Melancholy Women.

Women should understand that melancholy, commonly called the "blues," is in nine times out of ten a pure symptom of some organic derangement which should have attention. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for such conditions, as proved by many testimonials which we are constantly publishing from women who have been restored to health by its use.—Advertisement.

JITNEY BOND TO BE FIXED AT $10,000

Occupation Tax is to be Placed at $60 a Car for the Four-Passenger Jitneys.

LIABILITY IS TO BE LIMITED

At a meeting of the committee of the whole the city council agreed that the proposed jitney regulation ordinance should contain a provision that each jitney should furnish the city liability insurance of a maximum of $10,000, with a limitation of $2,500 for any one death, the maximum to be increased at the rate of $1,000 per seat on cars having more than ten seats. It was explained that liability protection would operate in this way: Assuming that an accident caused four deaths, the liability would be $2,500 in each case; if there should be one death and several accidents, the liability would be $2,500 for the death, and accident liability to the extent of $7,500. A local bond company man informed the council that the proposed liability insurance would cost the jitney men $5 per month, assuming that a reasonable amount of the business could be secured. Wants Blanket Bond. Attorney Thurston urged that the council take cognizance of a jitney incorporation being formed and that a blanket bond be accepted for the jitneys operating in the name of this company, rather than requiring separate bonds for each car. The occupation tax feature was placed at $60 a year for cars carrying four or less passengers, with a proportionate increase for larger seating capacity. The ordinance will be brought up Tuesday morning for passage. The proposed inspection of cars by the superintendent of police has been eliminated. Requiring jitney drivers to follow definite and approved routes and maintain proper lights and signs are features which have been retained in the ordinance. John O. Yeiser of Dundee expressed disappointment over the jitney situation. When this new transportation idea was started here he would be able to ride from Dundee and back, but up to date he has not had a jitney ride, he declared.

Wife of Joliet Warden Burned to Death in Bed

JOLIET, Ill., June 21.—Mrs. Edmund M. Allen, the young wife of the warden of the state penitentiary here and former comic opera favorite, was found dead and burned today in her bed in the warden's suite in the penitentiary. A wound on the left temple and the rapidly with which the flames charred her body almost beyond recognition gave rise to the belief that she had been stunned by a blow on the head, and her night clothes soaked with alcohol and ignited. A bottle which had contained alcohol was found in the room, together with a heavy water bottle which might have been the instrument with which she was struck. An examination showed she had not been outraged. Mrs. Allen was formerly a prima donna of a company presenting "The Merry Widow." Her maiden name was Odette Malise Bordeaux, and her home Los Angeles, where an aunt and cousin still live. She was 24 years old. Joseph Campbell, a negro convict, who acted as the Allen's house servant and who lived in the warden's suite was placed in solitary confinement after a committee of prison officials had investigated the fire. He will be charged with murder, it was said.

Austrian Warships Resume Activity

VIENNA (Via Amsterdam and London), June 21.—An Austrian official statement concerning the bombardment last week by Austrian war vessels, of several points on the Adriatic coast of Italy, has been given out as follows: "Several of our cruisers and torpedo boat units on Thursday and Friday undertook an expedition along the Italian coast from the frontier of the empire to Fano. They jammed the telegraph stations at the mouth of the Tagnamento river, near Pesaro, and the railway bridges near Rimini, across the Metauro and Arolla rivers. All the units returned safely."

Turks Fight Fairly, Is Word from Front

LONDON, June 21.—A Reuter dispatch from its correspondent in the Dardanelles says: "The Turks are fighting most fairly. In one case a Turk, while under fire, dressed the wounds of one of our men. In another case a Turk left a water bottle with a wounded Australian soldier. "A British soldier, who had been lying wounded for many hours without food, fell from the British trenches, was given bread by a Turk. Prisoners who have escaped from the Turks all assert they were well treated."

