VICE PRESIDENT IS ON WAY TO COAST

Distinguished Party Enroute to Panama Exposition Sleeps While Car is in Omaha. REPORTER SEES THEIR SHOES

Occupying the compartment car, Carrio, of the Overland Limited, Vice President, Marshall, Secretary Lane of the Interior department, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy department, accompanied by their shoes and wives, and Senator Phelan of California in charge of the party, all passed through Omaha at an early hour yesterday morning. The official party, the members of which are the personal representatives of President Wilson, is enroute to San Francisco, there, next Monday Vice President Marshall will officiate at the formal opening of the exposition. It was asserted that Secretary Roosevelt was the only member of the government official party who awoke while the Overland was in Omaha for thirty minutes following 7:30 o'clock. He did not get out of the berth, merely turning over to get a grip on a morning nap. Vice President Marshall had left word with the car porter that he was not to be disturbed and that he would arise when he got ready. The vice president did not get up even to see Mayor Dahlman, who, aside from the newspaper men, was the only person visiting train.

Wouldn't Be Bribed. The mayor seemed mighty anxious to meet the vice president and scribbled a line on his own personal card. He attempted to bribe a porter to take the card to the sleeping vice president, but failed. The porter was sure that "Mr. Marshall" does not care to see any callers—the last call for breakfast.

In the aisle in front of the doors of the compartments of the Carrio, in which the government officials slept, were numerous shoes. They were of all styles, shapes, sizes and colors. They had been neatly dressed and, according to the porter, "they belong to these great gentlemen."

Does Not Stand Square. While, perhaps, the vice president of the United States does not sidestep on general propositions, the way his shoes are worn would indicate that he does not stand squarely on every proposition. One shoe was more worn at the heel than was the other. This was the left shoe and the rear, outer edge had at least two lifts worn off. The heel of the other shoe was worn square across, indicating that at least part of the time the vice president is a square stander.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy has shoes of the tan variety standing in front of his compartment and if he is troubled with corns, it was asserted that they will give him considerable uneasiness if he does much tramping around the exposition grounds next week. They have not been broken in and the cost mark has not been worn off the soles. The porter vouchsafed the information that Wednesday night was the first time these shoes had ever been polished. To keep them in shape patent stretchers were used.

Had Been Oiled. The shoes owned by Secretary Lane were of the broad soled, low heeled, comfortable type, high and laced. They were pretty well worn and the kind that would permit of considerable walking about the exposition grounds without tiring the wearer. It was evident that at some period in the remote past, the Lane shoes had been treated with oil, or rubbed over with fresh lard, for they absolutely

Proof of the Pudding

Will Douglas county taxpayers stand for renewal of the jail feeding graft at 40 cents per prisoner per day just to make the sheriff rich?

How big a steal that would be on the average of 200 county jail prisoners may be gathered from this exhibit from the annual report of the county hospital for the year 1914, showing the cost of feeding hospital and poor farm inmates, who are rightfully fed better than the jail prisoners:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Groceries and provisions $8,467.10; Meats and fish 6,448.28; Bread 1,168.60; Butter, eggs and milk 4,104.74; Ice 850.71; Total $21,048.61

Average daily attendance 275.5; Meals per day 820.5; Meals per year 301,672; Average cost per meal 6.98 cents. This makes the cost of feeding at the hospital, on three-meal basis, 20.94 cents a day per inmate.

refused to take a poll over the manipulation of the art of the porter. The porter asserted that the officials under his care are good patrons, liberal and not very exacting.

MOCK TRIAL AT MONMOUTH PARK SCHOOL ON FRIDAY

A mock trial will be the chief feature of the social center program at the Monmouth Park school Friday evening. Carl Self will act as judge. The attorney will be Charles Copeland and Holly P. Galbraith for the defense and Ed D. Black and J. M. Sturdevant for the prosecution. Joseph Haglin will be on trial for manslaughter and the evidence will be circumstantial. Mrs. Edward Black will furnish the musical part of the program.

STEALS CASE OF EGGS IN FRONT OF FONTENELLE

George Duncan, who last week completed a forty-five-day sentence in the county jail, was arrested again for the theft of a case of eggs from a delivery wagon standing in front of the Fontenelle hotel. Duncan was taken at Sixteenth and Jackson streets after being chased six blocks by Officer Rogers, who saw him take the case.

NO WOMEN ON WELFARE BODY

Mayor Dahlman Reiterates His Position to a Delegation Which Waits on Him. SAYS IT IS A WORK FOR MEN

To a delegation of women in front of the Fontenelle hotel yesterday Mayor J. C. Dahlman reiterated his former statement that he does not favor the appointment of women on the public welfare board, which is to be named soon.

"The first work of this board will require many evening hours, and it will be necessary for the members to spend some of their own money. I feel that the initial work should be in the hands of men. I favor the selection of women to some of the places which will be created when the welfare board's plans are being carried out. I really feel that there is much work for the women to do in this connection, but I do not think they should be on the board itself," said the mayor.

The women carried petitions said to contain more than 2,000 signatures of persons who urge that the mayor appoint two women on this board. The delegation made several unsuccessful trips to the city hall, and finally decided to wait outside of the Fontenelle hotel until the mayor had finished his address to the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Constipation a Penalty of Age

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as keeping the bowels open. It makes one feel younger and fresher and forestalls colds, flus, fevers, and other dependent ills, pleurisy, catarrhs and puratives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it, is the combination of simple herbs with pepsin sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The price is fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 412 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
