ways thought a lot of the rangy pitcher. He put in two good seasons for Omaha, then went to Detroit, where he was more than making good when, before the end of 1814, affliction laid its grip upon him and he went to the bench never to return. Mark was in the very loom of youth-29 years of age-strong. ctive and promising. His loss will be it by the Tigers, for the team had parned to rely upon him. There was this bout Hall-he never shirked; he always ave his team, minor or major, the best had. And that is something that nnot be said for every ball player.

The way several of those Boston aves are slipping into Federal harness ight suggest doubt on their part of the aves' ability to repeat in 1915. For orld's series money makes up for a lot if regular pay, you know. But then, of course, the season has not opened yew and maybe the Feds won't have as many Braves when they start as they have now. It's a gay life, this jockeying for a start, with one's weather eye out for the highest bid. .

Even if we do return to the one-umpire system in the Western league, we shall Winell. not kick if all umps are on a par with Dan Syckle. After all, it is quality, not quantity, that counts most in umpires. A dozen on the field at once of one or two brands we might name if we were impolite enough, would not be as good as one of the Syckle variety.

Old Billy Sullivan, veteran catcher for the White Sox, who was finally handed unconditional release, has decided to ask Ban Johnson for a job umpiring. We should say, at a rough guess, that Bill would make an A-1 umpire, for he is cool, heady and square.

Harry Caseldy and McCarty of Denver are, reports say, still holding out. Well, it is quite a while yet till they actually have to come in. They'll be there like good boys when the gong rings, don't Harry will, anyway, Harry with the "silver threads among the brown."

Well, even if the Johnson-Willard flasco should not finaco at all, in Havana, Juaren, or anywhere else, the war might survive and run right along as if nothing had happened.

Jimmy Austin has heard the home call and returned to the Browns' fold, passing up his Federal contract. But what's contract between ball players these days?

That's the stuff, Beatrice raises funds for a team and grounds in two hours. Here's to Beatrice and may it have a good season of it, too.

my chair and kept playing all the time I sat playing solitairs an hour after the last man left the table. I claim that's some marathoning."
