SKINNER DOUBLES SIZE OF HIS PLANT

Will Duplicate Present Structure for the Manufacture of Macaroni.

WORK IS TO START AT ONCE
The Skinner Manufacturing company is to double the size of its macaroni plant at once. This is to be done by duplicating the present new structure at Fourteenth and Jackson streets with a building adjoining on the east. When the company purchased the lot on which the new plant stands it also purchased the lot adjoining on the east.

The new structure is to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. Plans have been drawn by Harry Lewis and bids are being invited. It is to be built immediately and the plan at present is that it shall be completed in four months. The new building is to be a twin of the present factory. It is to be six stories and basement. The dimensions are 66 by 123 feet. The structure is to be of reinforced concrete and pressed brick and is to be fireproof throughout. At present the Skinner plant is said to be the largest and most modern macaroni plant in America. The new addition, which is to double the capacity, is expected to put the Omaha plant far in the lead. Omaha-made macaroni is now being consumed in every state in the union.

This company has handled its sales through wholesalers alone. "The success of this plant," said President Paul Skinner, "is an illustration of what the wholesaler can do for a given line of manufactured product when they get behind it. It is the economical way to handle the goods, and for all the cry against middle men, this is really the cheapest way for the consumer also."

Counsellor Plans to Get Taxes on Hidden Estate After Death

County Assessor Harry G. Counsellor has taken death as a partner and assistant in collection of delinquent personal taxes, by inaugurating a campaign for charging to estates amounts due the public treasury on property concealed during the owners' lives.
In the case of the late James Brady, the man who died believing he had no heirs to his $27,000 estate, death brought to light this large amount on which no taxes had ever been paid, according to Mr. Counsellor. Delinquent taxes on it amount, he said, to several hundred dollars. In the event whoever shall be appointed administrator by the county court does not pay the taxes, Mr. Counsellor is planning to bring suit.
Mr. Counsellor believes, he said, that there are a large number of other estates which may be charged with payment of personal taxes evaded by property owners in life, but whose heirs shall be appointed administrator by the county court. He has already been examining records of another estate valued at several hundred thousand dollars.
Collection of personal taxes from estates is distinct from inheritance tax charges, which are under the jurisdiction of the probate court.

Sewold Says He Did Not Need Any Help Against the 'Widow'

William Sewold, Schaller, Ia., who was reported in The Bee a few days ago as appealing to the police for protection from "the influence" of Rev. Charles W. Savage and matrimony, enters a denial of that report and declares that his intention in making the police was to leave it possible if his suspicions of Rev. Mr. Savage were correct.
Sewold declares that he came to Omaha, attended one session at Mr. Savage's church and made his acquaintance. Then he says Mr. Savage preached matrimony to him and spoke of a German governess, not a widow, as first reported.
"Savage wrote a letter and enclosed one," said Mr. Sewold, "and I received an answer. I suspected that the person in New York was a man, not a woman, and thought by getting a detective that I could catch Savage in the act. I was suspicious that all was not right, and I didn't need any protection from Savage or any wily widow."

Bad Rumors Denied and Prices Break

Following Chicago, wheat prices on the Omaha market broke 2 to 3 cents per bushel as a result of the continuous drop in price of the growing crop by Hessian fly and chinch bugs. There were thirty-six carloads on the market, prices ranging around $1.47 to $1.50 per bushel.
Corn receipts were thirty-one cars, selling at 77 to 78 cents per bushel, an advance of 1/2 cent.
Receipts of oats were light, there being but eight cars. The price was 1 cent off, sales being made at 50 to 51 1/2 cents per bushel.

TOURISTS START TRAIL TO COLORADO ALREADY

R. S. Ruttle, assistant general passenger agent for the Union Pacific, is spending the day in town. Said Mr. Ruttle: "Crops through western Nebraska and all of Colorado are the best ever known. There has been an abundance of moisture and farmers are very hopeful."
"Although the season has hardly opened, tourists are pouring into Colorado, and right now they are more numerous than at any time during the last five years. The hotels are all filled and business is picking up wonderfully."
Get Rid of "Spring Fever."

Foley Cathartic Tablets relieve constipation, restores healthy bowel action and lives up your liver. They are wholesome and thoroughly cleansing; do not grip or nauseate. SOUTHERN VEGETABLES LATE

Long Dry Spell Puts Them Back Sixty Days—Home Grown on the Market.

