

W. W. Society

By MELLIFICIA. Monday, April 5, 1915.

WE don't have to go to Chicago for the one minute steak a-la-Blackstone any more, for it has come into its own in Omaha.

Mrs. C. C. Allison invited six of the younger generation to a camping party on her lawn Saturday afternoon, which proved to be one of the most unique parties of the season.

When the six little guests assembled, they found waiting them tiny stoves placed here and there on the lawn and each was given the tiniest skillet, with the glad news that they could cook their own feast.

Excitement reigned supreme, but the real thrill of the moment came when the small one-minute steaks, far similar to the new very popular ones on the bill-of-fare at the Blackstone, were passed for them to cook in their very own skillets.

The guests enjoying this unusual treat were: Little Misses Gertrude Kountze, Martha R. Bradford, Bertha May Bradford, Dorothy Higgins, Emma Nash; Masters Junior Nash and George Daugherty.

At the Fontenelle. Easter suppers were joyfully enjoyed by a large number last evening at the Fontenelle. The tables were each decorated with Easter lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Love gave a small dinner when the guests entertained were: Messrs. and Mrs. J. A. Morgan, Mrs. Arthur Remington, Mr. Harry McCormick, With Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sprague were: Messrs. and Mrs. W. J. Fox, of Council Bluffs, Charles J. Kountze, Mr. Ed Hart of Council Bluffs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns entertained: Messrs. and Mrs. Samuel Burns, J. T. Stewart, Samuel Burns, T. P. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Burgess' guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. De Forest Richards and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Summers.

At another table were: Messrs. and Mrs. H. C. Dupont, H. R. McMahon, Smaller parties were composed of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. McDermott and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Heaford, Dr. and Mrs. Hull and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Swobe.

Farwell Dinner. Miss Nellie Grey entertained at dinner Sunday evening at her home, followed by a theater party in honor of Miss Regina McDonald, who leaves Saturday for Washington, D. C., to reside. The table was attractively decorated with American Beauty Roses and Easter lilies. The guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bruce, Messrs. and Mrs. E. H. Sprague, Hazel Ryan, Messrs. and Mrs. J. E. Summers, Lawrence Payne, J. T. Stewart, D. B. Grey, Douglas De Fey.

At Frairie Park. The Frairie Park club's annual masquerade was held Saturday evening at their club house. The decorations were in red and black with red shaded lamps. A large variety of unique costumes were in evidence and the following were of special notice: Mrs. J. M. Morris, as the "Baby Blue Baby Doll"; Mrs. John K. Bittinger, as "Cochontenas"; Mr. William E. Stewart, Jr., as the famous Indian athlete, "Chief Throwing-the-Ball"; and Mr. Louis Nelson, as a "Chinese Dignitary."

The guests present were: Messrs. and Mrs. De C. H. Ballard, J. W. Carr, W. W. Kerr, George W. Gardner, E. A. Abbott, J. L. Carr, Dr. C. H. Bell, C. C. Haynes, L. E. Peterson, E. H. Ellis, B. M. Kent, W. B. Stewart, Jr., Charles Neff, E. A. Lunde, Dr. J. B. Smith, E. A. Fardin, Dr. J. D. Wilson, William Smith, Dr. J. C. Brand, Dr. W. B. Slater, W. M. Clark, Joseph Langfeller, W. M. Clark, Phyllis Weberg, Alice Wheeler, Ethel Marganus, Gene Lindley, Francis Watt, Messrs. Raymond Powell, Fred Wadsworth, Albert Wolvenberg, William Kent, Gerald Bruce.

On the Calendar. The Cornudas club will give a dancing party this evening at Chambers academy.

The Alsiaga club will give their semi-monthly dancing party at the Castle hotel Friday evening.

The Columbian circle will hold their next social party Wednesday afternoon, April 7, at their hall, Twenty-second and Locust streets.

Mrs. William McKenna and Mrs. Neff will be the hostesses of the afternoon. The Younger Generation club will entertain at a dancing party Thursday evening, April 8, at the club rooms. A special program has been planned.

Golf Club to Entertain. The Prettiest Mile Woman's Golf club will give the third of a series of social meetings Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. M. McClellan.

For Miss McPherson. Mrs. Linger Koutze will give a tea Friday at 2 o'clock in honor of Miss Louise McPherson, who leaves the first of next week for her future home "Auburn," in Thiermont, Md.

Miss Nash to Give Concert. Miss Frances Nash is in Columbus, O. Miss Nash will give a concert in Dubuque, Ia., April 11.

Yama Yama Club. The Yama Yama club entertained at a box party Sunday afternoon at the Boyd theater. Miss Lucile Johnson of Weeping Water, Neb., was the guest of the club. Those present were:

Mrs. Amy Pittsweil, Ellen Edquist, Della Crane, Elizabeth Hall, Margaret Dunham, Vera Keaton, Ruth McKoon, Lucile Johnson, Vera West.

