

EITEL FRIEDRICH CHASED INTO PORT

Three British War Vessels Were Within Few Miles of Converted Cruiser When It Reached United States Port.

HOLDS PAPERS OF THE FRYE

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 11.—Captain Thierichsen of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich late today formally informed Collector of Customs Hamilton that it was not his intention to intern his vessel and that unless the United States refuses to grant him the necessary time for repairs and restrains him, the converted cruiser will attempt to continue its voyage of adventure.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 11.—The crew of the American ship William F. Frye, sunk by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, were released from the Prinz Eitel Friedrich today. Twenty-two arrived, but two of German nationality remained behind and responded to colors of the fatherland by enlistment.

NEWPORT NEWS, March 11.—At 9 o'clock this morning the Eitel Friedrich had been in Hampton Roads thirty-six hours and no signs of any intention to move were apparent. British cruisers were indefinitely reported lurking off the Virginia capes, and a boatman, who delivered papers to officers of the German cruiser, declared members of the crew had told him the Eitel had been chased into American waters by British cruisers.

That at least three British warships were in pursuit of the Eitel Friedrich when it reached American waters early yesterday morning, was established. To the officer of one of the sunken British ships on board the commander of the Eitel stated that judging from wireless interchanges of the British ships, one was within ten miles, the other within thirty or forty miles, and the third within fifty miles of his ship when he reached the three-mile limit of the Virginia capes.

Wants to Make Repairs. Collector Hamilton received written instructions from Washington to govern his course with the Eitel Friedrich and he at once gave Commander Thierichsen formal notice to leave within twenty-four hours unless repairs for a longer stay in a neutral port could be advanced. "The German commander told me," Collector Hamilton said, "that he had come in for repairs to his ship. That reason was sufficient to prevent any summary orders from this government. Today I shall ask the commander for a sworn statement as to his reasons for sinking the American ship Frye. When this has been received I will take up with him the matter of repairs necessary to make his ship seaworthy. Upon that will determine how long this government will permit the Eitel Friedrich to remain in American waters without internment.

Refuses to Give Up Frye's Papers. "I asked the German commander for the Frye's papers. Thus far he has maintained that the papers must go to a prize court, but has agreed to submit to me later today a copy of them. When the captain of the Frye asked for his papers, Commander Thierichsen told him, as he afterwards informed me, that he had not intended to give the American master the right to the papers and stated his intention that they should be sent to Germany. But he cheerfully agreed to have copies made."

As soon as Commander Thierichsen submits the nature of the repairs necessary to the Eitel Friedrich a report will be forwarded to Washington. Upon that will be determined the question of internment. The ship's papers of all the Eitel Friedrich's prizes also have been likewise confiscated by the German commander.

Officers of the Eitel Friedrich remain stolidly silent as to the operations of the ship in Pacific waters, except to deny that it took part of any naval engagements. It is reported, however, that it also sank the British schooner Georgette in the Pacific and that it took coal from the French ship Jean, sunk off Valparaiso, Chile.

List of Vessels Sunk. The list of vessels sunk, with the number of persons removed from each, as announced by Customs Collector Hamilton today is: British sailing ship Invercoe, W. J. King, master; crew, twenty-three; owner, Inver line, of Aberdeen, Scotland. Sunk February 11. British steamship Mary Ada Short, A. E. Dobbing, master; crew, twenty-eight; owner, James Westall of Sunderland, England. Sunk February 18. French steamship Florida, Monand, master; crew, seventy-eight; passengers, eighty-six; owners, Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique. Sunk February 19. British steamship Willberry, J. Wedgewood, master; crew, twenty-seven; owners, Roper & Co. of West Hartlepool. Sunk February 20. Russian sailing ship Isabel Browne, Axmar Erikson, master; crew, thirteen; owner, Tromberg, Finland. Sunk January 27. French sailing ship Pierre Loti, Tranchant, master; crew, twenty-four; Society Noveille, Dartmouth of Nantes, France, owners. Sunk January 27. American sailing ship William F. Frye, H. B. Kiehne, master; crew, thirty-one; owner, Arthur Sewall & Co. of Bath, Me. Sunk January 28. Cargo of wheat from Seattle, Wash., to Queenstown, England, for orders; captured to be contraband by German cruiser.

