TWO HELD JUBILEE TOGETHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Richard D. Yates, former governor of Illinois, is named as co-respondent in a divorce complaint filed here today by Edward R. Freeman, a photographer of Eureka, Cal., against Emma B. Freeman.

The complaint alleges that Mrs. Freeman and Yates traveled together from Eureka to San Francisco in July, 1913. Among the charges made by Freeman against his wife are:

That she permitted Yates to hug her in every tunnel the train went through, at every bridge and every time the whistle blew for a crossing. That she celebrated her arrival here with him by a jubilee at a public cafe.

Woman's Quick Wit Aids in Recovering Stolen Horses

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Feb. 2.—(Special.)—The quick wit and keen observation of a woman frustrated the plans of a daring horse thief and resulted in the recovery of the stolen horses, but the horse thief made his escape after firing one ineffective shot at the officers who, put on his trail by the woman, followed him so closely that he was compelled to abandon the stolen animals and make a run for it to protect his capture.

Mrs. Peter Smith, wife of the proprietor of a store and the postoffice at Mullen, was the heroine of the affair. She had just finished reading a reward placard which had been sent broadcast through Gregory county announcing a reward for the recovery of a bunch of horses stolen from W. F. Gardner and C. A. Vance, Gregory county ranchers, and the capture of the thief, when she glanced out of one of the windows and saw the horses described being driven past the store. The man driving the horses cared for them and returned to the store for a bunch and to get warm, as the day was bitterly cold. As soon as the rider had departed she notified the officers by telephone and they soon were on the scene, taking up the trail. They followed the thief with such speed and persistency that he abandoned the horses in a canyon near the Snake creek crossing. While the officers were talking possession of the horses she calmly appeared on horseback on a hill above them. He fired one shot at the officers and then disappeared.

Another Corrick Gets Legislative Position

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Feb. 2.—(Special.)—Further evidence that the democratic party is truly grateful for the assistance rendered by Colonel Frank P. Corrick and his bulwark voters in turning the republicans out of the state house and giving the democrats the first taste of the offices they have had for half a century was given when the legislature convened by the appointment of one of Colonel Corrick's sons to a position in the senate.

Gain of Five Cents Over Monday Marks Another Record for the City.

CORN IS ALSO VERY STRONG

Wheat on the Omaha Grain exchange made another sensational advance Tuesday, going to $1.56 per bushel, a gain of five cents over Monday. This was paid for a car of choice stuff for milling purposes.

Receipts Only Fair

Omaha receipts were only fair, there being twenty-two cars of wheat, 116 of corn and nineteen of oats on the market. The heavy movement of grain to the south has set in and it is expected to continue for some time.

Big Jump at Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Wheat raced upward in price today, first sales showing a jump of as much as 5¢ cents a bushel. The May delivery touched $1.53, the top figure to which the market went in the famous deal by James A. Patton in 1913.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Extraordinary efforts were exerted today and tonight by administration leaders of the senate to save the government ship purchase bill from threatened defeat or consignment to a pigeonhole for this session of congress.

Up to a late hour tonight with the democratic majority still struggling over the legislative dilemma, nothing but tentative plans of procedure had been disclosed. These included propositions for revision of the pending bills to draw support from progressive republican senators and proposals designed to win back, at least six of the seven democrats who joined with the republicans yesterday in an effort to send the measure back to the commerce committee.

Activities of Day. Preliminary skirmishes at the capital and White House were begun early in the day. President Wilson conferred with several progressive republican senators in regard to their ideas on the proposed legislation, the democratic majority considered methods of procedure to regain its lost ground, and the seven recalcitrant democrats conferred among themselves with the avowed purpose of standing firm until satisfactory terms should be presented to them.

Insurgents Approached

Revolving democrats, Senators Bankhead, Clarke, Camden, Hardwick, Hitchcock, O'Gorman and Vandaman, were approached by the caucus committee several times during the day and asked for a stipulation of terms upon which they might reconsider their attitude with a reservation that it might first be wise to recommit the bill.

Here They Clash

Insofar as prohibition of purchase of foreign ships now laid up in this country is concerned, such a stipulation was proposed by some of the progressive republican senators. They, however, do not favor the government shipping corporation as a temporary measure, and suggested amendments whereby it would be instituted as a permanent venture.

