," "Love is Like a Wood Bird," "Near the Walls of Seville." the gypay song and "Away to Yonder Mountains," and they are perhaps the most beautiful in her entire list. Latter is Formed. WORK IS NOW WELL UNDER WAY

While old Boreas is blowing his chilly a bunk room to provide sleeping quarters blasts o'er bill and dule and the weather s unpropitious for much outdoor work. Superintendent J. B. Hummel of the parks and boolevards is preparing a tentative program for recreational activities in the parks this season.

It is the plan of the superintendent to all probability the recreation board will reported. The campaign will continue Rev. C. A. Hulbert, paster of the have about $30,000 to work with and Mr. until February 6. Hummel hopes to have some money from the park fund for recreation features which are now being developed in this city on an unprecedented scale.

Mr. Hummel announces that one of the first improvements will be the erection of an addition to the municipal bath house at Carter lake, this addition to be 30x100 feet. There are now twelve dressing rooms for men and boys and twelve for women and girls at the municipal beach. and it is believed the improvement will extend the number to fifty for each sex. In addition there will be general dressing rooms, with checking facilities. Shower baths will also be installed. This work will have been completed by the time the bathing season is on.

Grandatands will be crected in Miller and Fontenelle parks similar in size and design as the one in the municipal playground at Thirty-first and Dewey avenue. The park department bought 4,000 feet of pipe out of the 1914 funds, and during the early spring the pipe will be installed in Miller park for a sprinkling system. A footbridge ntnety-six feet long and eight feet wide has just been completed in Miller park, connecting the playground and laland. As far as the funds will atiow it is planned to establish bathing beaches and wading pools in sometcf the parks. Mr. Hummel feels confident that these beaches and pools will be opened in at least two of the parks this spring or early summer, perhaps in more than two parks, depending upon the status of
