

DROP BOMBS INTO CONSTANTINOPLE

Russian Aeroplanes Make First Direct Attack of the War Upon Capital of Turkey.

BOSPHORUS FORTS BOMBARDED

PARIS, May 7.—The first attack of the war on Constantinople is reported in an official dispatch from Athens. It is said three Russian aviators flew over the city, dropping several bombs, which are believed to have caused extensive damage.

The message says, also, that the Russian Black Sea fleet bombarded the Turkish forts on the left bank of the Bosphorus on Wednesday. Several Russian shells fell within ten miles of Constantinople.

Shells Set Fire to Maldoz.

LONDON, May 7.—The artillery exchanges between the warships of the allies and the shore positions of the Turks continue. Some vessels are firing from the gulf of Saros, making use of inflammatory shells. The town of Maldoz was set on fire yesterday.

Russians Capture Turkish Hospital.

TIFLIS, Transcaucasia, Wednesday, May 6.—(Via Petrograd and London, May 7.)—It has been established in Tiflis that Turkish forces which recently, under the command of Thali Bey, occupied Dilman, numbered 18,000 men. This shows that their numerical strength was greater than that of the Russians and even in the final battle the Turks outnumbered their antagonists. The trophies taken by the Russians were a complete hospital outfit and enormous quantities of stores. It is not yet known how many prisoners were taken.

The Turkish commander and the members of his staff all had narrow escapes from capture.

Reports received by Armenians residing in Tiflis relate the murder of a member of a member of the Turkish Parliament from Van, an Armenian named Wruman. A celebrated political worker named Ishgan, together with four companions, also lost his life with Wruman. The six men, at the time they were killed, were on their way to Shattuk to lead in the defense of that place against the Kurds. Ishkan also was a resident of Van.

This Armenian city in Asiatic Turkey was bombarded by 800 Turkish regular troops, who had with them three pieces of artillery, Armenians, numbering 80, assembled in the village of Saragunlu to oppose the murderous bands of Kurds threatening that place, but the Kurds were aided by Turkish regulars and after a long struggle the detachment of Armenians were all wiped out with the exception of eight men, who ultimately found shelter in the monastery of St. Tathav.

Refugees Are Returning.

An agent of the Armenian aid committee after a horseback trip from Alaskits to Dagestan has reported that this region is fully occupied by Russians and that 4,000 out of 20,000 refugees have returned to their homes. The agent reports that many villages have been destroyed and that without exception every village has been more or less damaged. The aid committee is being reported that the region is fully occupied by Russians and that 4,000 out of 20,000 refugees have returned to their homes.

BOATLOADS OF SURVIVORS ON WAY TO SHORE

The whole concern of the Cunard company is for the safety of the passengers and crew. The material loss does not count as it is covered by insurance.

The Lusitania was torpedoed without warning and sank almost immediately. It is known that a large number of the large boats of the ship are afloat. Every effort is being made to obtain the fullest information, which will be published immediately on receipt.

Cork newspapers report, according to a Liverpool dispatch received by Cunard line officials today, that 200 passengers have been landed at Cleonakilly.

Aid Sent to Seize.

QUENTOWN, May 7.—Immediately the news of the torpedoing of the Lusitania was received here, the admiral in command of the naval station dispatched to the scene all assistance available. The tug Warrior, Stormcock and Julia, together with five trawlers and the local lifeboat in tow of a tug, were hurried to sea.

According to a report received here, the first wireless S. O. S. call was sent by the Lusitania at 2:15. This read: "Waght assistance; listing badly."

The Lusitania was seen from the signal station at Kinsale to be in difficulty at 2:25 p. m. At 2:35 p. m. she had completely disappeared.

This indicates that the liner was afloat twenty-one minutes after what evidently was the beginning of its trouble.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Cunard line made public this afternoon the following cable gram, received from Liverpool, transmitting a dispatch from Old Head: "Motor fishing boats, towing two boats, probable number of passengers about fifty. Tug Stormcock making Kinsale. Some passengers aboard. Many vessels are now apparently making Queenstown."

The weather is favorable to the work of rescuing the Lusitania's passengers, according to information in a cablegram received by the Cunard line from Queenstown. The message stated: "Weather here beautifully fine. Wind southeast, light."

Of the 1,215 passengers aboard, 230 were in the first cabin, 500 in the second and 485 in the steerage.

