How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."

—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and is today held the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BIG BATTLE FOUGHT NEAR QUERETARO

Villa and Carranza Leaders Each Claim Victory in Contest Which Lasted Two Days.

FORTY THOUSAND MEN ENGAGED

EL PASO, Tex., April 3.—By the defeat of Obregon's army in the last two days in central Mexico, officials of the Villa faction declared today that a decisive blow has been struck at the Carranza cause. At latest reports Obregon's force was retreating southward from a point midway between Queretaro and Irapuato. Villa personally is directing the pursuit.

Each side has about 20,000 to 25,000 men. General Obregon is looked upon as Carranza's principal military leader.

Carranza Leader Reports Victory. VEIRA CRUZ, April 3.—General Obregon yesterday inflicted a serious defeat on the Villa troops between Celaya and Irapuato, on the Mexican Central railroad. It was the first big engagement since the evacuation of Mexico City. General Obregon in his official report says that Francisco Villa was personally in command of his forces. The fighting continued for some thirty hours, according to the report and after the retreat of Villa's men, more than 1,000 of Villa's dead were found on the field. Four hundred prisoners were taken.

Obregon reported to General Carranza that he would continue immediately his advance.

Washington Hears News.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—General Carranza's agency here laid claims to victory in the recent battle in Guanajuato state, in making public today this telegram from the general, dated yesterday: "Since yesterday morning a battle was staged near Celaya, between forces commanded by General Obregon and those personally led by Villa, and I am just in receipt of a communication from General Obregon advising me that he has defeated the enemy, inflicting upon them a loss of over 2,000 dead and wounded and a large number of prisoners, arms and ammunition. Obregon is in pursuit of the fleeing enemy."

Neutral losses were three Norwegian, one Swedish and two American vessels. The two American vessels and one Norwegian vessel were sunk by mines. Six persons aboard the Swedish steamer—lost their lives.

WAR OFFICE REPORTS

French. PARIS, April 3.—(Via London)—The French War office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting, which reads: "In Belgium the day was marked by artillery engagements. "In the valley of the Aisne and the district to the east of Rheims our efforts in spite of the stormy and bad weather continued with great activity and we have maintained our gains between the Meuse and the Moselle in their entirety, while at the same time we are proceeding to make further progress. "In the Brule forest we captured a German trench, at the same time taking a large number of prisoners on this section of the front. This was reported last night."

Belgian. LONDON, April 3.—The Belgian War office here has received a telegram from the Belgian minister of war dated yesterday, which reads: "The western side of the Ypres canal, in the direction of Dred-Grachen, has been completely freed of the enemy by Belgian troops. The Germans fled in disorder, leaving behind them machine guns and ammunition. "Today passed off quietly. The hostile artillery showed very little activity."

German. BERLIN, April 3.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—The German army headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of hostilities, which reads: "The fighting between the Meuse and Moselle continued yesterday. French attacks resulted in failure in the Woerwe district on the heights of Combes, near the forest of Belouse, north of St. Michel. In the Alilly forest, near the forest of Aprement, to the north of Filirey, and in the forest of Lepretre. "French losses on the entire front again were enormous, without obtaining the slightest success. "A French aviator from Paris, compelled to land, said nothing was known in the French capital about the French losses in the Champagne fighting. "On the eastern front there have been no developments. The weather continues bad and the roads are impassable."

GERMANY WILL PAY FOR FRYE AND ITS CARGO

the declaration of London, 23 and 24 of the German prize ordinance and to be treated as contraband pending proof of the contrary. "This proof was certainly not capable of being adduced at the time of the visit of the vessel since the cargo papers read to order. This, however, furnished the conditions under which pursuant to article 4 of the declaration of London and article 115 of the German prize ordinance the sinking of the ship was permissible since it was not possible for the auxiliary cruiser to take the prize into a German port without involving danger to its own security or the success of its operation.

Duties Fulfilled.

The duties devolving upon the cruiser before destruction of the ship pursuant to article 4 of the declaration of London and article 115 of the German prize ordinance were fulfilled by the cruiser in that it took on board all the persons found on the sailing vessel as well as the ship's papers.

"The legality of the measures taken by the German commander is furthermore subject to examination to article 3 of the declaration of London and section 1, No. 2 of the German code of prize procedure. These prize proceedings will be instituted before the prize court at Hamburg as soon as the ship's papers are received and will comprise the settlement of question whether the destruction of the cargo and the ship was necessary within the meaning of article 4 of the declaration of London; whether the property sunk was liable to capture and whether or to what extent indemnity is to be awarded the owners.

Could Cite Proof.

"In the trial the owners of ship and cargo would be at liberty, pursuant to article 3, paragraph 2 of the declaration of London, to adduce proof that the cargo of wheat had an innocent destination and did not therefore have the character of contraband. If such proof is not adduced, the German government would not be liable for any compensation whatever according to the general principles of international law.