Original Monday Bridge Club. The Original Monday Bridge club was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Isaac Cole. Those present were: A. G. Benson, Charles T. Kountze, Charles P. Easton, W. A. Redick, Arthur Remington, Joseph Barker, W. B. McKoon, A. L. Reed.

Fortnightly Bridge Club. Miss Helen Bixby was hostess this afternoon at the regular meeting of the Team Auction Bridge club. The members present were:

Mrs. Helen Bixby, Mrs. L. A. McDermott, Mrs. L. A. Higgins, Mrs. M. A. Hoffman, Mrs. W. D. Heaford, Mrs. E. T. Swobe.

Informal Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hilley will entertain informally at dinner this evening at their home complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Duffell, who leave for their future home at Minneapolis this evening.

MISS E. S. KENDALL, who has been entered in several golf tournaments at Hot Springs, Va., has surprised veterans of the game with her play and is looked on as a "comer" on the links.

Miss E. S. Kendall

The table will be decorated with spring flowers and covers will be placed for Palmfest Club Dinner.

The annual dinner of the Palmfest club will be given this evening at the Fontenelle. The speaker of the evening will be Prof. Zueblin of Boston. Prof. Zueblin has been connected with the Chicago university and is a sociological student and lecturer.

Personal Mention. The Misses Helen and Margaret Eekies of Lincoln have arrived in Omaha to make their future home with their sister, Mrs. J. D. Taylor.

News of the Wayfarers. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voorhees and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Shankey are sojourning at Excelsior Springs.

Best for Constipation. The best medicine for constipation is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Mild and effective and keep you well. All druggists.—Advertisement.

Chief Dunn Fails to Land With Salt.

Chief of Police Dunn discovered that it is impossible to break blue rock targets with shells loaded with salt. He was a member of a shooting party at the home of George Brandeis at Palmyra. All but five of the shells applied to him were "fired" for the occasion. He was disappointed when his best aim was futile.

It is alleged that Tom Quinlan, Dr. Anson and Dr. Fitzgibbon were in on the deal.

Taking Care of the Children. No parent would consciously be careless of the children. Joe A. Rosmarin, Clarkson, Neb., uses Foley's Honey and Tar for his two children for croup, coughs and colds.

Informal Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hilley will entertain informally at dinner this evening at their home complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Duffell, who leave for their future home at Minneapolis this evening.

MILLER PARK SCENE OF A DUEL AT DAWN

Two Men, Apparently Prosperous, Fight Bloody Battle with Fists for Three Hours.

CHAUFFEUR IS ONLY WITNESS

Was it love that impelled two well dressed, apparently prosperous men of middle age to adjourn to Miller park at 3 o'clock Sunday morning and engage in a desperately deliberate fistful duel?

Was it the result of business differences? Was it an affair of honor cropping out from a card game at the club?

What was it? The half dozen taxi drivers who make the Calumet restaurant their nightly headquarters, are pop-eyed from curiosity. And the strange story they tell is making others pop-eyed, too.

It was 3 o'clock Sunday morning when two well tailored men pushed into the restaurant and crooked their fingers toward Jake Meers, chauffeur.

Each man appeared to be the same age—about 35—and both were of the same build. Their linen seemed faultless and their manner indicated good breeding and position in the world.

"Have you a car for hire?" asked one, as Meers approached.

Meers replied in the affirmative. "Well, take us out in the country?" sharply ordered the second fare.

Meers wanted more explicit directions. "Oh, anywhere! Somewhere away from curious eyes."

Go to Miller Park. So Meers drove to Miller park, and when he came to a spot shrouded by trees and shrubbery, he halted. "Is this all right?"

His two fares got out, removed their coats, vests, collars and cuffs.

"Ready?" "Ready!" For nearly three hours they fought. The sod was torn up like a plowed field where their heads had dug in, during the clinches.

Their expensive clothes were torn to fragments. Black eyes were evenly distributed. Sleek jaws were equally scratched. Both were bleeding freely.

The last hour was spent in a clinch, the adversaries panting for breath and holding desperately on. Dawn found them begrimed from head to foot.

Finally one of the men jerked loose and sprang away. The other assumed an attitude of defense, but he was too late, and a fist found his jaw. It was a weak blow, but both men were fatigued, and they both fell.

"Nuff!" grunted the man who landed. "Nuff!" sighed the other, as he lay comfortably sprawled on the ground.

"All right, boy, take us back to town," both men ordered, as they reached for their wallets.

Scrap Worth Nine Dollars. Desperate as their battle had been, just so polite was the friendly struggle to pay the $ taxi bill. They finally agreed to split the charge.

"Was I right?" asked the victor, his arm hung affectionately over the shoulder of the vanquished.

"Right as a top, old chap!" "Not another word was exchanged on the return trip. They got out at the Millard hotel, went to the wash room and a few moments later emerged and hired another cab, presumably to protect their identity.

"I don't know what it was all about," chuckled Meers, as he climbed the $9, "but it was the best little scrap I ever saw."

Don't Have a Spring Cough. Take Dr. King's New Discovery and you won't catch cold. It kills the cold germs, keeps you well. All druggists.—Advertisement.

