RALLY IN EIGHTH WINS FOR ROURKES

Game Replete with Sensational Fielding Won on Whalen's Triple, Smith's Double and an Error.

LARSON HEAVES NICE GAME

An eighth inning rally staged by Marty ug's desperate athletes broke up a swell hurling duel between Bert Larson and Lefty Thomas and gave Omaha the long end of one of the best little ball games ever seen at the Rourke lot. Two runners were hammered across in the eighth and the Rourkes copped, 3 to 2. To say that the fray yesterday was a areat ball game is puttin git mildly. It was greater. Larson and Thomas both heaved nice ball, but it was the fielding which attracted first attention. Both the Boosters and the Rourkes were on the toes from start to finish and the fans were sitting on the third rail every min-Even though Larson and Thomas were performing quite niftily the athletes of both forces bumped the ball hard in the nose at all times. At least a dozen knocks that should have been safe ones wee cut down and converted into putouts by the demon fielders.

Whalen and Breen Shine. Red Whalen and Dick Breed of the Rourkes and Sawyer of the Boosters were the sensations in this line. Red and Breen both made stops that bordered on the miraculous, while Sawyer made two assists that were wonders. Breen and Whalen also staged two ripping double plays around second, and Sawyer carried the load in one made by the Boosters. Omaha made the first run of the matinee when Krug, second up in the second frame, poled a triple to center. Thomason walked and when Sawyer made a one-handed stop of Schliebner's drive to catch Tommy at second Manager Marty

Bill Hunter opened the frame with a double and Tex Jones boosted a slant over the right field wall for a circuit ticket, counting Hunter ahead of him. Bills slammed a drive to short that looked safe, but Whalen made a great running stop and pegged JJue out. Then Earl Smith made a diving shoestring catch in left of Sawyer's clout and the heart was taken out of the Boosters.

One run behind the home artillery unlimbered in the eighth and two runs were marked. Whalen opened with a triple to right, Kafora was called upon to pinch for Larson, but fell down on the job. But Earl Smith was on the job and he cracked respect for George (Shanty) Falconer, a double that went by Tannehill like the "ho died Friday after a short battle Twentieth Century Limited. Whalen scampered home with codles of time to spare. Smith darted to third on Breen's infield out.