French sailing ship Jacobean, V. Le Roux, master; crew, twenty-three; Society Les Voliers, Dunkerque, France, owners. Sunk January 28. The Captain's Story. H. B. Kiehne of Baltimore, master of the American ship, after leaving the Eitel Friedrich with Customs Collector Hamilton, today told a dramatic story of his experience. With him were his wife and two children. "Despite my protestations that I was the American master of an American ship," he said, "the German cruiser Eitel Friedrich sank the William F. Frye on the morning of January 28, blowing a big hole through its vitals with a charge of dynamite." "I was almost becalmed when the German ship appeared about 7 o'clock in the

Text of Carranza's Reply to Note of the United States Government

VERA CRUZ, March 11.—The following is the text of General Carranza's reply to the note of Secretary of State Bryan, delivered by United States Consul Silliman: "Although the terms, in which this note is worded would afford me cause for not answering it, it is my wish notwithstanding that silence be not construed as a justification of charges contained in the same. I have tried to put aside for the moment references which are made to my personal responsibility and, looking only for the good of my country and for the benefit of the cause which the Mexican people have entrusted to me, I thought it my duty to answer at once.

"On the other hand, in view of the importance of the subject discussed in the aforesaid note, I have thought myself authorized not to follow the time customary channels, but to address you (President Wilson) personally concerning a matter which may involve the success of the Mexican revolution. In the note I am answering, it is taken for granted that the imputations made against General Obregon by an international committee of foreign residents in the City of Mexico, the substance of which also has been communicated to me by Mr. Silliman in his note of the 1st inst., are true, and this assumption has been indulged in when the answer to those imputations are being prepared.

Has Not Created Conditions. "Reserving the privilege of answering more fully and in detail through the customary diplomatic channels the note referred to lately, I take this opportunity to state in an earnest and emphatic way that General Obregon never has intended to injure the hungry populace of the City of Mexico to commit outrages of any character. He has not prevented in any way the entrance of food supplies into Mexico City, but on the contrary has facilitated such importations. He has not created conditions which are the cause of such a course would be the wisest measure that can be taken to avoid consequences so much to be feared.

"I wish I could adequately convey to your excellency the political and economic conditions in the city of Mexico and their causes as they are understood and known here to be, concerning which representations by an international committee has been made to the State department.

Work of Reactionaries. "Perhaps a last effort is now being made by reactionaries to bring about complications which may cause the failure of the Mexican revolution. After having encountered and disposed of other and more difficult and embarrassing situations in the past when there were a large number of foreign residents scattered all over the territory of Mexico, it will prove to be most unfortunate if now, when Mexico City alone is involved, a situation shall arise which will destroy the hopes and purposes of the Mexican people.

"Because of this consideration permit me to repeat the hope that foreign residents may be induced to save your government and the republic of Mexico from embarrassment, by temporarily leaving the city of Mexico. Allow me to avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to you the assurances of my highest consideration and personal regards."

"It took the chance," he said, "it was carrying contraband to the enemy." The captain of the Florida has telegraphed the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique for passage to New York for his passengers. From New York they expect to be transported to their respective South American destinations. Not a single piece of baggage was lost when the Florida was sunk.

The Eitel had on board more than 300 persons, 30 of the crews and passengers of destroyed vessels in addition to its own crew of about 300.

No Deaths on Board. Captain Thierichsen reported no deaths had occurred on board since the voyage began.

Captain Kiehne of the Frye, in a supplemental statement tonight after his talk with Collector Hamilton, said his ship was valued with its supplies at about $300,000 and that the cargo of wheat was worth $100,000.

Captain Monson of the Florida, said his ship, bound from Havre for Brazil, touched at Calais, Liverpool and Dakar, South Africa, then came directly across the Atlantic. The vessel, he said, carried eighty-six passengers and a crew of twenty-eight. He was five sailing days from Bahia when stopped by the Eitel. A boarding party ordered the passengers and crew to the boats as the ship would be sunk. Bombs failed to sink the vessel and guns from the Eitel completed its destruction early next morning.

