Wheat is Strong, Selling Quarter to Three-Quarters Higher and with Brisk Demand.

CONTRACT STOCKS ARE SMALL

OMAHA, May 1, 1915.

Whest was strong, selling Marke higher and there was a good demand for that serial. Corn ruled unchanged to Mchigher, while cats advanced McG. Receipts of all grain were good.

Stocks of wheat are small and contract stocks abnormally small. Therefore, only about 500,000 bushels of this grain will be sent around on May contracts today, in addition to deliveries of possibly 2,000,000 bushels corn and 4,000,000 bushels of othat it was expected a few weeks ago that shorts in May wheat would be forced to go into the pit and even up their positions at serious losses, but, while shorts have been easer to cover cutstanding contracts, the longs have been just as eager to obtain available profits, so that conditions were to the liking of both the longs and shorts.

The seaboard reported 25 loads to go out via the gulf at a price said to be near the highest of the season. There were sales here of 200,000 bushels of contract wheat to go to store.

Choarances: Wheat and flour equal to 775,000 bushels, corn, 28,000 bushels and coats, 488,000 bushels.

Liverpool spot: Wheat unchanged to ic lower; corn, unchanged.

Primary wheat receipts were $14,000 bushels and satis, 488,000 bushels.

Need of rain east of the Mississippi continued to act as a discouragement for wheat bears. Only scattered showers reported, wholly insufficient to relieve the dryness of the subsoil. Some authorities asserted the crop could go ten days more without damage, but others mainlained that unless adequate moisture tame soon the result would be lowered conditions and disappointing yields at harvest.

Corn displayed strength from the outtet. There were rumors of business at the seaboard and no doubt was expressed but that most of the corn delivered here to cash houses today would be shipped east. Notwithstanding that warehouse tenders of pats amounted to

Some of the popular features of other years have, it is announced, been retained, but these have been re-enforced by new and upto-date offerings. A band of Sloux and other Indians, under the leadership of Chief, Iron Tall, the noted old Indian, whose profile adorns the "buffalo" nickel, will give their sun, dog and war dances, they will illustrate the Indian method of stalking the wild bison, and they will picture the old-time Indian warfare by attacking a ploneers' camp; Mexican bandits will hold up the stage coach; a horsethief will be captured and punished; there will be a round-up with long-horned cattle; recknessly and daring cowboys and cowgirls will ride bucking bronchos; remarkably educated high-school horses will dance the tange and turkey trot; a big company of expert hat stournament, which promises both thrills and laughter; there will be a Southern Parity of St. L. & S.
