Street Not Yet Opened. The women of the Indian hill district are becoming romewhat discouraged in the beginning. H. John sir ped out a their attempt to persuade the city council to open up Thirty-fourth street from U to T street. At the last meeting of the council the matter was brought up for discussion, but the city fathers reponded very closely to the description fused to do anything. It appears that two lots, owned by residents of the district, must be bought by the city before the street can be opened to traffic. The council, it appears, is willing to purchase the lots themselves, but refuse to pay for a house that stands on one of them. It is probable that something will be done at the next meeting of the council.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

Bishop of Lincoln Delivers Commencement Address at Hastings. An audience of patrons and friends of the Immaculate Conception academy. Hastings, comfortably filling the Kerr opera house, listened to a most enjoyable commencement program by the graduates and students of that school last Tuesday at $:30 o'clock. The fourteen graduates in white caps and gowns with a background of academy girls presented a beautiful picture when the curtain went up for the opening chorus from the "Rose

The salutatory by Miss Bonnie Hussey and the valedictory by Miss Bessie Chancy were well presented and showed careful thought. "A Perfect Day" given by a double quartet and a solo by Miss Mary May were two musical numbers which were well received. The speaker of the evening, Right Rev. J. Henry Tiben, bishop of Lincoln, was introduced by Mayer Madgett.

The mayor accorded the academy plished. He declared that their teaching was of a high standard mentally, morally and religiously.

The bishop opened with the declaration people. He advised them to blaze a new path for themselves, but admonished them not to forget the teachings of the past. He said they had been taught the fundamental principles of morality and spirituality and that it was now their duly to exemplify by their lives the education they had received. "The tendency of the age is towards ease and comfort," he declared. He held that education today tends too much toward accomplishment and too little toward the building of character. "The tendency of the day," asserted the dahop, "is to allow children to do entirely as they wish. It is dangerous to remove all restraint from children, for human life is too valuable to experiment with. They should be safeguarded with the experience of the past and the cultivation of education."

Academy diplomas were conferred upon Misses Bonnie Hussey, Nora Dwyer, Verna Dickerson, Rose Cabili, Agnes Frazier, Margaret Halloran, Marte Stack, Pern Hawes, Fances Theis, Sadie Ward. Bernice Hughes, Mary May and Jessie Schwingel. The following received teacher's certificates: Misses Bessie Chancy, Nora Dwyer, Verna Dickerson, Rose Cahill, Agues Frazier, Marie Stack, Fern Hawes, Frances Theis, Sadie Ward and Margaret Halloran. Entrance cards to the university were given to Misses Bessie Chancy, Nora-

Dwyer, Rose Cahill, Agnes Frazier, Margaret Halloran, Marie Stack, Pern Hawes, Frances Theis, Bonnie Hussey, Sadie Ward, Bernice Hughes, Mary May and Jessie Schwingel. Paimer method penmanship diplomas were given to Misses Gertrude Lerg, Ida Milgeri and Nora Quinn. The week preceding commencement was filled with activities. Class day was May M. The junter-senior reception and hanquet was at the Clarke hotel the next evening and the class play, "Everymaid," was presented in Kerr opera house Pri-

Saturday was Ivy day. The senior oration, planting of ivy and crowning of the May queen took place on the campus Sunday after solemn high mass. Rev. D.
