A small tea a few days ago, which incidentally was served from a most attractive new Coalport tea set, which tea-ed beautifully and brought forth comments of satisfaction and appreciation from all, the subject waxed strongly of retrospection and the eligible young men of the community.

"Speaking of eligible young men," spoke up a dainty maid, "what has become of that perfect Adonis from New York City, who made all the young hearts at the Country club flutter a while ago?"

The conversation went on to describe him as being very magnificent, and it seems his Omaha calendar was dated up to the limits almost before his appearance on the scene. One of our well-known men of affairs introduced him at dinner fourtimes to a select few.

But, herein lies the sting! Do you know that he claims to have left Omaha without sending a box of candy or a single flower to any of the Omaha maids or mesdames?

Gallagher-Kincaid Wedding

The wedding of Mr. Paul C. Gallagher and Miss Rachael Kincaid of Kansas City will be celebrated Wednesday, March 24, at St. Xavier's church in Kansas City. It will be a small church wedding, followed by a reception at the bride's home for the wedding guests.

Mr. Gallagher and his bride will go to California on their wedding trip.

Hamlin-Nash Concert

The concert to be given jointly by Mr. George Hamlin and Miss Frances Nash Monday afternoon, March 8, promises to be a popular affair. Mr. Hamlin is to be a guest at the Fontenelle while in Omaha and many affairs are being planned for him there. Boxes for this performance have been engaged by:

Vassar Club to Theater

A great deal of local interest is attached to the coming of Miss Jean Webster's play, "Daddy Longlegs," to the Brandeis theater this week, owing to the fact that Miss Webster was a classmate while at Vassar of Mrs. Arthur Gulou. Miss Webster is an enthusiastic alumna of Vassar college and was always a popular member of the literary clubs of the institution. She belongs to an erudite line of ancestors, but is particularly proud of being a niece of the humorist, Mark Twain.

The Vassar clubs in all parts of the country welcome Miss Webster's play and when the production was last seen in New York City, the club together with a large contingent of college girls attended the performance in a body.

The Vassar club members here are planning to attend the production and include:

Mesdames: Arthur Gulou, W. C. Scannon, F. W. Crawford, Warren Blackwell, N. P. Updike, Hilda Hammer, Elizabeth Bruce.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Purcell entertained Saturday in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in games and music. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lindner, Mrs. Voss, Mr. E. B. Huse and Mr. H. J. Lindner. The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames: H. J. Lindner, Tom Conoley, A. L. Ewing, M. Nelson, Messrs: Dudley, Beelick, Misses: E. Lindner, Messrs: E. B. Huse, V. Forsberg, Henry Lindner, Jr.

News of the Wayfarers

Mrs. Samuel Katz is a guest at the Hotel Eastman at Hot Springs, Ark. She was accompanied to the springs by Miss Fay L. Heron of Little Rock. Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Taylor, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Herbert Gannett, in Buffalo, N. Y., since Christmas, are now at Sarasota, Fla., where they will remain until April.

Club Entertained

Mrs. W. H. Taylor entertained the Team Auction Bridge club this afternoon. The members are:

Mesdames: Vanell Baum, Will Clark, W. J. Burgess, John Weitzell, R. E. Harris, Mrs. Mary, Harley Moorhead, W. H. Taylor.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Eugene Duval and daughter, Miss Alice, will return Wednesday from an extended visit in Florida. Mr. Duval has gone to Chicago to accompany them home.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDowell are at the Ponce de Leon at St. Augustine, Fla.

In and Out of the Bee Hive

Miss Frances Nash left last evening for Chicago for the week. Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm is spending the day in Lincoln, the guest of Mrs. Howard Kennedy.

Error in Name Corrected

Owing to a printer's error, the name of Mrs. T. R. Kimball was used in The Sunday Bee in connection with the superintending of the canvas hanging for the Fine Arts exhibit. Instead of Mr. Kimball, Mr. Kimball, however, will not assist at the exhibition now installing.

Original Monday Bridge Club

Mrs. O. T. Eastman was hostess this afternoon at the regular meeting of the Original Monday Bridge Club. Eight guests were present and the members sewed for the Child's Saving Institute.

Uncle Joe Recalls Buggy He Sold to Henry Fontenelle

"Uncle Joe" Redman at the court house cast his thoughts backward to 1867, and out of his memories of pioneer days in Nebraska brought a story about Henry Fontenelle, brother of the Indian chief for whom the Fontenelle hotel was named. Uncle Joe sold a buggy to Henry and "traded" him for $175 of the purchase price, which the latter faithfully paid later in logs delivered at "Dudley's mill."

Henry Fontenelle, who was chief of the Omaha tribe, which at that time had lost much of its former power, visited twice at my home in 1867," said Uncle Joe. "He came from the Blackbird agency with his wife and child and a nurse on his way to Washington to sign the last of the treaties with the Omahas. I had a house where Sixteenth and Izard is now.

"On his return from Washington he stopped there, again, I had a buggy made by Andrew Simpson, who died just the other day, which I sold to Fontenelle. He bought it and paid me $50 cash and $175 in logs delivered at Dudley's mill."

