June, the month of roses and weddings, le bringing with its approach the plans of its brides. A wedding of great interest will be that of Miss Elizabeth Pickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pickens, and Mr. Kenneth Paterson, which will be ceibrated Tuesday, June 8, at All Saints' church.

This will be an evening wedding and one of the larger social affairs, not only of the summer, but of the entire season, owing to the prominence of the two

Mr. Paterson is the son of the late George Paterson, for many years a well known merchant of Omaha, and is himself associated in the coal business with his brother, Mr. Rowland Paterson.

Miss Pickens was the eighteenth queen of Ak-Sar-Ben, and has the distinction of being the only queen whose father has also worn the royal purple Mr. Pickens was the tenth King of Quivers. Miss Pickens will be attended by a large bridal party and the ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride on North Thirty-ninth atreet. This reception will be the first affair of promence in this newly completed home, built on the sight of the former home, destroyed in the tornado.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. MELBOURNE, Australia, April 2.-The ubject of "White Australia" and the uestion of admitting Asiatic immigrants recently was discussed publicly by one of the state governors in the commonwealth, with the immediate result that he was officially asked for an explanation, and he expressed his regret that he had said anything at all on that head. The executive who spoke his mind was

The day following this comment Mr Fisher said that if Sir Henry had been correctly quoted his words constituted "a grave official indiscretion," which could not be allowed to pass without protest. Thereupon he telegraphed to the premier of South Australia asking him to ascertain whether the governor had said what had been imputed to him.

Sir Henry replied to the premier that the newspaper reports of his speech were correct; that it would have been wiser Charles Tracy and Mrs. W. S. Wright, if he had not touched upon the color question and that he was sorry he had done so. This closed the incident.
