Who's Got the Money?

Answer: The Western farmer. Farms in the West that are being developed scientifically along with natural fertility and accessibility to markets, are making their owners wealthy.

Farmers in western states are worth today $750,000,000 more than they would have been if there had been no war. This is the INCREASE only in value of their crops, and is itself only 25% less than our national debt.

Just think for a moment of the unlimited possibilities in a good farm and the Missouri Valley is the best in the/country. See if there is not a good farm for sale in The Bee's not a good farm for sale in The Bee's "Farm and Ranch Lands" column. If those offered today do not appeal to you, keep in touch with this col-umn every day from now on and you will soon be able to pick up a big bargain. If those offered today do not appeal to you, keep in touch with this col-umn every day from now on and you bargain.