Serbian Occupies An Albanian City

LONDON, June 21.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens says it is reported there that the Serbians have occupied Durazzo, Albania. Esad Pasha, provisional president of Albania and former commander of the Turkish forces at Scutari, is said to have fled to Italy. Italy has not formally declared war on Turkey, which may explain the reported flight of Esad Pasha to Italy.

PATRIOTIC MEETINGS FOR CHURCHES ON THE FOURTH

Special observance of July 4, which falls on Sunday this year, is being planned by Omaha ministers. They intend to hold patriotic religious services in the churches on Independence day for the purpose of boosting civic righteousness. At the Ministerial union meeting, Rev. T. M. RAIN GOOD FOR ONE TRADE

Shoe Men Report Their Business During Last Six Weeks Has Been Unusually Brisk.

ALL LINES HAVE GOOD TRADE

Omaha shoe dealers are mopping their brows and getting a breath of air now that the rainy weather has stopped for a moment and warm, dry sunshine has taken its place. The shoe men are catching the breath they did not have time to catch during all the half dozen weeks of rainy weather. For shoe men have been especially busy and have made what they call a rich harvest during that time. Just as sure as the old saying, "One man's loss is another's gain," is a true maxim, so sure is it that while some classes of business fall far behind during a rainy spell, the shoe business is one that profits during such a spell. It is a recognized fact that rainy weather sells shoes, and the rainy spell just experienced has been no exception. The shoe man explains it by the fact that wet weather draws a man's attention to the fact that his sole is thin or entirely worn out. All Business Good. Business in all retail lines has been exceptionally good, however, in Omaha during all the rainy spell, according to J. W. Metcalf, secretary of the Associated Retailers, who keeps a close tab on the pulse of retail activities. "Business in all lines in the department stores, I have reason to believe," said Metcalf, "shows an increase over the spring business of last year. A large store reports an increase in the spring business over last year in spite of the rain. "A few warm days now and the summer goods will go in good shape. The retailers have good stocks of summer goods. They have been conservative in buying, but they are well supplied. They look for an excellent business in the next thirty days."

Marks on Man's Body Point Toward Murder

Was the body of an unidentified negro man murdered at the place of a railroad tracks at Fourth and Poppleton avenue early yesterday morning, or was the unfortunate victim struck down by a switch engine? The police will try to solve the question today. The body of a negro man, garbed in laborer's attire, and about 35 years of age, was found early Sunday morning, badly mangled. At first it was supposed that he had been killed while trespassing upon railroad property, but investigation made by Coroner Crosby yesterday afternoon pointed strongly toward murder instead of accidental death. Wounds in the man's face and skull that appeared to have been made with a hatchet, and which would seem impossible to have resulted from the locomotive, were found, Coroner Crosby said. The head was several feet away from the track, severed, as though by guillotine. No mark of identification could be found upon the corpse, and no one in the neighborhood could be found to identify the man.

Feenan Jonathan Edwards Gus Lochner Active—P. J. Langdon R. N. Downey Thomas Lynch T. J. Fitzmorris J. J. Dunn R. COMES BACK FROM CENTRAL AMERICA

Eulalius Groh, Returned Missionary, Tells of Conditions in Honduras and Guatemala.