Need Business System

"There are $2,500,000 in three educational bills," said Mr. Taylor. "Why not say to the governor, 'We are not competent how this shall be spent.' In the $2,500,000 appropriated for running the state, why not say, 'Take it and spend it as you like.' Our system needs a change. We must have a business system."

RUSSIANS LOSE LINE OF TRENCHES

Official Report from Petrograd Tells of Series of Bloody Encounters Near Warsaw.

VICTORIES AT SOME POINTS

PETROGRAD, Feb. 2.—Renewal of a fierce offensive by the Germans in the region of Sochaczew and Borjow, on the road to Warsaw, is admitted in an official statement issued here today. The violence of the German attack, the statement says, compelled some of the Russian units to retire to the second line of trenches. The communication was as follows:

"On the right bank of the lower Vistula on January 31, our cavalry made a sudden and successful assault upon the German line along the front between Breun and lake Orzeszko, fifteen versts (ten miles) north of Sierpez, capturing many officers and soldiers. The attempt of the Germans on the 30th to open the offensive movement in the direction of Lipno and Dobryn, supported by artillery fire, was checked.

Loss First Line of Trenches

"Simultaneously with this attack on Borjow, the Germans delivered a series of ferocious assaults against our front between the villages of Gominie, Bourgade and Moghly. These attacks were supported by heavy artillery fire. Up to midday of January 31 every one of these assaults was driven back by us, some by our rifle fire and with the bayonet. But between midday and 2 p. m. of January 31, the Germans were successful in occupying a part of our trenches. In this they were helped largely by an energetic and sustained artillery fire. A little after 2 o'clock we undertook a general counter attack. This was successful and, as a result of it, the enemy the evening of January 31, retained but a little portion of our first line trenches, together with a certain chateau in the country.

More Fighting in Carpathians

The fighting in the Carpathians continues. In spite of the reported participation of fresh Austrian troops, which, up to the present time have actually appeared on our front, we were successful in repelling every endeavor of the enemy to assume the offensive in the vicinity of Mount Beak and Mount Wysskow, and we are continuing to adjust this made it possible for us to resist their fierce attack.

FIGHT FOR MOUNTAIN PASSES

Austrians Making Desperate Efforts to Get Possession of Three Strategic Points.

RAIDERS SCARE BRITISH SHIPS

The Day's War News

NEW GERMAN attack on the Warsaw front has led to some of the heaviest fighting of the war in the east thus far. An official statement issued from Petrograd admits the Germans succeeded in carrying Russian trenches in the region of Sochaczew and Borjow, near the Vistula and about thirty miles west of Warsaw, but states that the German successes were of small importance compared with the losses they sustained.

BATTLE for possession of the Carpathian passes continues without definite success for either the Russians or Austrians.

GREAT BRITAIN has declared foodstuffs destined for Germany, Austria or Turkey contraband of war.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Germans, after a long period of preparation, appear today, judging from reports reaching London, to be putting into execution their plans for an advance on Warsaw. At the same time the Austrians seem to have renewed their forward movement in the Carpathian mountains.

The fighting in the Carpathians is expected to decide for the period of the war the mastery of three most important passes through the mountains—Usok, Dukla and Wysskow. The strategic value of these passes is indicated by the fact that Wysskow is almost due south of Lemberg, while Usok is in the same relative position from Przemysl, and Dukla is situated similarly with regards to Cracow. The fighting apparently has not yet assumed full proportions, but the Austro-German concentration is progressing, notwithstanding Russian harassment.

Fierce Fights Near La Bassée

Spirited contests also are in progress in the western war zone, the Germans having made attacks in force at La Bassée and along the coast. The French assert that the battle at La Bassée has not resulted in a change of positions, while along the coast the German attack is directed at the recovery of the Great Dune an artillery position near Lemberghaye, which, however, remains in the possession of the allies.

London's Zepplins scare of last night, now appears to have been in the nature of a rehearsal. No foundation is discoverable for the rumors that German aircraft were traveling over Dover.

The German submarine raiders, although not known positively to have been in the Irish Sea within the last twenty-four hours, still hold in port a majority of the coasting steamers and fishing boats.