G. W. Holdrege Sees a Great Year Ahead for Antelope State

"At this season of the year I never saw Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado looking so well and prosperous as right now," said George W. Holdrege, general manager of the Burlington, who just got in from a trip of ten days out over the lines west of the Missouri river. Continuing, Mr. Holdrege said:

"Perhaps the season has been held back a little by the heavy snowfall that has been slow in melting, but this is not doing us any harm. Rather, it's going to be beneficial."

"Winter wheat is coming through the winter in perfect condition and the acreage is fully up to last season. The ground is full of moisture, but of course, it is difficult to tell what may happen between now and harvest, which is two and one-half months away. Still, right now the plant looks well and farmers are very optimistic."

"In the country towns trade is very good and the merchants are prosperous. Trade has been good all winter, for farmers have had great quantities of produce to sell and prices have been high."

"Cattle, sheep and all farm and range animals have come through the winter in splendid condition. The losses were the lowest in years and animals of all classes come into the spring range in unusually good flesh."

Wet and Dry Issue at Florence Polls. Saloon licenses at the rate of $1,000 a year, or saloon licenses at the rate of $1,000 for seven months the coming year—that is a keen issue in Florence. It is so keen that the primary election today will take the form of a wet and dry campaign—the first in that town since 1858.

This discrepancy in the price of licenses is no great mystery. It is a complication resulting from the annexation movement which is sure to carry when the cities vote on it. Licenses cost $1,000 a year in Florence, so do they in Omaha. But applications are now in at Florence to be granted May 1 for one year from date. On the other hand, if the applicants should have to wait until annexation is effected and get their license from Greater Omaha they could not be issued until June 1 at the earliest, but would cost $1,000 just the same.

That would be $1,000 for seven months, or until January 1 next.

This is why the issue is wet and dry in Florence tomorrow. It is an issue of whether to hurry and grant licenses now while Florence is still a municipality, or whether to wait and let Omaha grant them at a higher rate proportionately.

St. Andrews Parish to Have New Rector. St. Andrews' parish will in all probability be taken in charge some time this week by Rev. G. L. Snowden, rector of the Episcopal church at Winship, Kan. He will come early this week to look over the situation and will announce his decision later. Rev. F. D. Tyner's resignation was announced some time ago.

According to Bishop A. L. Williams, the only obstacle standing in the way of Dr. Snowden is whether the parish is large enough or not.

FAINTS WHEN SHE HEARS POLICE COURT SENTENCE. Fannie Hanson, address the Madison hotel, arrested for forging several checks on the Brandeis Stores, was given thirty days' suspended sentence in police court Monday morning. She fainted in court after hearing her sentence and had to be carried to the matron's department.

Death Calls Lover, Battle Creek Girl Ends Her Own Life. Miss Mayme Giltner, aged 26 years, of Battle Creek, Neb., was found dead in her bed at 60 South Nineteenth street, with the photograph of her late fiance, Dr. I. F. Cartner, clasped in her hands. Death came as the result of gas asphyxiation, and indications were that she had taken her own life.

The young woman came to Omaha about three weeks ago and roomed at the above address for only a week, a letter which she addressed to Miss Eva Cartner, 126 South Tenth street, was found in the room torn into small bits. Relatives at Battle Creek have been notified, as well as Mrs. J. M. Giltner, who resides at Madison, Neb.

Brandeis Stores

Great Cedar Chest Sale Wednesday. Children's Hair Bobbing (Second Floor)

Great After-Easter Sales of Women's Wear Should Make the Bargain Basement Hum With "Busy-Ness" Tuesday

A Wonderful Lot of Garments in One Large Group At One Small Price Only $4.85

Complex advertisement for Brandeis Stores featuring dresses, skirts, and suits for $4.85. Includes an illustration of three women in fashionable 1915 attire.

Table of clothing items and prices: Blouses $1.79, House Dresses 57c, Aprons 35c, Petticoats 47c, Corset Covers 15c.

Beautiful Trimmed Hats, Worth to $3.50, Tuesday. Advertisement featuring an illustration of a woman's hat and text describing elegant hat styles.

Some Notable Tuesday Shoe Bargains. Advertisement listing various shoe types and prices, including children's shoes, oxfords, and women's pumps.

Needlecraft Shop. (Woman's Exchange) 304 SOUTH 18TH STREET. All goods are Hand Work. Gifts for card clubs. Everything for the linen shower.

HORLICK'S The Original MALTED MILK. Unless you say "HORLICK'S" you may get a substitute.

Combination Accordion Pleated Skirt. The Ideal Button & Pleating Co. Advertisement featuring an illustration of a pleated skirt and text describing its features.

BUSY BEE BOYS AND GIRLS. The Patriotic Thing For You To Do—Help Save the Birds. Advertisement for the Busy Bee organization, featuring an illustration of a birdhouse and text about bird conservation.

AN INVESTMENT THAT PAYS BIG DIVIDENDS A BEE WANT AD