Uncle Joe never saw Logan Fontenelle.

Omaha Takes Quickly to Fontenelle Hotel

With almost 300 guests registered at Hotel Fontenelle, and with capacity business in the public dining rooms during the lunch period, Omaha's new $1,250,000 hotelery seems to be already well established in public favor.

A continuous procession of business and professional men was seen entering the Fontenelle at noon, they having apparently chosen the hotel for headquarters during leisure hours. The tea and dining rooms were also well patronized by women.

Several dinner and dancing parties will be given within the next few days. Last night Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Bradbury entertained a number of guests for dinner and dancing, and a similar party of twenty-five will be given by Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Spliesberger.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderrine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderrine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch. —Advertisement.

A Fine Treatment For Catarrh

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE—The first cause of Catarrh, head noise, sore throat, asthma, or Catarrhal deafness, here is a fine recipe that often gives relief after other treatments have failed. Its effect is to loosen the mucus, usually most striking and positive. The correct method of treating Catarrh we believe is to employ the use of a cathartic which drives the catarrhal poisons from the system and at the same time by tonic action increases the vitality, which is usually lowered by this insidious disease. To do this we believe the following formula to be really the best prescription, as it acts quickly, costs little and can be easily prepared at home.

Your Druggist obtain one ounce of Peppermint (Mentha Strength), about 2c worth, take this home and add to it one-quarter of a pint of hot water and four ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the most miserable headache, dullness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharge, head noises and other loathsome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease.

Loss of smell, defective hearing and mucus oozing in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh and which may be overcome by the use of this simple treatment. Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. —Advertisement.

Wears His Arms Off in Husking Corn

P. B. Sexton, vagrant, who has the misfortune to be devoid of any sign of arms, was arraigned in police court Monday morning.

"How did you lose 'em?" asked Judge Britt, pointing to the empty sleeves. "Why, judge, just naturally wore them off husking corn," retorted Sexton with a smile.

The fellow, after the court had subsided, told the judge that both members were crushed when he fell from the rods be-

Gasoline Fatal To an Omaha Girl

Gasoline sold for coal oil resulted Sunday morning in the fatal burning of Miss Jennine Pedersen, domestic employed in the home of Lars P. Jensen, dairyman, 2308 South Forty-second street. She died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday morning.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Dufrene were held at the First Congregational church at 2 o'clock, with temporary burial at Prospect Hill cemetery. Later it is proposed to remove the body to Detroit, Mich., to be placed in the family burial lot there.

Services at both the church and the grave were conducted by Rev. F. T. Rouse, pastor of the church. Though not a member of the Congregational church, Mrs. Dufrene had affiliated with it for many years and had been a regular attendant. The services were very simple and were in strict accordance with wishes of Mrs. Dufrene, expressed a few days prior to her death. There was a selection on the organ, following which Rev. Mr. Rouse read the thirtieth chapter of Proverbs and from the thought gathered there briefly discussed the characteristics of the "Perfect Woman," designating Mrs. Dufrene as such. He also read a short sketch of the life of Mrs. Dufrene.

The services at the church were attended by a large number of the older residents of the city, besides many of the younger ones. Observing the wish of the deceased, friends had refrained from sending flowers. However, the casket was hidden from view by an immense blanket of pink roses, sent by relatives.

The pallbearers were: Charles Sherman, Thomas McCague, A. W. Carpenter, A. W. Jetter, Elmer Neville, Winn Sarason, C. F. Harrison, John W. Robbins.

GETS RESTRAINING ORDER TO KEEP INFANT CHILD

A restraining order forbidding his divorced wife, Mrs. Frieda T. Wrehe, and her mother, Mrs. Eloise Hachten, to take his infant daughter out of the jurisdiction of the district court has been secured by William Tietjens, an engineer in the plant of Morris & Co., South Omaha. He alleges the defendants are planning to defraud his right to the child by adoption of her on the part of the grandmother.

BOWIE STILL KEEPS MONEY

Has Not Made an Accounting of the Notary Fees that He Has Collected. BUTLER IS TO MAKE A CHANGE

A representative of the city department of accounts and finance has checked the books of Thomas Bowie, secretary in the office of Superintendent of Police A. C. Kugel, and has reported that during January and February Mr. Bowie collected $104.75 in notary fees.

These fees were all exacted from motor vehicle drivers, who paid $3 each for annual permits and 25 cents each for notary fee. Out of a total of 539 motor vehicle applications received by Mr. Bowie, he subscribed as notary to 419.

The city finance department announces that Mr. Bowie has not turned the $104.75 into the city treasury, according to their records.

Superintendent Dan Butler of the department of accounts announces that Mr. Bowie has not submitted a report of the permit money collected, reports being usual in all city departments where money is received.

Mr. Butler says he will also take up the matter of transferring this motor vehicle permit work to the city clerk's office, where he believes it rightfully belongs.

The system in vogue in Mr. Kugel's office and operated by Secretary Bowie is quite unusual in city hall practice. The city clerk issues all other licenses and permits.
