is Rife in Omaha

The park and boulevard department men are doing their share. The boulevards are being cleaned and the rubbish is being burned along the way. The parks are being raked and seats and tables and other equipment are being repainted. A trip over the city already shows the effect of this campaign. Before the coming week has passed, it is believed Omaha will be a tidy city and will present an attractive appearance to residents and strangers. The cultivation of flowers and vegetables in back yards has proved quite an impetus in this direction and it is now urged that citizens take pride in keeping their alleys clean. Upon his return to the city on Friday Mayor Dahlman commended the work and hoped that everybody would get into the spirit of the occasion and show that Omaha can maintain its reputation of being one of the cleanest cities of the country. The city wagons will be started out early Monday morning and will be kept going until every alley and street of the city has been covered. It is requested that heaps of refuse be placed in the front of houses where possible, but if placed in the alleys they will be gathered up just the same. The street department officials say they are ready to do their part and they ask the co-operation of all citizens.