Royse Will Not Resign.

Secretary Royse of the State Banking board, who has bought an interest in the State Bank of Table Rock and will become its president, will not resign his place as secretary of the banking board, but made the investment as a place to fall back on when he finishes his duties as secretary of the board. He expects to place his son in the bank as soon as he graduates from a high school this spring. Cashier C. J. Wood, who has been with the bank for thirty-four years, will not resign, desiring to get away from the banking business.

SHIP LUSITANIA SUNK BY TORPEDO OFF IRISH COAST

(Continued from Page One.) follow in going to Liverpool was made known in a dispatch from Glasgow last night which related that the British steamer Cherbury had been torpedoed in the Atlantic ocean off the Irish coast.

This was on April 23. Two other vessels were sent to the bottom more recently, the Centurion and the Candiate. Just here these ships were attacked has not been made known, but their destinations led to the belief that one or more German submarines have been operating in the lines of transatlantic travel. It may be that they were waiting for the Lusitania, and in the meanwhile attacked such other vessels as came within their range.

Advertisement Highlighted.

Charles T. Bowring, head of the firm of Bowring Bros., and president of the St. George's society, was one of the passengers who sailed on the Lusitania. He commented on the advertisement appearing in the morning papers, characterizing it as a silly performance and below the dignity of a diplomatic representative of a foreign government.

VALUES SILK QUILT FIRST

Miss Ellen Brackin Specifies Its Disposition Before Seventy-Five Thousand Estate.

WILL IS FILED FOR PROBATE

Miss Ellen A. Brackin, resident of Omaha for fifty-nine years, who died May 3, valued a silk quilt made by her mother, the late Mrs. J. H. Brackin, and photographs of her father and mother more than all the remainder of her $75,000 estate, according to provisions of her will, which has been filed for probate.

These three articles are mentioned first in her will. "I give my silk quilt to Mrs. James J. Brown," it recites, "and I give my framed likeness of my mother to Mrs. Anna Huetta, my sister, and in the event of her death to my niece, Stella Huetta. The picture of my father I give to my niece Stella and also the picture of my dead sister Flora."

Under the will, which was written August 3, 1900, and a codicil added January 2, 1906, Miss Stella Huetta and her brothers, Robert and Charles B. Huetta, are the principal heirs. An additional $5,000 is bequeathed to Charles B. Huetta for his collegiate and professional education.

Forest Lawn cemetery, where, according to her directions, Miss Brackin was buried, by the side of the body of her father, the late J. H. Brackin, who founded the cemetery, is given a bequest of $1,000, the revenue from which is to be used for maintenance of the graves. Omaha university, described in the will, as commonly called, "Bellevue college," is given $5,000, and the Presbyterian Theological seminary $5,000. Several other minor bequests are made. Alfred C. Kennedy and Howard Kennedy are named executors. A niece, Miss Eugenia Huetta, is specifically barred from participating in the estate.

Porter Charlton Writes His Own Defense in Italian

ROME, May 6.—(Via Paris, May 7.)—"I shall remember the time I have spent here as the happiest in my life," was the assertion made by Porter Charlton, in reply to a question as to whether he was being well treated at the asylum where he is in custody awaiting trial on the charge of murdering his wife. He has prepared a long statement in his own defense, written in Italian. Charlton's examination by alienists has been virtually completed. Dr. Valtorta, retained by the defense, has come to the conclusion that because of nervous excitement, Charlton was entirely irresponsible when he killed his wife. Dr. Paticola, appointed by the court, has decided on the contrary that he was only partly irresponsible. In view of this difference of opinion, a third expert, probably Prof. Maggotta, director of the asylum in which Charlton is confined, will be appointed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 7.—Examination today of the testimony in the Roosevelt-Barnes libel suit trial shows that Nathaniel Elsborg was among the holders of preferred stock of the Albany Evening Journal and not Nathaniel Elsborg, as was reported last Wednesday. CONNELL TO COMPEL ALL TO CONNECT WITH SEWERS

Health Commissioner Connell has started to wage his annual fight against outhouses not connected to sewers. He reports there are now 300 cases of delinquents who have not connected to sewers, after having been given reasonable extensions of time. Arrests will be made if these persons do not comply within the next two weeks. In many cases notices are being served by the inspectors. The doctor maintains these vaults are a menace to the health of a city.
