

WHEN CHIEF DUNN HELD THE "SOUP"

Thrilling Experience in Connection with the Transportation of Two Bad Burglars.

CLOSE CALL FOR A BAGGAGEMAN

Chief of Police H. W. Dunn will never forget an occasion when he went to Joplin, Mo., with the late Chief J. J. Donahue to bring back two men charged with robbing a local furrier.

Mr. Dunn threw two suitcases belonging to the prisoners into the front of a hack and proceeded to the depot, where he checked the baggage and suitcases.

What "soup" is. "Soup" is a mixture of nitric acid and glycerine used by safe blowers. It is a high explosive.

When the chief explained to the baggage smasher the contents of the suitcase, the latter's face blanched.

How "soup" is handled. "Tegmen" usually carry "soup" in bottles wrapped in cloth to prevent leakage.

The usual operation in blowing a safe with "soup" is to pry a small space or sprig the lower part of the door with wedges.
