GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Continued Reports of Crop Damages in Southwest Send Wheat Price Up Half to a Cent.

CORN AND OATS ARE UP A HALF

OMAHA, May 17, 1915.

Wheat lower and oats advance ½@1c higher. Wheat advances ½@1c higher. Continued crop damage reports from all over the southwest sends wheat higher. Cash corn sold ½@1c higher. Seventy-one cars were reported in and there was a good demand for this cereal.
Oats were quoted unchanged to ½c higher.
The interior is releasing its grip on the surplus in the country elevators as well as on the farms, and the best judges of conditions in the wheat market advance the opinion that receipts at primary markets will not only continue liberal, but that they are likely to increase unless they are restricted by unfavorable crop reports.
The average wheat man has made up his mind that the many unfavorable crop reports, especially those of a sensational character, must not be swallowed without some allowances.
Clearances were: Wheat and flour, equal to 1,133,000 bushels; corn, 131,000 bushels; oats, 50,000 bushels.
Liverpool—Spot: Wheat, unchanged; corn, ½d lower.
Primary wheat receipts were 1,071,000 bushels and shipments 529,000 bushels, against receipts of 630,000 bushels and shipments of 928,000 bushels last year.
Primary corn receipts were 684,000 bushels and shipments 482,000 bushels, against receipts of 414,000 bushels and shipments of 405,000 bushels last year.
Primary oats receipts were 580,000 bushels and shipments 1,047,000 bushels, against receipts of 738,000 bushels and shipments of 718,000 bushels last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Crop damages that may amount to 100,000,000 bushels resulted today in a swift advance of the price of wheat. Although somewhat unsettled at the close, the market finished ¼c to ⅝c above Saturday night's level. Other staples, too, showed gains—corn ⅜c to ½c; oats, ¼@¾c to ⅛c, and provisions, 5c to 15c.
Reports of insect injury to growing wheat, especially in Missouri, were said to be the worst for many years. Advices from Kansas, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio all indicated that the harvest prospect of 1915 had been seriously lowered and there was much talk that the total harm might be represented by a cut of fully 100,000,000 bushels from the yield suggested by the government figures of a month ago. Jumps in value, which began almost as soon as the session was fairly under way, showed the greatest vigor in the last three-quarters of the final hour.
Big export clearances and a decided falling off in the domestic visible supply total tended to add to bullish sentiment regarding wheat. In consequence some of the largest houses in the trade were active buyers at around the topmost prices, chiefly the July option.
Chicago handlers sold a little cash wheat for export by way of Montreal. Corn turned upgrade when the fact became evident that a bulge was in order for wheat. Previously the bears had the advantage, owing to the favorable weather both in the United States and in Argentina. Afterward some attention was given to predictions of frost in the domestic belt. Oats merely reflected the strength of other cereals. Shorts covered.
Provisions hardened with grain. A break in the price of hogs was not a sufficient offset.
Futures ranged as follows:

CATTLE—The week opens out with a very respectable run of about 5,500 head, or several hundred more than were here last Monday. As a rule, the quality of the offerings was very good, this being particularly noticeable in the case of the weighty cattle. Early reports from outside markets were conflicting, but in addition to the usual good demand from local packers there was active competition from shippers and desirable light and handy weight beeves found a ready sale at steady to strong prices. On the heavy cattle, trade was slow from the start, although bids were generally about on a par with the close of last week. The light cattle all sold in good season, but it was a slow, although nearly a steady, deal all morning on the medium and heavy grades.
No great change was noticeable in the market for cows and heifers as compared with the close of last week. Supplies were of very moderate proportions and there was a good general demand for anything at all useful in this line. Heifers and light cows, as usual, were favored by all classes of buyers, while rough and heavy kinds were a trifle slow. Veal calves were in active demand and stronger, the best vealers selling as high as $10.75. Outlots for bulls, stags, etc., was fully as good as last week and for the most part prices were in about the same notches.
Trade in stock cattle and feed steers was very slow and the trend of values lower on practically all grades. Supplies were not very extensive, but the country demand was slack on account of the press of farm work and undertone to the trade weak throughout.
Quotations on cattle: Good to choice yearlings, $8.25@8.75; good to choice corn-fed beeves, $8.15@8.60; fair to good corn-fed beeves, $7.85@8.15; common to fair corn-fed beeves, $7.25@7.85; good to choice heifers, $7.00@8.00; good to choice cows, $6.80@7.60; fair to good cows, $6.75@6.80; common to fair cows, $3.75@5.75; good to choice stockers and feeders, $7.50@7.75; fair to good stockers and feeders, $7.00@7.50; common to fair stockers and feeders, $6.00@7.00; stock heifers, $5.75@7.25; stock cows, $5.50@7.00; stock calves, $6.50@8.50; veal calves, $8.00@10.75; fat bulls, stags, etc., $5.25@7.00; stock bulls, $5.00@7.00.

HOGS—Supplies were very liberal for a Monday, being larger than for most days last week. About 160 cars, or 11,000 head, were received, as against 7,558 head last week, and 5,694 a year ago. Shippers made few bids early at sharply lower prices, but got nothing at that time, and later refused to get in, so that the trade was entirely in the packers' hands. Killers took advantage of the heavy local run and bearish advices from Chicago to force prices downward, and after a little preliminary dickering the offerings started to move at about 10c lower figures. Buyers, having no shipping competition, were able to use a good deal of discrimination in making their selections, and as a result heavies, which were slow all last week, were in very poor request, and were the last to sell, the preference being given to the light and butcher offerings, which usually go to shippers.
Long before the close things began to weaken off and bids soon dropped to a 15c lower level. There was only one buyer left at this time, and as he didn't seem to care whether he bought anything, and in some cases refused to even make bids, most of the sellers left the yards, leaving twenty-five or thirty loads still unsold.
Bulk of the sales was made at $7.35@7.40, and the top landed at $7.45. The spread was the narrowest for some time owing to the absence of any shipping demand.

SHEEP—Receipts were larger than for any day last week, and in number of cars were the largest for a Monday since four weeks ago. As a result of the broadened supply, buyers were inclined to go about trading in a slower manner, and from the first indicated that they would try to make their purchases lower. The trade moved along in very leisurely fashion, but finally opened out at about steady prices, one of the first sales made being that of some wooled lambs at $11.40. Two loads reached this figure and one bunch was cashed at $11.35.
The market remained dull throughout and noon found several loads still unsold. Prices remained steady, however, and some traders were inclined to think that part of the shorn lambs at least were stronger. Several bunches of clippers reached $9.65 and some landed at $9.80.
Outside a few shorn ewes that brought $7.25 there was nothing here in the aged sheep line. Total receipts for the day were estimated at twenty cars, or 5,000 head, being slightly smaller than the number of head reported last week, but larger than two weeks ago and a year ago.
Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, light, $10.75@11.60; lambs, heavy, $10.25@10.75; lambs, shorn, $9.00@10.00; yearlings, light, $8.50@9.75; yearlings, heavy, $9.00@9.25; wethers, good to choice, $8.25@8.75; wethers, fair to good, $8.25@8.50; ewes, good to choice, $8.25@9.10; ewes, fair to good, $7.75@8.25.