"However, the legal situation is somewhat different in the light of the special stipulation applicable to the relations between Germany and the United States since article 12 of the Prussian-American treaty of friendship and commerce of July 11, 1795, taken in connection with article 12 of the Prussian-American treaty of commerce and navigation of May 1, 1825, provides that contraband belonging to the subject or citizens of either party cannot be confiscated, unless the other party, but only detained or used in confiscation of payment of the full value of the same.

Would Receive Indemnity.

"On the ground of this treaty stipulation, which is as a matter of course binding on the German prize court, the American owners of ship and cargo would receive compensation even if the court should declare the cargo of wheat to be contraband. Nevertheless the approaching prize proceedings are not rendered superfluous since the prize court must examine into the legality of the capture, and destruction and also pronounce upon the standing of the claimants and the amount of indemnity.

"The undersigned begs to suggest that the ambassador bring the above to the attention of his government, and avail himself, etc. (Signed) JAGOW. "April 4, 1915."

Many Cases of Rheumatism Now Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid. Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood of this impurity. In damp and nevs to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the seeds of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

SCORES EFFICIENCY SYSTEM Chief of Rail Department of A. F. of L. Says it Makes Men Mere Machines.

CHICAGO, April 3.—A. O. Wharton, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, resumed his testimony before the United States commission on industrial relations here today.

Answering testimony of President Markham of the Illinois Central railroad given yesterday the witness said that the organization of all crafts on a railway system was found necessary because isolated unions were unable to make progress—the railroads, he said, playing off one craft against another.

He next discussed the so-called "detective agencies," which he said provide armed guards and strikebreakers to big industrial companies, and spies among the union men and in every way possible attempt to defeat the objects of unionism. He mentioned the J. K. Turner agency of Cleveland as one engaged in this sort of business.

Touching efficiency systems based on the payment of bonuses, the witness cited the shop methods on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois.

"This system," said Mr. Wharton, "makes no provision for collective bargaining, and the basic rate is made so low that a living wage depends upon the ability of the craftsmen to earn bonuses. Thus those who fall below the standard of the pacemakers are not wanted by the companies. In places we find that men over 40 years of age are not wanted."

Mr. Wharton quoted an expert workman on "scientific management."

"Management," said the witness, "which does not tend to increase the efficiency of the workman, lengthen his period of usefulness and improve his social position, is not scientific."

Mr. Wharton said that in one big shop with an efficiency system, if a lathe, expected to require repairs in two years, is intact at the end of that period, the machanic is accused of not having used it to its full efficiency.

"A man and machine alike are used to capacity, and both are thrown on the scrap heap when their productivity falls below a set maximum," said Mr. Wharton. "When the great philosopher, Herbert Spencer, made his last visit to the United States and observed the intensity of labor among the workmen, he said that the time to teach the gospel of relaxation had arrived."

Mr. Wharton said the Illinois Central was the only road which declined to confer with representatives of the men with reference to federation of the craftsmen of the road. He stated that the federations already exist on fifty-two roads, and that they are working harmoniously with the employers.

that vicinity is regarded as the key to the Hungarian plains.

The Austrians seem to have only enough men to hold the Russians in check, and evidently are unable to make an effective counter stroke from Bukovina. Therefore their hope must again center on the Germans, who may force back the Russians as they did when the invaders had reached a point farther within Hungary than they have gained this time. On that occasion an Austro-German force attacked the Russian flank in the country south of Cracow and threatened its lines of communication, quickly bringing about a retreat.

In the west the French are hammering away at the German wedge extending to St. Mihiel. The Germans claim to be checking all these assaults, but the French declare that their advance, though slow, is steady.

The allies are celebrating today the anniversary of King Albert's birth. This day also marks the seventh anniversary of Mr. Asquith's premiership. Within a few weeks Mr. Asquith's term of office will have exceeded that of Lord Salisbury, giving him the record for continuous incumbency since the reform act was adopted.

Roads Want Packers To Pay for Speed

CHICAGO, April 3.—Speed required by the meat packers in the transportation of live stock and fresh meats, without extra return for the special service, was described by J. S. Somerville, superintendent of transportation of the Missouri Pacific, at the Interstate Commerce commission hearing of the western freight case today, as a reason why the western railroads are asking for higher rates on certain commodities.

Hauling eggs, beans, cotton or structural iron by the carload is more profitable to the western railroads than hauling live stock, according to the testimony of J. R. Koonce, general freight agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road.

Woman's Health Requires Care

Women are so constituted as to be peculiarly susceptible to constipation, and their general health depends in large measure on careful regulation and correction of this tendency. Their delicate organisms rebel at the violence of cathartic and purgative remedies, which, while they may afford temporary relief, shock the system and seriously disturb the functional organs.

A mild laxative is far preferable and, if properly compounded, much more effective. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is ideal for women's use. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 222 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