Captain Dobbin of the British steamer Mary Ada Short said his ship was captured off Pernambuco, Brazil, February 18 and was sunk after the crew and their baggage were transferred to the German cruiser. The Short, with 6,000 tons of corn, was bound from Rosalia for the United Kingdom. Captain Dobbing said a charge of dynamite in the hold of his ship blew its bottom out, but did not sink it, owing to the nature of its cargo. Several shells, however, disposed of the wreck.

Recalmed in South Atlantic. Captain Erickson of the bark Isabel Browne said: "I was becalmed in the south Atlantic 30:30, 24:30 when the German cruiser heve in sight shortly after dusk on the evening of January 28. The German captain told me the ship would be sunk. A dynamite bomb was placed in the hold and within a few moments the bark had disappeared."

Captain Erickson said he was bound from Toltol, Chile, for the English channel. Captain King of the bark Invercoe, said his crew and their principal belongings were transferred to the Prinz Eitel at excellency that the right to occupy or evacuate Mexico City, or any other place in the republic, must at all times be reserved and is to be exercised when deemed by the responsible military authorities to be in furtherance of the cause of the revolution, the obligation of the constitutional army to safeguard the lives of foreigners is nevertheless fully understood and realized. You will therefore permit me to assure you that at the time of the evacuation of Mexico City every facility within my power will be afforded to all foreign residents in that city to depart the country or to go to other and safer places in the republic.

To Protect Foreigners. "I always have tried to give, and have given, the largest protection that has been possible to the lives and interests of American and other foreigners, even during the most difficult period of our struggle. I have purpose of continuing the same line of conduct and have decided to take all measures possible to avoid all damage to foreign residents. With this purpose solely in view, I addressed a note to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, which I have repeated twice, inviting them, in case of evacuation to come either to this port, or to any of the cities, for instance Puebla, Jalapa or Orizaba, which are under the control of the constitutional forces, where they can be assured perfect protection.

"It was only three days ago that the State department at Washington directed the attention of American tourists in Mexico City to your former advice that they should retire from the country until conditions should be settled. It is my most earnest wish that the other foreign residents follow a line of conduct similar to the one suggested by you to the American residents for the adoption of such a course would be the wisest measure that can be taken to avoid consequences so much to be feared.

"I wish I could adequately convey to your excellency the political and economic conditions in the city of Mexico and their causes as they are understood and known here to be, concerning which representations by an international committee has been made to the State department.

noon, February 12, and at 2:30 o'clock the vessel was sunk with an explosion of dynamite. He added that of his crew of twenty-three men six are under detention on the cruise; because they refused to sign an agreement not to take up arms against Germany as a condition of release.

TINY RED PIMPLES ON DAY-OLD CHILD

Got Larger, Hair All Came Out, Cried Terribly, Could Not Sleep. Had to Walk Floor to Quiet Him. Used Cuticura and Now Well.

La Crosse, Kansas.—"When my son was one day old he began breaking out on his face in tiny red pimples that seemed to itch, as he was uneasy and couldn't sleep. The pimples got larger and itched so that he wouldn't rest. They would break and run and cause new ones to break out until he was covered all over with a thick crust. His head was so bad we were afraid to wash it. All his hair came out. We kept him on a pillow for fear of breaking the blisters. Every time they broke they seemed to smart and burn, as he would cry terribly. The eruption disappeared the day we had to walk the floor with him to quiet him."

"When he was four weeks old I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Ointment. The first time I used them he slept better than he had for a long time. He is now, at the age of nine months, well." (Signed) Mrs. John W. Sutcliffe, June 30, 1914.

CULPRIT IS RELEASED TO MAN WILLING TO HELP HIM

United States District Attorney F. S. Howell believes that if anybody is willing to give an unfortunate youth another chance, the government ought not to stand in the way. So when Harvey Gillan came in to Omaha and offered to buy clothes for John Gillan, a federal prisoner awaiting grand jury action on a minor charge, and offered to give the young man a job and help "make a man of him," Prosecutor Howell readily agreed to release Gillan on his own bond. Lives had been befriended by Gillan's parents, now dead. Gillan has been in jail for several months on the charge of carrying a flask of whisky onto the Winnebago Indian reservation. It is said there is some doubt as to whether he would ever be indicted by the grand jury.
