CONSOLIDATION TO BE PUSHED ANYWAY

Gould Diets of Greater Omaha Committee Says the Injunction Suit Was Expected.

PEOPLE WANT ANNEXATION

The Greater Omaha committee is not going to quit because of the suit filed Wednesday to hold off the election June 1 on the consolidation of Omaha, South Omaha and Dundee. Speakers have been named to start the campaign Saturday night and every effort will be made to get out a large vote.

"You may say for the Greater Omaha committee of Omaha, Dundee and South Omaha that this injunction trick will have no effect whatever on the committee's plans for getting out the full vote for consolidation Tuesday, June 1," said Gould Dietz, chairman of this committee.

"This injunction play has been anticipated all along. It surprises no one. It is a part of the petty personal opposition to be found in a few well known quarters.

Murphy and Selby Sponsors. "Henry Murphy and W. L. Selby are the injunction sponsors. It is only fair for the voters of the three municipalities to know something of the motives actuating these gentlemen. And our committee will try from day to day to explain them.

"Both gentlemen act from purely selfish motives. Mr. Selby states in his petition that he is concerned as a taxpayer of Dundee; and Mr. Murphy professes to represent the taxpayers of South Omaha. Mr. Selby is the legal representative of certain interests in South Omaha that are opposed to annexation and he is acting entirely as their agent in this matter. Mr. Selby's career touching matters of assessment and taxation in South Omaha has been an active and notable one, and it is easy to understand, therefore, his activity now.

Murphy an Office Holder. "So far as Mr. Murphy is concerned, he is simply an officeholder fighting for his job on the one hand and a lawyer trying to serve his private clients on the other. He is city attorney of South Omaha, as well as attorney for certain street paving contractors who are opposed to annexation. Mr. Murphy does not represent South Omaha in this fight at all as any one can find for himself by talking with South Omaha people.

"As the campaign progresses it may be interesting to review the active part Mr. Selby has taken in South Omaha politics, especially in city council affairs in years gone by. This may serve to explain the more clearly his attempt in trying to defeat the will of the people on Tuesday, June 1."

Commissioners Are Whipped When Rine Opens Big Law Book City Commissioners Hummel and Withnell impinged themselves against the entire legal department of the city, but their line was thrown back and they were routed in disorder. At a meeting of the council these commissioners contended that an expense of $75 for a sidewalk at the engine house at Nineteenth and Harvey streets should be taken out of the intersection fund.

Backed by the corporation counsel, city solicitor and assistant city attorney City Attorney Rine opened a large law book and read therefrom words which caused the militant commissioners to hoist a white flag.

The money will be taken out of the miscellaneous fund and the walk will be laid.

Quiet Thief Again Robs Sleeping Girls Police have decided that an expert burglar is making a specialty of quietly visiting houses in the residence district where young women room and of robbing them while they sleep. Two young women lost valuable trunks that way Tuesday night, and three more had the same experience Wednesday. None knew of the burglar's visit until they awoke in the morning and found their rooms ransacked.

Miss Esther Rouse and Miss Fay Lowe, rooming at 207 Dodge street, discovered when they woke up that a burglar had raised a screen, opened a window, noiselessly closed the door between their bedroom and sitting room and had carried away $25 worth of jewelry and $2 in money.

When Mrs. Josie Jolis, landlady of the house, awoke she found that the burglar had reached right over her head and had stolen a purse that hung on the bedpost in the corner.

Goldberger, who is a meter inspector for the water board. He was fined $20 and costs after a trial on the charge of impersonating an officer and threatening the little girl's mother.