QUEER CUSTOMS OF COUNTRY

Eulalius N. Groh, returned missionary from Honduras and Guatemala, gave an address on Christian work in those countries in place of his usual sermon in St. Mark's Lutheran church last evening, and made a plea for more missionaries to go to those difficult fields. "Of the five republics of Central America, Honduras opens its doors the widest, but is the most difficult field," said Mr. Groh. "These five republics are Guatemala, Honduras, San Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. "In San Salvador there are numerous little congregations of believers who were established by workers from the American Bible society, but these congregations are mostly without pastors. "Traveling about the country is very difficult in Honduras, much more so than in Guatemala. In the latter country there are good roads. There is not even a railroad crossing the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific side. When we want to make a trip we go to the town hall and hire Indians to carry our baggage. This costs a trifling sum, and we can often see good gospel seed as we walk along with these hired baggage carriers. "Few Wagon Roads. "In Honduras there are hardly any wagon roads at all. The railroad mileage of the country is fifty-four miles, and a train runs on this road every other day. "The government of Honduras is not as stable as that of Guatemala. We had the latest revolution in Honduras only four years ago. In Guatemala, on the other hand, President Cabrera has ruled with an iron hand since 1898. He is the Porfirio Diaz of Guatemala. Many suspected of plotting against him have been imprisoned and executed and others have been exiled and had their property confiscated. One plot nearly succeeded. A large quantity of explosive was discharged under a street where it was known he would pass. The horses and coachman were blown to pieces, but the president escaped unscathed. "His firm rule is a good thing for the country and for the evangelization of the people. During a recent smallpox epidemic he called to his palace a man with whom I was working, Dr. C. F. Secord, known to many in Omaha, and had him vaccinated thousands of Indians. "Silver has disappeared entirely from circulation in Guatemala. There is only paper and nickel money. As a consequence its value has depreciated until now $1 in Guatemala money is worth 5 cents in United States money. There are eight Guatemala reals in a Guatemala dollar. Each real, therefore, is worth about two-thirds of a cent in our money. Their smallest coin is the quetzil, which, at the present state of depreciation, would be worth just one-sixth of a cent in United States money. "Place on Walk Indicates Rank. "Down there the people do not 'keep to the right,' but take their places on the sidewalk according to rank. You must decide instantly as each pedestrian approaches whether he is above or below you in social rank. If above, you give him the inside of the sidewalk. A woman cannot invariably take the inside, unless she be a barefooted woman or one carrying a burden, and the poor Indian is pushed out into the street. "In Honduras silver still circulates, and a Honduras dollar is worth about 40 cents gold. They always speak of United States money as gold. "The Indians in these countries are not like those in North America. They are really the support of the country and characteristically hard workers. You will often see them walking along the trails bearing heavy burdens on their backs and wearing hats as they walk. "One cannot see these people without feeling a great desire to carry the gospel to them. And they, in their simple way, are very hospitable. If we come to a remote mountain village at night and knock on the door of a house or hut and ask for lodging they at once receive us cheerfully and trustfully. Of course, we carry our own hammocks in which to sleep, for generally we wouldn't care to sleep in the beds that they might offer us. "There are about twenty different dialects spoken among the Indians, and the only part of the Bible to which they have access is the gospel of St. Mark, which has been translated into one of these dialects."

Advertisement for SANATOGEN featuring a woman and child, with text: "What can I do to make her stronger?" Your physician has told you that it is simply one of the thousands of cases of "debility." You have tried certain "tonics" without avail, but you have not yet tried Sanatogen, the true food- tonic. And Sanatogen may well prove her salvation, for remember that thousands of women who were weak and weary have derived new strength, a new joy of living, from its use. Olive Schreiner, the famous writer, gratefully exclaims: "Nothing that I have taken in years has given me such a sense of vigor as Sanatogen." And Amelia E. Barr, the beloved novelist, refers to the "marvelous help" derived from using Sanatogen. This help of Sanatogen is not the false help of a mere stimulant but the constructive aid of a true food tonic which gives the exhausted system the natural elements for building up the blood, strengthening the nerves, improving digestion. How well it performs this function, physicians in every land—21,000 of them have endorsed Sanatogen in writing—know from actual observation. Their attitude is well summed up by the famous Berlin specialist, Professor Eulenberg, who writes: "I am using Sanatogen more and more in cases of nervous troubles which have their origin in poverty of the blood and poor nutrition, and never had occasion to regret its use." And we feel sure you will never regret using Sanatogen. Sanatogen is sold by good druggists everywhere in 5c tins, and $1.00 up. Grand Prize, International Congress of Medicine, London, 1913.
