SAM REYNOLDS AND

Field Club and Country Club Cracks Battle for the State Golf Championship-

HOARE WINS THE PRO MATCH

Sam Reynolds, present holder of the championship, and J. W. Redick will battle today in the final round for the golf championship of the state of Nebraska. Reynolds won his way into the final round by defeating Ray Low yesterday afternoon and Redick defeated J. B. Rahm.

The match today brings forth reminiscences of the state tourney in 1912. Played at the Country club that year it was Reynolds and Redick who met for the championship and Sam won, 8 up and 7. Redick promises that the Field club crack will not have so easy a time this year. Reynolds won his semi-final match quite easily, ow couldnL't put up his usual match against the crack and he lost 5 and 2. On the other hand the veteran Rahm save Redick a hard run,, but couldn't stand the pace and lost by cropping the last few holes.

Field Club Lads Meet. Two Field club lads will meet in the finals of the second flight. They are Guy Beckett and Foye Porter. Porter beat C. Marley in the semi-finals and Beckett W.

Miller Park has one man left in the tourney. He is J. K. O'Neil and he will meet D. Sibbernsen of the Country club in the finals of th third flight today. M. H. La Douceur and E. P. Murphy worked their way into the finals of the consolation event by winning their matches yesterday.

Harold Johnson carried off the swatfest staged yesterday afternoon for golfers who had been put out of the aourney And incidentally in qualifying Johnson turned in the lowest score yet registered in the tourney. He made a 73, C. B. Moser and A. P. Murtagh tied in the match play against bogey, another special event yesterday, each playing even

Hoare Wins Pro Match. An exciting match was staged by the five professionals attending the tourney yesterday. A neat subscription purse was up for the event and Willie Hoare, the Country club pro., lugged home the change. But Hoare was given a run for his money by young Leslie Davies, pro. at the Lincoln Country club and last year assistant to Charley Johnston at Happy Hollow, oHare turned in a 79 to cop the Hoare and Davies were playing ever until the seventeenth, when Davies pulled his second drive and then missed a threefoot putt, taking a six on the hole, while Hoare took a five. Then Davies sliced his drive to eighteen and took an additional stroke to hole. The Lincoln lad turned in

Bill Clark and Charley Johnson tied with 83. Clark led the field on the first nine holes, leading 1 up, but Hoare and Davies passed him on the inside. Hoare's score was as follows:

Other scores were:

Davies—Out, 43; in .38; total, 81.

Clark—Out, 41; in, 42; total, 83.

Johnston—Out, 43; in, 40; total, 83.