GRAPE FRUIT IS STILL CHEAP

On account of a very long dry spell experienced in Louisiana and other parts of the south, beans, corn, egg plants and sweet peppers will be about sixty days later in arriving on the Omaha market this year than usual. This is according to information received from the southern produce companies by Al King, manager of Hayden's grocery department. This means, according to the letter, that these crops will not start moving until the latter part of June.
A good deal of home-grown garden truck is on the market now. Spinach can be had at a dime a peck, radishes four bunches for a nickel, onions six bunches for a penny, and asparagus at 2 1/2 cents a bunch. Lettuce is three bunches for a nickel, fresh peas are selling at 10 cents a quart. The peas are not home grown, however, but are shipped in from Missouri. Cucumbers are 10, 12 1/2 and 15 cents, according to size. Cabbage is 2 1/2 cents a pound.

Apples Practically Gone.
Apples are practically off the market now. Navel oranges are about gone, but Valencia oranges are now on the market at from 18 to 20 cents a dozen, according to size. Grape fruit is still abundant and cheap, as it has been for a long time. Grape fruit is said by dealers to have been the best and cheapest this year that was ever known. The grape fruit sales have practically cut the orange sales in half this year. Pineapples are selling at 7 1/2 to 15 cents apiece, according to size. Strawberries are 15 cents a quart.
Butter and eggs are remaining about steady, with the indication that eggs may weaken. Sugar took a little rise in the wholesale market, but is still retailing sixteen pounds for a dollar. Flour has remained fairly steady, but high for some time selling still at $5 a sack.

Potatoes Still a Nickel a Pound

New potatoes are still a nickel a pound, while old potatoes hang on at 20 cents a bushel.

Lambs Have Taken Wing Again, Saving Even on the Hoof to Another Record Price

Even at the prohibitive price they can scarcely be had in the meat markets. It is said that only forty lambs all told were killed at the South Omaha market during the week.
Pork has taken a drop of a dollar a hundred. Pork roasts retail at 19 1/2 cents and chops at 15 cents. Beef is somewhat higher, enough to affect the retail market of chuck roasts and round steaks. Hams are up 1 1/2 cents per hundred. This is considered the time when smoked meats, such as hams, may be expected to take an advance. Bacon has suffered no advance, however.

Governor to Don Overalls and Toil on Good Roads Day

The good roads committee of the Omaha Commercial club this year will fix the date for the good roads day celebration throughout Nebraska. A meeting of the committee will be held within a few days for this purpose. Randall K. Brown, the chairman, has announced.
This honor is a compliment to the club paid by Governor Morehead, who will give his sanction to whatever date is named.
Governor Morehead in a letter to Mr. Brown told of plans being formed to make the day a success and invited the committee to fix the date. Governor Morehead expects to wear overalls and to lead the laboring forces, the letter says.
The governor requests Omahans to turn out in large numbers on good roads day and to unite in making it a success.

Everett Dean Martin to Return in Fall

The membership committee of the Social Settlement association, headed by Mrs. W. F. Baxter, has arranged for a series of lectures, to be given next fall by Everett Dean Martin, who has been talking in Omaha. Mr. Martin's lectures will be on "The Spirit of Modern Life," and he will point out the significance of culture in the world today. His subjects will be:
Goethe—"The Spirit of Modern Poetry."
Ibsen—"The Spirit of Modern Drama."
Bergson—"The Spirit of Modern Philosophy."
Rudolf—"The Spirit of Modern Art."
Darwin—"The Spirit of Modern Science."
Tolstoy—"The Spirit of Modern Religion."
The talks will be given in the council chamber of the city hall, beginning the last week in October and continuing each week until December.

J. BRAD. BAILEY NEBRASKA PIONEER DIES AT PHOENIX

J. Bradford Bailey, one of the oldest pioneers of this section of the country, died at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday at the age of 78. He was born in Maine and moved to Cuming City, a small village on the river from Omaha, in 1868. He afterward operated a haul wagon train between Omaha and Denver. He went to the civil war from Omaha and then returned here, and in 1868 went as a government scout for General Conner. Mr. Bailey moved to Herman and served as a delegate to the first territorial convention and was a member of the legislature after the state was admitted, representing Washington county. In 1883 he moved to South Dakota, where he took a great interest in politics and became quite prominent, being a republican.
Mr. Bailey has been spending the last three or four winters in Arizona for his health, a son and two daughters residing there.
The funeral was at Herman, Neb., Friday afternoon, where a brother resides. In the early days Mr. Bailey was quite instrumental in keeping down Indian uprisings because of his friendship to the Indian chiefs.
He is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters, Edward E. Bailey, Sioux City; Mrs. E. L. Hicks, New York City; Ralph R. Bailey, Mrs. J. M. Keating and Mrs. H. T. Weldon of Phoenix, Ariz., and E. D. Bailey of Yankton Agency, S. D.
