And Defeat the Fats

The "Leans" captured the game last vening at South Omaha. The score was 8 to 4, and in getting their lead the "Leans" made a total of two fouls. The 'Fats' made none (evidently too fat). Harry Nixon, once a Cornhusker in his early days, was mostly responsible for the "Lean" victory, and besides playing a rattling good game in teamwork, made

Paul Shields, sr., weighing something less than 200 pounds, along with Dean Ringer, a former Cornhusker star and now a 20-pounder, made things rather hot for the "Leans" at first, but sad to say their wind falled them. When the ball landed under the "Fat" goal, however, it was Shields who always came near scoring a two-pointer, The game was fully worth the money
