

THAW NEVER INSANE SAYS DR. BANCROFT

New Hampshire Alienist Says Killing of White Was Due to Anger and Jealousy.

INSANE NEVER HAVE REGRETS

NEW YORK, June 29.—Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, head of the New Hampshire State Hospital for the Insane, and a member of the Federal commission which examined Harry K. Thaw during his sojourn in New Hampshire, testified today that in his opinion Thaw was sane, but always had been sane.

Thaw's act in killing Stanford White, Dr. Bancroft said, was not the product of a systematized delusion such as characterized the true paranoiac.

"The killing of Stanford White," he said, "appeared to us a passionate, impulsive act, growing out of a condition of mind due chiefly to anger and jealousy, which was the final culmination of a series of circumstances that had been bearing down on him a long time. It did not seem a type of paranoia, but was due to jealousy of Mr. White, not to a diseased condition of mind."

"Thaw knew that White had been antagonistic to him in an unpleasant way. He wanted to get even with White. His act was the product of a sane mind which, after he had indulged in champagne, suddenly lost its control."

"Then you believe Thaw was never insane," asked Deputy Attorney General Becker.

"I do," was the reply. "Another reason for my belief is that Thaw expressed regret for his deed. A paranoiac never expresses regret. He continues to try to justify the deed, and no amount of persuasion can convince him that he has done wrong."

Tests Last Three Weeks. Dr. Bancroft yesterday afternoon said that he had examined Thaw both mentally and physically over a period of three weeks and had tested his mental condition "for reaction from every possible angle."

He said that the members of the commission had gone over in detail with Thaw all the circumstances of his life and had omitted no topic which might bring to the surface the delusion from which the state alleges Thaw was suffering at the time he shot Stanford White and still is—that he is "divinely appointed the protector of American girlhood."

"We found him perfectly sane and rational," said Dr. Bancroft. He said on cross-examination that a true paranoiac such as the state charges Thaw to be, might for a time submerge his delusion so as to defy the tests of the most expert alienists, but did not think that this could be done for more than two or three months. It was found to appear after a while.

The plan to examine President-elect Charles W. Eliot of Harvard to find out why Thaw was expelled from that institution in 1902 has been abandoned. It was announced by the state today, as Dr. Eliot had written that he could not remember any of the circumstances in the case.

question from the standpoint of the man who earns his living.

Gospel of Force. "These men who spend their time preaching the gospel of force have tried to lash this country into an uproar for war; and they resent, as if unprovoked, any attempt to overcome the influence they exert."

The farmer lives his day near to nature and in the presence of those mighty forces which daily speak to him of his creator—he is unconcerned by that fierce struggle for wealth which makes men forget God and the duty which they owe to their fellowmen.

The Farmer's Interest. Speaking in this splendid farming section of this great agricultural state, and speaking at this time, I have little choice as to the subject to be discussed.

Meaning of War to U. S. I cannot better present the line of thought which I have in mind than by asking you to consider with me three questions:

First—What would war mean to the United States?

Second—What is there in the present situation which would justify us in entering into this European conflict and what methods should be employed for the adjustment of such differences as arise between us and the belligerent nations?

Third—How can the sentiment of the people be brought to the attention of the president in order that the sentiment may counteract the influence of that portion of the press which is insisting upon a course, which may, if adopted, lead us into war?

To understand what this war really is, take the number of men killed in the war—more than 1,000,000 men—and compare this enormous loss of life with the population of one of the larger states; this will give you some idea of the sacrifice in life.

any of these disasters—yes, the loss of life in all of these conflicts has been insignificant as compared with the loss of life which can reasonably be expected to come to this country if we take part in the war.
